

TRANSCRIPT PREPARED BY THE CLERK OF THE LEGISLATURE
Transcriber's Office

February 28, 2000 LR 291

a "scoundwelly wascal" of the worst and first order. He had in his chambers a female judg...lawyer representing her client, and because she was zealously representing the interest of her client, he said, now he's a Christian and a judge with these high-hat standards, so he could use the four letter word, but I cannot because I'm a heathen and my standards, therefore, are too high. He used the "f" word and he told her, "f" you, and he said it in front of another lawyer. And the other lawyer was a male, and that other lawyer said nothing, and this lawyer who had the "f-u" word hurled at her, which was a clear violation of the judges ethics, filed a complaint with those whose job it is to oversee the conduct of judges, and that group threw out the complaint and said, well, he did it in chamber so it doesn't matter. Well, they ignored their own ethical principles because a judge is a judge at all times, on the bench, off...

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...the bench, in private life, in his or her chamber. So it became necessary for a fire-breathing dragon to be invited into the fray, and the dragon entered the fray and, lo and behold, those whose job it was to oversee the judges and had felt this was not a serious enough matter decided under the scorching fire of the dragon that maybe a second look was warranted.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Chambers. Senator Chambers, your light is next and this is your third time.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you, Mr. President. So that is a matter which is pending to see whether or not a judge can get away with this type of vile language, this type of intimidating conduct, this attempt, which is engaged in by other judges, to place judges on a pedestal and lawyers on their knees. I want to pull the judges off those pedestals and I want to tell the lawyers stand up on your feet, and if you are too afraid or if you are too weak because you will be dismissed based on your being a female, then I will put on my armor and my shield, that's a mixed metaphor because I was to be the dragon, but maybe what I am really is a shape shifter, and I become whatever the situation calls for, and I will do battle with the judges. I will do battle with the Judicial Qualifications Commission. I
