way they're flimflaming the Legislature here, they wouldn't hesitate to flimflam the people. They've got radio stations right now, because those who run the stations want to be a part of the in-crowd, who are saying just build it, giving this time free to this flimflam sham, this hoax. And then, after they get started they'll say we need a bond...we need a bond issue and they'll be general obligation bonds. As little as I know about bonds, Senator Byars, if you asked me to lend you $50 and you're all forlorn...

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...and tattered and torn and you say...I say, what are you going to give me to let me know that you're going to pay me, you say, well, I'll give you an IOU if you lend me a piece of paper and a pencil to write it with. I'm not going to lend you the money. So if we talk about a revenue bond and that facility, which is to generate the revenue, is not going to generate any, you're not going to sell the bonds. So it's pointless to even talk about revenue bonds in this bill. Flimflam is what it is.

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: Senator Chambers, you're recognized on your motion to reconsider.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: I shouldn't have asked Senator Landis that question because I'm still on the reconsideration motion. Senator Landis, I forgot where we were, so I won't ask you any on this particular point. I don't believe honesty is in evidence around here, I just don't believe it. When you have to be as convoluted, as abstruse and obtuse and all those others, then something is not right. And when they get around to all the rest of the state, the crumb snatchers, who are going to get 30 percent of nothing, they don't go through...to this board because there ain't going to be nothing there for them because there's not going to be any 7 percent for the city of Omaha. But they...they going to give my colleagues out in greater Nebraska, because they dumb, 30 percent of nothing to support this bill so Omaha can do a flimflam on the citizens of that city. I want the record clear and I'm going to make that record. It's my responsibility. And I don't believe anybody can stand on this floor, and they can deny it by stating I deny
