clearly.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Yeah.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: But the manufacturer's warranty is what the manufacturer has to be responsible for. Now...

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: And the seller is the agent for that manufacturer. That's how you get the warranty to you, the consumer.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Exactly.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Okay.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: But the only one who is authorized under the warranty to provide those repairs, or whatever else, is one authorized by the manufacturer,...

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...not the seller.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Right.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: So, I believe that the seller is obliged to ensure that the warranty is going to be honored.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Right.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Let me put it like this. If I buy my car from Honda, Honda is not the manufacturer, but I can take it to that Honda dealer and they've got to deliver on the warranty.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Let's just say that they don't. What's your remedy?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Then I would go after the Honda dealer...

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: You...right,...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...because that's the one...privity of
