an overpayment or...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Vrtiska, who runs this company?

SENATOR VRTISKA: Well, Senator Chambers, were you there?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: No, I didn't hear the testimony. I wasn't there when the claim was presented.

SENATOR VRTISKA: I wasn't there either, so I'm sort of like you are. I'm (inaudible)...I was gone at the particular time this claim came before the committee. I was there during the deliberations with Executive Committee, but...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Then...

SENATOR VRTISKA: ...I was not there at the time that this claim was presented.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Well, I can ask you a question which I know you can answer, because you've commented on it earlier. Who is being blamed? Who is the fall woman? Who is the culprit who made the blunder in this case? Who is being blamed for having made the mistake?

SENATOR VRTISKA: The...Mrs., I think her name is Mohanna, who does the books for that company.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And what is her relationship to the one who runs the company.

SENATOR VRTISKA: I think she's the wife.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: You think!

SENATOR VRTISKA: Well, I don't know. I would assume she is.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: You assume. Was there evidence that indicated she was the wife?

SENATOR VRTISKA: Not to me, but they have the same name.
