Transcriber's Office

report "the Supreme Court may take judicial notice", "may take judicial notice of such reports in undertaking the determinations required by Sections 29-2521", et cetera. Now, I want to ask...I want to inquire further as to what that means, because I'm not experienced enough in this area to know, but I want to be sure I know what I don't want it to mean. I want to be sure that that is not saying that the Supreme Court can take any conclusion of this report and assume, without evidence, that it is relevant evidence for admission in any particular sentencing event or procedure, and on that basis perhaps take off in a new legal direction that this Legislature had not intended to authorize. Let's say, for example, we don't know how the analysis will come out. But let's say, for example, that the determination you asked for eventually when you reconstruct the nature of the report, the determination you asked for is...would involve the question of whether the death penalty can ever be fairly administered? And what if this report should come to the conclusion that there is no way that the death penalty can ever be fairly levied on any person? That, you might assume, would be a rather radical conclusion. But the report can have any particular conclusion, especially right now, since we don't have anything in there...

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: One minute.

SENATOR BEUTLER: ...even describing what it is that they're going to be determining. But are we saying, with this paragraph, that should such a radical conclusion be the result of the report that the Supreme Court could take judicial notice of that conclusion and refuse to apply the death penalty to anybody? Those are, generally, my thoughts. Please, please respond with regard to the intent of this particular provision and what it would allow or would not allow with regard to the report being prepared.

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: Twenty seconds, Senator.

SENATOR BRASHEAR: Thank you, Mr. President. Senator Beutler, I don't have sufficient time to do so. I'll do it either with time yielded to me, or I have my light on.

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: Thank you, Senator Brashear. (Visitors
