diplomatically suggested, that if this goes to court "ya'all" are going to pay more money than this. See, no matter how fast a horse can run, you got to look at the jockey's ability. If you sat me on top of Whirl Away, Man of War, Gallant Fox, Sea Biscuit, Citation, Senator Baker kind of looked at me under the bottom of his eyes, because he didn't know I knew the names of some horses that had won races by running faster than other horses. If the one sitting on that horse doesn't know how to make use of that horse's ability, the race is not going to be won. We all know we have an inept, incompetent jockey. And this jockey is...I don't know if...I see "Senator Marx", "Senator Gene Marx" is still back there. This jockey would probably put the horse on his back and try to run, as smart as he is. Not Senator Tyson, but he gave us that example. I would like to ask the Speaker, if he has an opinion on this? If he hasn't had time to check, then I will wait on the question.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: I'm still looking.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you. What we're trying to find out is if it's possible, not that you would agree to do it, but if it's possible for the Legislature to increase the size of a claim. I, frankly, don't know. It seems to me that we could, because it's being put in our lap. But, if it's determined that under the law, with the best minds that we have that are able to look at it now, that we cannot increase it, then I will drop this amendment. I'm still puzzling through the question in my mind of whether I will agree that we should pay these claims. That has nothing to do with saying that the families are not entitled to some kind of monetary compensation. It's just that in my mind I don't think the amount is sufficient. So, while the search is underway, I will turn on my light again so that if nobody else has gotten on board, then I will continue to speak. How much time do I have, by the way, Mr. President?

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: Three minutes and fifty seconds.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Oh, then I can continue. I thought this was five minutes, moving awfully slowly for me, but I had ten minutes. Why do I say that more should go to the family? Consider, without Senator Kristensen having gone into gory details that we can fill in with our imagination, what the child
