SENATOR COORDSEN: Senator Chambers, if you would so desire, you have a little over four minutes, and getting less as you slowly approach the microphone.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you, Mr. President. Thank you, Madam Price. I'd mentioned about blessing my soul. There's a song that old Elvis sang, but I'm not going to sing it, bless my soul, what's wrong with me? I'm itching like a man on a fuzzy tree. Friends might think I'm wet is a bug? I'm in love, (laugh) I'm all shook up. Well, I'm really not in love, and I'm not shook up, but I decided I'd go ahead and finish it, so you know I more or less know what that song is. But I understand that there is going to be something offered on the bill after this one. So, in view of what is being worked out, time does have to be taken on this bill. And I'm willing to be tricked again. I keep getting drawn in, but I'll try again. I will listen to what the amendment coming down is designed to do. From the way it has been represented to me, it is going to be a realistic and substantive approach toward doing something about those juvenile facilities. What I would like...is Senator Wehrbein...I mean Wickersham where he can get to his mike? I want to ask him a question, if he will yield.

SENATOR COORDSEN: Would you repeat your question, please. Oh, Senator...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Yes, if...if he'll yield.

SENATOR COORDSEN: ...Senator Wickersham, please.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...if he will yield.

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: Always.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Okay. Senator Wickersham, we had discussed and you had mentioned on your mike the issue of where that boot camp is to be located.

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Would you be willing to reopen that issue and have some serious thought given to it, not just by members of
