advertisement rates. We cannot tell them what kind of program to transmit, as we shouldn't be able to as a governmental body, but it's strictly a one-way flow of public subsidy. When one person doesn't pay tax...taxes, some other person does. These people do not need that and I'm not in the giving mood where if I'm going to play a part in excusing somebody from paying taxes it will be these people. I'd much rather help "Poor Widder Brown". That used to be a radio program many, many years ago--"Poor Widder Brown". I can see her now. Even though you couldn't see her on the radio, your imagination filled in. I saw this poor emaciated lady with this bandanna tied around her neck and fixed in a knot around her chin and her little neck so thin, and she just quivers and shakes because the wind is cold and blowing through that good Republican coat, as Richard Nixon described it, and she's got no place to go, doesn't know where she's going to get a crust of bread. And maybe she's been hungry so long that if she got it, she wouldn't have the strength to chew it and if she could chew it, Senator Kremer, she couldn't generate enough saliva to swallow it without choking. And we're not going to help her. We're not going to give her a nickel relief. We're not going to give her that crust of bread. We're not going to give her a half a cup of water. But we're going to take this person who rides around in the luxury car, if he or...

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...chose to, who runs the station, fares sumptuously every day, and give them what we're not giving to others who really need it. I cannot support this bill. I think I will support Senator Wickersham's amendment because Senator Kristensen doesn't like it. (Laughter)

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: Thank you, Senator Chambers. Senator Raikes, on the Wickersham amendment.

SENATOR RAIKES: Thank you, Mr. Lieutenant Governor, members. Well, I am pleased to be able to speak on this because I think I can agree with all three of the previous speakers. I'll start out by saying I disagree with Senator Wickersham that this is a good...this amendment is a good one. I don't think it is. He did say, however, that he thought the bill was a bad one. I
