ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion #00025

DATE: May 10, 2000
SUBJECT: LB 1029; Pre-emption by OSHA Standards
REQUESTED BY: Senator Jim Jensen
Nebraska State Legislature
WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
Lynn A. Melson, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested an opinion from this office regarding LB 1029 and the possible pre-emption of the bill's provisions by the Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSH Act or Act) and standard promulgated thereunder. LB 1029 is a bill which would require the Department of Health and Human Services Regulation and Licensure to appoint an advisory committee for health worker safety, to adopt regulations concerning "the use of work practices and technologies that minimize the risk of needle-stick injury to health care workers," and to maintain a list of medical devices that comply with the requirements of the regulations. The bill would also require certain licensed institutions and facilities to adopt work practices and technologies in compliance with the regulations, to develop a written exposure control plan and to maintain a "needle-stick injury log." You note that state laws which regulate occupational safety and health may be pre-empted to the extent a federal standard has been promulgated and you ask whether the requirements of LB 1029 would be pre-empted by OSHA standards. Our response to your request is set forth below.

The stated purpose of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 is to assure, so far as possible, every worker safe and healthful working conditions. 29 U.S.C. § 651 et seq. The Secretary of Labor is authorized to promulgate mandatory occupational safety and health standards. 29 U.S.C. § 655. The Secretary did, in fact, promulgate a rule on occupational exposure to bloodborne pathogens in 1991. 29 C.F.R. § 1910.1030. The rule is designed to protect health care workers from viruses, including those causing Hepatitis B and AIDS, that can be transmitted in the blood of patients.

The OSH Act specifically addresses state jurisdiction over occupational safety or health issues. 29 U.S.C. § 667 provides that (a) "[N]othing . . . shall prevent any State agency or court from asserting jurisdiction under State law over any occupational safety or health issue with respect to which no standard is in effect under section 655 of this title" and (b) a "State which, at any time, desires to assume responsibility for development enforcement therein of occupational safety and health standards relating to any occupational safety or health issue with respect to which a Federal standard has been promulgated . . . shall submit a State plan for the development of such standards and their enforcement." The Secretary must formally approve any State plan which is submitted. While a number of states regulate workplace safety under plans approved by the Secretary of Labor, to our knowledge, no Nebraska plans have been submitted or approved as provided for in 29 U.S.C. § 667.

The pre-emptive effect of the OSH Act, and the regulations promulgated thereunder, has been considered in numerous cases involving a variety of state and local statutes, regulations, or ordinances. In the 1992 Gade decision, the United States Supreme Court addressed federal pre-emption of state law pursuant to the OSH Act and it is this opinion which answers your questions most fully. Gade v. National Solid Waste Management Ass'n, 112 S. Ct. 2374 (1992). In Gade, a trade association brought a declaratory judgment action to enjoin a state agency from enforcing the Illinois licensing acts concerning the training of workers who handle hazardous wastes. The Court found that federal standards had been promulgated with regard to the health and safety protection of employees engaged in hazardous waste operations and that the Illinois licensing acts were, thus, pre-empted by the OSH Act to the extent they established occupational safety and health standards for training those who work with hazardous waste. The Court found that the Act "as a whole evidences Congress' intent to avoid subjecting workers and employers to duplicative regulation; a State may develop an occupational safety and health program tailored to its own needs, but only if it is willing completely to displace the applicable federal regulations." Id. at 2384. Further, state laws regulating the same issue as federal laws are not permitted "even if they merely supplement the federal standard." Id. at 2384. As the Court further explained, even nonconflicting state laws are pre-empted if a federal standard is in place because "[T]o allow a State selectively to 'supplement' certain federal regulations with ostensibly nonconflicting standards would be inconsistent with this federal scheme of establishing uniform federal standards, on the one hand, and encouraging States to assume full responsibility for development and enforcement of their own OSH programs, on the other." Id. at 2385. "The OHS Act does not foreclose a State from enacting its own laws to advance the goal of worker safety, but it does restrict the ways in which it can do so. If a State wishes to regulate an issue of worker safety for which a federal standard is in effect, its only option is to obtain the prior approval of the Secretary of Labor, as described in section 18 of the Act." Id. at 2386.

