exasperating that can be. And those who, as members of the public, have dealt with bureaucrats and their underlings, understand how difficult it can be to get through the obstacles they will place in your path if, for some reason, they don't like you or don't want to be responsive. So, understanding and knowing all of those things, this Legislature should not, with malice or forethought, with premeditation, put in place a...

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...system that is so fraught with problems, unanswered questions, confusion and even chaos, when the ones to be victimized are those we say we're interested in helping. I'm sure that if a person went to a physician and had an ear hanging off his head because he got it caught in some kind of machine, the physician looked over the situation and said, well, I can help you either by attaching that ear to your head or I can cut that ear off and then cut the other one off so your head is now balanced, you wouldn't want him to cut either ear off. This that 637 would do is to harm, in a worse way, the women and children who are to benefit from these child support collections.

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: Thank you, Senator Chambers. Discussion on the bracket motion, Senator Price.

SENATOR PRICE: Mr. Lieutenant Governor, members of the body, I am still continuing to support the bracket motion. There's, as my colleague, Tom Baker, said, it's getting muddier and muddier, and I...I just wish somebody had the answer to give us some good firm direction, and I think this does need...need to be studied. So I yield the remainder of my time to Senator Chambers.

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you, Madam Price. Members of the Legislature, muddier and muddier, truer words were never spoken. Words equally true may have been spoken and will be spoken, but truer words will not be spoken. The further we proceed with this bill the less sure everybody seems to become. But I have not wavered in my certitude because I am certain that this scheme is not going to help women and children. Let me ask
