PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: Senator Beutler?

SENATOR CROSBY: ...mic I guess, but, first, this would undoubtedly...whatever money is available would cover something like this? You haven't looked...you haven't changed the fiscal note or tried to think about the money?

SENATOR BEUTLER: No, I haven't done any sort of analysis of the money...

SENATOR CROSBY: Okay.

SENATOR BEUTLER: ...be...that would be involved, but I would consider it...

SENATOR CROSBY: Because we're going to get all this federal money, it ought to cover. I'm for your amendment. I think it's...

SENATOR BEUTLER: Okay.

SENATOR CROSBY: ...a good one. But the second thing then, it would, like, be in rules and regulations eventually, I suppose, so the point...but I think...I would hope someone would follow-up when this is set up to this point. Don't you think this would be a good idea that...it's all right with me when you...you dial a hotline and they say, if you want this push one, if you want this punch two. I do that ordering medications very quickly at the...

SENATOR BEUTLER: Yes.

SENATOR CROSBY: So...but eventually, without too many of those, some, you will get a person, don't you think?

SENATOR BEUTLER: Yes, I...I...

SENATOR CROSBY: But you kind of have to use...leave it up to the people that are going to work it to make...be sure it will work and they will have to do a few of those little punches ahead of time. (Laugh)