The OSH Act defines an "occupational safety and health standard" as a "standard which requires conditions, or the adoption or use of one or more practices, means, methods, operations, or processes, reasonably necessary or appropriate to provide safe or healthful employment and places of employment." 29 U.S.C. § 652 (8). The federal rule on exposure to bloodborne pathogens includes engineering controls, work practice controls, requirements for personal protective equipment, requirements for housekeeping, reporting requirements, and provisions for medical care. The work practice controls include standards of care in handling contaminated sharp instruments, such as needles, and the requirements for housekeeping include the disposal of contaminated waste. 29 C.F.R. § 1910.1030.

To the extent LB 1029 requires the Department of Health and Human Services Regulation and Licensure to adopt rules and regulations requiring the use of work practices and technologies to minimize the risk of needle-stick injury to health care workers, including regulations as to training, use of technology, use of work practices and recording of information concerning exposure to needle-stick injuries, the regulations to be promulgated appear to cover the same subject matter as the federal standard which is in effect. In our view, to the extent that the state regulations cover the same subject matter, the regulations to be promulgated by the state agency would be pre-empted by existing federal standards and would, therefore, be found unenforceable. This would be true even if the State regulations were more stringent than the federal standards or intended to supplement the federal standards.

Sincerely,
DON STENBERG
Attorney General

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of LB 1432 - "Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Act"

REQUESTED BY: John A. Hilgert, Nebraska State Senator

William R. Barger, Assistant Attorney General

We have received your request for an opinion on several questions. Your questions center on the constitutionality of LB 1432, termed the "Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Act" (hereinafter "the Act"). As of April 11, 2000, an interim study of LB 1432's impact is being conducted, pursuant to LR 498. Your six questions focus on whether LB 1432's requirements upon the parties holding railroad lands are constitutional. You ask whether the requirements of the Act constitute a taking of private property, impair the obligation of contracts, or are inconsistent with Nebraska's constitutional equal protection requirements and special legislation requirements. Lastly, you inquire whether LB 1432 imposes burdens upon interstate commerce or otherwise conflicts with the Constitution of the State of Nebraska. We will examine each of these contentions in order.

As background, LB 1432 intends to maintain reasonable access to rail service for continued agricultural prosperity, hence it protects agribusiness leaseholders' investments in improvements adjacent to railroad tracks by requiring a lease dispute resolution system. LB 1432 § 2. An "agricultural tenant" is any grain warehouse, chemical distributor, or other agricultural input provider with improvements on railroad land. LB 1432 § 3. Railroad land means land owned by a railroad upon which a leasing tenant occupies improvements. LB 1432 § 3(4). The Act requires the parties with interests in railroad land to negotiate controversies on lease terms, to provide notice of lease changes, to submit to the Department of Agriculture's administrative review any unresolved controversy, and to split the costs of such administrative resolution. LB 1432 § 4. Additionally, railroad land holders must give the agricultural tenant a right of first refusal upon a new lease, and the holder must negotiate with the tenant whether compensation is required for fixtures left there. The parties' inability to agree upon a value results in the value being determined by the Department of Agriculture (hereinafter "the Department"). LB 1432 § 5. A former tenant must be reimbursed for the fair market value (hereinafter "FMV") of any improvements left upon railroad land, after the landlord terminates the lease without cause to terminate. LB 1432 § 5(1). Leases already entered into are not effected by this Act, unless they are materially modified after enactment of LB 1432. LB 1432 § 6.

I. TAKING OF PRIVATE PROPERTY

Your first question asks whether LB 1432 constitutes a taking of private property. Government actions may not take property without due process of law under U.S. Const. Amendments. 5 & 14, nor without compensating the former owners for the taking and damages therefrom under Neb. Const. art. 1, § 21. Nebraska Public Service Com'n v. Nebraska Public Power Dist., 590 N.W.2d 840, 848, 256 Neb. 479, 489 (1999); Whitehead Oil Co. v. City of Lincoln, 515 N.W.2d 401, 408, 245 Neb. 680, 689, 690 (1994). These requirements apply when the government improperly exercises its police power through land-use regulations or zoning. Id. Additionally, a taking can result from a regulatory scheme or a permanent physical occupation of property. Bargmann v. State, Dept. of Roads, 600 N.W.2d 797, 804-805, 257 Neb. 766, 774-775 (1999).

