an opportunity, if you're somewhat antialcohol, to help erode that defense. So I had questions about the retail industry even wanting this changed, but the key component of the service economy today in the state of Nebraska and as well as the nation as a whole is rapidity of service. They're going to have faith in the training of their personnel, of those who sell alcohol in order...and they're going to have faith in that training in order to expedite the sale while ensuring that this person is of age. Every person carded should sign this book, that's what we're going to be maintaining if this isn't adopted. You know that's not the state of the reality today. You know it, and this just makes it right there, a "shall" to a "may". And this is a defense, again this is for the retailer. So that's the practical reason, Senator Chambers. I hope you listened to Senator Baker, who has experience in this industry. You know, I hope...I hope that answers your questions but, frankly, it's not unbelievable for me that an industry wants to serve their customers better. And if you have a long line of people and you make everybody wait, you know, it's their problem, folks. If they want to not participate in this absolute defense, it's the retailers' problem, and if they're willing to do that, that's fine with me. But I think that this is one of those laws that people may have philosophical ideas about but it's one of those laws that we need to change to make it fit reality. Thank you.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Schmitt.

SENATOR SCHMITT: Yes, Mr. Speaker, members. I have a question for Senator Hilgert, if he will yield.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Hilgert.

SENATOR HILGERT: You bet.

SENATOR SCHMITT: How we love and enjoy visiting with you today, Senator Hilgert.

SENATOR HILGERT: I always enjoy visiting with you, Senator Schmitt.

SENATOR SCHMITT: The question is, is there a penalty to the retailers now if they don't fill out the book?
