they don't have to register on the site. It would not be illegal for me to send out invitations to people. I could have a mailing, a company do that, and offer anybody five dollars or a dollar if they just register. We hope they attend, but even if they don't come at least send your registration in.

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: That registration would count toward making this an international or national or regional event, wouldn't it?

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: That's correct.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And we could have all those people come from across the river in Council Bluffs...

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...couldn't we?

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: That's correct.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Or just across the Kansas border.

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: That's correct.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And everybody who actually attends is from Nebraska.

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: And it would still be qualified.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And every one of those Nebraska attendees would qualify toward attributable income.

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: That's correct.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And if they went and spent their money at some of these joints around the place, those would count as multipliers...