Do the requirements upon tenants and holders of railroad land under LB 1432 effect a taking? LB 1432's effects upon "agricultural tenants", as defined in LB 1432 § 3(1), are not likely to be challenged by tenants as a land-use regulation or other form of taking, since LB 1432 would work to reduce any losses the tenant might be susceptible to in transactions with a holder of railroad land. Any challenge of LB 1432 as taking property rights would likely be from a holder of railroad land. The State is not engaging in eminent domain under LB 1432. The possibility of a physical occupation by the State is eliminated, so only a regulatory taking is possible under LB 1432.

Does LB 1432, by regulating the contractual relationship between the tenant and holder of railroad land, take or otherwise damage property rights of the holder of railroad land? Under LB 1432 § 4, the parties may voluntarily resolve lease controversies, and if unable to resolve their differences, the parties will have the Department resolve them administratively. This includes determining the FMV of the parties' property. Further, LB 1432 § 5 requires compensation to a tenant from a holder for any property value of improvements lost by the tenant, if the lease was terminated without cause by the holder. The FMV is again determined by the Department. These Department resolutions have the procedural safeguards of the Administrative Procedures Act built in, with the right to judicial review. LB 1432 § 4(3). These requirements upon holders of railroad land are the sections most likely to be challenged as a taking.

Since a holder of railroad land is most likely to challenge LB 1432, then the holder must show that the effect of LB 1432 upon the values of property located on railroad land rises to a taking under the U.S. Constitution, or damages the holder of the land under the Nebraska Constitution. Inverse condemnation by the State is what the holder must show. "Inverse condemnation is a shorthand description for a landowner suit to recover just compensation for a governmental taking of the landowner's property without the benefit of condemnation proceedings." Strom v. City of Oakland, 538 N.W.2d 311, 316 255 Neb. 210, 217 (1998) (citations omitted). But prior to determining if the Act's requirements cause a taking, the court must determine if the holder has any property right that can be taken. A determination of the holder's personal or real property rights is precedent to reach the takings question.

Estates in land are real property which may be subject to a government taking, while personal property is not subject to a taking. Therefore, the question becomes, is the lease contract between a holder and lessee an estate in land which is real property, or a contract, which is personal property? Personal property is defined as "any movable or intangible thing that is subject to ownership and not classified as real estate." BLACK'S LAW DICTIONARY 1233 (7th ed. 1999). Real estate is defined to include all lands, tenements, hereditaments and chattels real for conveyancing purposes. Neb. Rev. Stat. §76-201. In that context, the Nebraska Supreme Court has provided guidance in determining whether a lease is an estate in land, subject to a taking, or a contract, which is not subject to a taking:

The question as to whether or not a leasehold for a term of ninety-nine years is real estate is discussed at length . . . and while it is true that for purposes of conveyancing a lease of more than one year is termed real estate and may be referred to as real estate in a highly technical sense, still it cannot be said that a lease for more than one year is real estate in the common acceptance of the term . . . . Therefore, the 99-year leasehold is not real estate, but personal property under Nebraska law . . . .

In re Estate of Smatlan, 501, N.W.2d 718, 721, 722, 1 Neb. App. 295, 300 (1992)(citations omitted). See also, Ballantyne Co. v. City of Omaha, 113 N.W.2d 486, 494, 173 Neb. 229, 242 (1962) (Stating removal and relocation expenses are not included in condemnation awards for a leasehold); Phillips Petroleum Co. v. City of Omaha, 106 N.W.2d 727, 171 Neb. 457 (1960) (Ruling contract rights in an unexercised option to purchase real estate are not compensable in a condemnation action, since a contract is not an estate in land). Since LB 1432 focuses upon contractual equities, and not on real estate conveyancing requirements, it is unlikely the lease requirements of LB 1432 would effect an estate in land. A court would likely find leases under LB 1432 are personal property, and not subject to a takings claim. It should be noted, LB 1432 § 4(1) refers to lessees, licensees, and owners in the same context. We believe that the court would treat lessees, licensees and owners similarly. A holder could not claim a taking with any of these contracts.

