That's the gist of my questions, and I would be interested in knowing of the 1800 and some spills, what percentage, are they anhydrous ammonia, are they hydrochloric acid, is it diesel fuel? And then why is the state picking it up and not getting reimbursed, as it's turned out?

SENATOR SCHIMEK: I think, Senator Wehrbein, those are legitimate questions and I see Senator Preister has his light on, and I am sure that he is going to follow up on this conversation. I don't have personal knowledge of what those spills are, but I think it's a very good question. And I would just reiterate that I believe this is a stopgap measure. I believe that the committee would not be receptive to renewing this request for funds after the year that it sunsets. And I think the committee did discuss this. I think they did ask questions about it, and I do believe that we're absolutely right. Senator Beutler, we continue to go in and locally pick up the tab on a lot of things, and maybe in this case it's justified if anybody is going to pick up the tab, maybe, besides local business, maybe it is more of a state matter because we are talking state roads and federal roads here a great deal. And just because you happen to be...

SENATOR CROSBY: One minute.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: ...Seward County and you have an interstate running through your county doesn't mean that you should get left holding the bag either, necessarily. So, but I do agree that the businesses need to come to the table and they need to take some of the responsibility for this, too, and I can just tell you from everything that I know, I think that's what's intended to happen. Thank you.

SENATOR CROSBY: Thank you. Senator Preister, your light is next.

SENATOR PREISTER: Thank you, Honorable President. I appreciate the dialogue and the discussion that raises more of the interests, hopefully, and the educational process. That's what this is all about. This is not a subject, an issue that people spend much time on. We don't think about incidents until after we've had a catastrophe, and then we begin saying, what went
