SENATOR CROSBY: A special.

SENATOR JANSSEN: A special permit at each function that they have.

SENATOR CROSBY: How many...do they have that many that they just can't stand to do that or what?

SENATOR JANSSEN: They can have...I think it's up to six a year, something like that, so...

SENATOR CROSBY: So they would get one for all six, or would be...

SENATOR JANSSEN: Well, they would get one for...

SENATOR CROSBY: ...I don't under...

SENATOR JANSSEN: ...for the year.

SENATOR CROSBY: For one year?

SENATOR JANSSEN: For one year, and those functions would have to be sanctioned by the university.

SENATOR CROSBY: So the University of Nebraska could do that too?

SENATOR JANSSEN: No, it is only for nonpublic schools, not the University of Nebraska or any state schools.

SENATOR CROSBY: Okay. I still don't like it.

SENATOR JANSSEN: It's only for private, private college.

SENATOR CROSBY: I think, see, I'll tell you why I asked (laugh) my question. We talk about student consumption of liquor on campus and what do we do? We give the administration the ability to have the parties, and I haven't got anything against those parties, but I think they should have to take one into individual consideration. I don't think Creighton or any of the