Even if a holder were able to convince a court that leases are an estate in land, and subject to a takings challenge, then the holder must prove the Act's requirements upon the real property rise to a taking. LB 1432 § 5(1) requires that a former agricultural tenant be reimbursed for the FMV of any improvements left upon railroad land, after the holder terminated the lease without cause to terminate. A holder could claim that this section of the Act is an inverse condemnation of railroad land, and that the holder of such land be paid for a denial of its use of its land and for damages to its property. Whitehead Oil Co., 515 N.W.2d at 408, 245 Neb. at 689, 690. The litigating holder of railroad land must show that the Act's reimbursement requirement to former tenants is a taking. Specifically, the holder must prove the Act's "land-use regulation" in § 5(1) denies the holder economically viable use of its land, and the Act fails to substantially advance any legitimate state interest. "Land-use regulation does not effect a taking if it 'substantially advances legitimate state interests and does not deny an owner economically viable use of his land.'" Whitehead Oil Co., 515 N.W.2d at 408, 245 Neb. at 689, quoting Nollan v. California Coastal Comm'n, 483 U.S. 825, 834, 107 S.Ct. 3141, 3147, 65 L. Ed. 2d 106 (1980). "[L]and-use regulations which substantially advance legitimate state interests do not effect a taking merely because the regulation caused a diminution in property value alone." Strom v. City of Oakland, 538 N.W.2d at 318, 255 Neb. at 220. The court has described some of the factors used to determine if a regulation rises to a taking, such as the extent to which the regulation has interfered with distinctive investment-backed expectations. Whitehead Oil Co., 515 N.W.2d at 408, 245 Neb. at 689, 690. The court further states:

A taking may more readily be found when the interference can be characterized as a physical invasion by government than when interference arises from some public program adjusting the benefits and burdens of economic life to promote the common good.

Whitehead Oil, 515 N.W.2d at 408, 245 Neb. at 689, quoting Penn Central Transp. Co. v. New York City, 438 U.S. 104, 98 S.Ct. 2646, 57 L. Ed. 2d 631 (1978)(citations omitted).

The state's interest in promoting investment by agricultural tenants and maintaining access to rail service by reimbursing agricultural tenants for their lost investment in fixtures left on railroad land are legitimate state interests, which help override any takings claim the holder might make. LB 1432 § 2. Such a result would be consistent with the equitable principle that a landlord should not be enriched by property the tenant cannot practicably remove from the land upon lease termination. It's unlikely the holder could prove LB 1432's requirements rise to a taking under the U.S. Constitution.

The holder may still attempt to claim damages from the "land-use regulation" of LB 1432 under Neb. Const. art. 1, §21. While actual damages have been granted under the Nebraska Constitution when eminent domain diminishes the value of private property, the Nebraska Supreme Court refuses to give damages to parties who cannot prove a regulatory taking under the U.S. or Nebraska Constitutions. As the Court notes:

Notwithstanding the difference between the federal and state constitutions, this court has analyzed the state constitutional issue of whether there has been a regulatory taking or damage for a public use by treating federal constitutional case law and our state constitutional case law as coterminous.

Strom, 538 N.W.2d at 316, 255 Neb. at 216. Since this is a regulatory takings claim, and not a claim of physical invasion of property, the holder of railroad land probably couldn't collect damages under the Nebraska Constitution without showing a taking under the U.S. Constitution.

In sum, the parties most likely to challenge the Act as a taking are holders of railroad land. Since the Act generally applies to contractual rights between holders of railroad land and licensees, owners and lease tenants, it effects only personal property, and would be exempt from a takings challenge. If the Act's effect upon leases were construed to be an estate in land, it is still likely the Act would withstand a Constitutional challenge claiming taking of property by government regulation. The Act's legitimate state interests would likely outweigh any harms to property values, plus the Act does not deprive the holder of economically viable use of the holder's land.

II. IMPAIRMENT OF THE RIGHT OF CONTRACT

Your second question focuses upon the impairment of the parties' contract by the requirements of LB 1432. There are two avenues of challenging the validity of a statute as impairing the right to contract. "Article I, § 10 of the [U.S.] Constitution provides: 'No State shall . . . pass any . . . Law impairing the Obligation of Contracts.'" General Motors Corp. v. Romein, 112 S. Ct. 1105, 1109, 503 U.S. 181, ___ L. Ed. 2 ___ (1999)(citations omitted). The Nebraska Supreme Court has stated " . . . Article I, § 16, Constitution of Nebraska forbids and makes ineffective any 'law impairing the obligation of contract' ". State Bd. of Educational Lands and Funds v. Haberman, 214 N.W.2d 266, 268, 191 Neb. 127, 129 (1974). In both cases the effect is that the "legislature is powerless to pass law impairing the obligation of contracts". State ex rel. City Water Co. v. City of Kearney, 68 N.W. 533, 49 Neb. 325 (1896).

