temporary salaries and per diems.

SENATOR VRTISKA: Well, Senator Schimek, I understand those.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: So what I guess I'm getting to, I think what the rest of that whole fiscal note is about moving those funds around. When we're talking about actual expenditures, we're talking about a lot less money.

SENATOR VRTISKA: The...in other words, I understand those because you talked about those awhile ago. I guess what I'm trying to...you say these are just moving monies around.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Yes.

SENATOR VRTISKA: These are...

SENATOR SCHIMEK: This is all current budget authority.

SENATOR VRTISKA: These are not new funds? These are just...

SENATOR SCHIMEK: No.

SENATOR VRTISKA: ...monies that has been...

SENATOR SCHIMEK: No, no, no, no. No, they are already there. They're just trying to consolidate them and I think make them more understandable to all of us.

SENATOR VRTISKA: Well, (laugh)...

SENATOR SCHIMEK: And...and...

SENATOR VRTISKA: ...I wished I could agree with that, but I don't understand it that well...

SENATOR SCHIMEK: ...and...

SENATOR VRTISKA: ...and, you know, I'm...

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Well, I don't profess to be real well-versed in some of these funds either. My staff has just written for me
