Beutler had opposed it prior to this. I pay attention to what happens around here. It's very quiet in here right now. Reminds me of a situation where this teacher came in to this classroom and all these little children were just making all kind of noise and she said, children, shh, be quiet, be still, be still. Then they were as quiet as everybody in here. Then one little boy said, okay, teach, let her drop, because she had said it's so quiet you can hear a pin drop and the kid took her at her word. Well, now it's as quiet as would be the case if you were to hear a pin drop. Because some other things were dropped this afternoon and some people can rationalize away what they did but there are others of you whom I know cannot, because I know what's in you if you don't know what's in you, and you know that I know. And you're going to give it to yourself better than I do, but I'm going to assist along the way by telling people how you voted--to give the big shots the break but not the others. And it is a serious issue, I know that. But when you look at which big shot is getting the break, why couldn't you give it to Senator Janssen? Because Senator Janssen's little circulars are not going to have anything to say about any of you by way of an editorial, to praise you or to take out after you if you haven't given them the vote they want. He's just one of those little old grocers that you think about when you get hungry. Senator Baker is in that category too. But when it comes to the television people, they have got to be served. And we know why. You couldn't get this kind of a refund for any other group and there is Senator "Smitty" Smith down there. I thought he was conservative, but he's got a television station out there in his area, I guess. He hasn't got an opponent, as far as I know. I know Senator Hilgert doesn't have, but I know Senator Quandahl does though and a guy running against him is going to spend over the limit, or he is, or something like that. I read the paper. Why am I doing this? Is this mean? No. You all are grown. You cast the vote. I'm just characterizing it. I didn't make you vote a certain way; "General" Radcliffe did. (Laugh) Go cry on his shoulder, not mine. And this will really be the only time I'm going to speak on the bill again at this point, but I do want a roll call vote and I want us to be on the record and I want us to say with those strong unwavering votes, yes, I want to give it to "Mr. Moneybags"; no, to the widders and orphans.
