LB 382

involved here is the construction of a convention and meeting center, but that is absolutely false. So whoever wrote these findings misled the public and I don't want the findings to change. I want them to stay there because I've referred to this bill as a flimflam, a sham, a fast shuffle; and I intend to make the points that I think will further convince the public. I also will talk about that board consisting of five individuals and what a mess has been made of that by the geniuses who put together this proposal. And I won't need to ask questions on that. I can do that on my own. But on some of these policy issues such as why general obligation bonds are mandated, that's a policy decision that was made by the Revenue Committee. I can ask Senator Landis this question, if he will answer. It doesn't have to do with the bill but so that I'll know who's who. Senator Landis, who is the Vice Chair of the Revenue Committee, because I really don't know?

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: Senator Landis.

SENATOR LANDIS: Senator Coordsen is the Vice Chair.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you. And he has taken a powder, too. That is...no, he hasn't. His powder is dry and he's ready to blast away. On my next time to speak, there's a question that I would like to ask of Senator Coordsen. How much time do I have on this one, Mr. Speaker, Mr. President?

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: One minute, twenty seconds.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Okay, that's not enough time to ask this question because I don't want you cut off in the middle of it. But one of the things I'm looking at in this statement of findings is the bad grammatical construction found in line 18 on page 1. It says, "For the state to receive..." terrible, terrible. They should put, "In order that the state may receive," in order that the state may receive,...

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...not "For the state to receive". You get red marks on your paper in an English class for starting a sentence in that fashion. But I guess our legislators would say
