of expression. If you want adult Americans who understand the First Amendment, and fight for the First Amendment, and are able to protect the First Amendment, I think we need to do everything possible to encourage them to learn it early and to become practiced with respect to its parameters and its problems and...

SENATOR CUDABACK: Time.

SENATOR BEUTLER: ...its privileges and its dangers. Thank you.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Beutler. Before we go on to committee amendments, Mr. Speaker, you are recognized for some announcements.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Thank you, Mr. President, members of the Legislature. Senator Beutler, I am sorry to interrupt the flow of your bill, but I want to make sure that everyone understands today is the tenth day, that all six-parts have been delivered to the offices from Bill Drafters. So today at noon, or at adjournment, whenever we adjourn, that will be soon here, is your last chance to introduce any legislation this year. I just don't want anybody to get cut short. I'm not asking you to file. I would show discretion. I would show restraint, whatever you want to show, but know that all bills have been delivered. Also we have one housekeeping matter that is not on the agenda this morning. I would appreciate, it's going to take 30 votes to cancel a hearing notice. I would appreciate if people stick around and help me take care of that matter before we adjourn. Thank you, Mr. President.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Now committee amendments to LB 182, Senator Bohlke, Chairperson of the Education Committee, you are recognized to open on your committee amendment.

SENATOR BOHLKE: Thank you, Mr. President and members. Senator Beutler explained that the amendments became the bill and did a very good job of explaining what the bill now does. Let me give you a little history that in the Education Committee, as many of you experience in other committees, you hear a number of bills and they come back, and they come back, and they come back, and you try to work them out. We've heard this bill in Education