LB 1432, as stated, places requirements upon the agricultural tenant and holder of railroad land. LB 1432 §§ 4 & 5. These requirements include the possible resolution of controversies between the parties by the Department, the reimbursement of expenses to the Department for its costs in forming a resolution, the right of first refusal by the current tenant upon lease expiration, and the compensation of former agricultural tenants for the fair market value of abandoned fixtures upon railroad land. LB 1432 §§ 4(3), 4(4) & 5(1). These requirements would affect every new contract entered into by agricultural tenants and holders of railroad land. LB 1432 § 6. LB 1432 would not effect contracts which were being executed at the bill's enactment, except as described below. This avoids most potential impairment problems, as " . . . [a] statute may not operate retroactively where it would impair the obligation of a contract or interfere with a vested right." State Bd. of Educational Lands and Funds v. Haberman, 214 N.W.2d 266, 268, 191 Neb. 127, 139 (1974).

The only potential problem that may arise would be with the application of LB 1432 § 6 to existing contracts which are being modified. In particular, the act states it applies to " . . . any renewal or extension of such lease on any different terms or conditions or any material modifications of any such lease effected on or after the effective date of this act." LB 1432 § 6. This requirement applies to executory leases, and might be challenged by holders of railroad land as retroactive application of the Act. A modified lease would have different terms and conditions from the original, as would a renewed lease. Both require the parties mutual assent to be executed. "Mutual assent by the parties is required to modify a contract that substantially changes the liabilities of the parties." Solar Motors, Inc. v. First Nat. Bank of Chadron, 545 N.W.2d 714, 721, 149 Neb. 758, 768 (1996). However, this would not be a "new" lease contract under the Act, since no new consideration is necessary. "[A] written executory contract may be modified by the parties thereto at any time after its execution and before a breach has occurred, without any new consideration . . ." Rees v. Huffman, 384 N.W.2d 631, 635, 222 Neb. 493, 498 (1986). A modified lease must be sufficiently different from the original lease to show the Act is not being applied to it retroactively.

In a modified lease, the parties would be presumed to know the law when bargaining for modification, including the requirements of LB 1432. However, a party could still challenge LB 1432 for impairing the modified contract. A litigant would have the burden of showing the statute impairs the modified lease. In contract impairment analysis "[g]enerally, we first ask whether the change in state law has 'operated as a substantial impairment of a contractual relationship.'" General Motors Corp. v. Romein, 112 S. Ct. at 1109, 503 U.S. at 186. In particular, the plaintiff must satisfy three elements, that ". . . there is a contractual relationship, whether a change in law impairs that contractual relationship, and whether the impairment is substantial." Id. It would be difficult for a litigant to show all three components. For instance, it is not clear how either party would be harmed by having disputes settled by the Department, after the parties themselves had an opportunity to negotiate a resolution. Nor would it appear harmful to require any potential tenant to pay fair market value for a railroad land lease. A court would base its impairment analysis upon relevant factors, including ". . . whether the impairment disrupts the parties' settled expectations, and whether the parties reasonably relied on the impaired right . . ." Koster v. City of Davenport, Iowa, 183 F.3d 762, 767 (8th Cir. 1999)(citations omitted). LB 1432 § 5(1) requires that any agricultural tenant which has its lease terminated without cause be reimbursed by the holder of railroad land for the FMV of fixtures on the land. This section is most susceptible to an impairment challenge. But the litigant must convince a court the holder of railroad land based his contract upon an expectation that the holder would retain valuable fixtures, if the tenant's lease was terminated early, for reasons other than contractual breach, and the tenant would not be compensated for the value of these fixtures. Such a result would be inequitable. Courts have stated ". . . [P]rivate contract rights must yield to the public welfare, where the latter is appropriately declared and defined, and the two conflict, has been often decided by this court." Placek v. Edstrom, 37 N.W.2d 203, 208, 151 Neb. 225, 233 (1949), quoting Union Dry Goods Co. v. Georgia Public Service Corp., 248 U.S. 372, 39 S.Ct. 117, 118, 63 L. Ed. 309. The stated interest of protecting an agricultural tenant's investments on railroad land would further the goals of promoting investment and prosperity in agriculture. LB 1432 § 2. The Act's provisions don't clearly cause an impairment of contracts, and would likely survive such a challenge.

