that the second amendment doubles it. Well, that may not fly the first time...

SENATOR CUDABACK: Time.

SENATOR CROSBY: ...I'll warn you. Thank you.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Senator Don Pederson.

SENATOR D. PEDERSON: President, members of the body, this is my third year in the Legislature, and I have an observation. I don't know of anybody that's serving in this Legislature that does it because of the money. So I think we need to eliminate that as a consideration. That's not the...that's not really the point. The point that is, that people are serving in this Legislature because they have a duty, they feel like they would like to try to do something for the benefit of the state. And in many cases, it has been detrimental to their personal lives, it has been a real sacrifice, and I think we need to bear that in mind. The economics of the thing for the last ten years is that the price...cost of living and all of those various factors have gone up, but the Legislature's salary has not gone up. But I think that I could support either one of the proposals, but I prefer the one for the commission, because the commission then takes it away from having to go back every few years and bring it up to the public that the...that there needs to be an adjustment in the salary. I think that we need to put it in a field where there is an opportunity for this to be evaluated by people who understand the services. And it's always hard, whether you're a lawyer, a doctor, or a legislator, to go talk to somebody about what pay you ought to receive. And it's just an awkward thing to do, and nobody really likes to do it. But when we serve as legislators, we serve as citizen legislators. We did not intend for this to be a full-time job. But I think that we do need to consider the fact that we have to strike a balance between making it possible for people to serve and not making it a career. I don't think we want people in the Legislature who are here because of the money they're going to receive. Senator Kristensen mentioned the article about the Pennsylvania Legislature. And I don't know enough about the Pennsylvania Legislature to know whether it's good or bad, but I doubt that we want the kind of situation where people in there,