III. EQUAL PROTECTION

Your third question is whether LB 1432 is inconsistent with Nebraska's Constitutional Equal Protection Requirements. Until recently, Nebraska has not had the same language in its Constitution as is contained in the United States Constitution Article 14. Neb. Const. art. I, § 3 contains the requirement that: "No person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law, nor be denied equal protection of the laws." This change came from Amendment One being approved by voters in 1998. See Amendment One: The Nebraska Equal Protection Clause, 32 Creighton Law Review 611, 612 (1998). Prior to the passage of the amendment to the Nebraska Constitution, other sections acted to provide equal protection rights. Kuchar v. Krings, 540 N.W.2d 582, 586, 248 Neb. 995, 1000 (1995) (using the federal Equal Protection Clause and Neb. Const. art. III, § 18 in the same equal protection analysis.) Prior to the amendments passage, the court has stated "The Nebraska Constitution and U.S. Constitution have identical requirements for equal protection challenges." DeCoste v. City of Wahoo, 583 N.W.2d 595, 601, 255 Neb. 266, 274 (1998). Since the amendments passage, the court has not taken an opportunity to determine if the test has changed for equal protection under the Nebraska Constitution. See State v. Reeves, 258 Neb. 511, 520, 604 N.W.2d 151, 156 (2000). Hence, the analysis here is the same for both the U.S. and State Constitutions.

Does LB 1432, by requiring holders of railroad land to submit to lease reviews, and provide payment to tenants in certain early lease terminations, violate these holder's rights to equal protection of the law? A litigating holder of railroad land has the burden of showing the unconstitutionality of LB 1432. Pick v. Nelson, 528 N.W.2d 309, 318, 247 Neb. 487, 498 (1995). To show a violation of equal protection, holders of railroad land must be treated differently from similarly situated persons. DeCoste, 583 N.W.2d at 601, 255 Neb. at 274. LB 1432 applies its requirements to holders of railroad land with agricultural tenants upon the land. LB 1432 §§ 3, 4 & 5. It does not apply to tenants who are not "agricultural tenants". LB 1432 § 3(1). Holders of railroad land with agricultural tenants are treated differently than their counterparts without agricultural tenants, causing a classification to occur. Once dissimilar treatment has occurred, the inquiry shifts to consider whether the ordinance at issue can survive judicial scrutiny. DeCoste, 583 N.W.2d at 601, 255 Neb. at 275. Holders of railroad land with agricultural tenants are not members of a suspect class, nor is there a fundamental right implicated herein. Since this Act implicates only economic factors, and not a suspect class nor fundamental right, then the court will ask only "whether a rational relationship exists between a legitimate interest and the means selected . . . to accomplish that end." Id.

LB 1432 must have a rational relationship to some legitimate interest for it to avoid violating the equal protection clause. This act creates a dissimilarity between holders of railroad land contracts with agricultural tenants and non-agricultural tenants. The act's objective in imposing additional requirements upon contracts with agricultural tenants is to further prosperity of agriculture in Nebraska and to maintain its access to rail service. LB 1432 § 2. Further, the Act finds agribusiness leaseholders at a disadvantage in lease negotiations because of their dependency upon rail access next to their businesses structures and improvements. Id. The Act's stated purpose is to establish a system for fair resolution of lease disputes between parties, and to guard against unreasonable lease renewal terms and unjust lease terminations. The Act's effect would require negotiation in lease terms between holders of railroad land and their agricultural tenants, followed by an administrative resolution upon written notice, if negotiations fail. LB 1432 § 4. The holders would have to offer a right of first refusal upon any lease to the former agricultural tenant, and reimburse the former agricultural tenant if a lease is terminated early without cause. LB 1432 § 5. These actions would appear to fulfill the stated purposes of the Act. Further, the Legislature could rationally determine Nebraska's dependence upon agriculture, and the need for agricultural tenants, justifies requirements that protect the tenants' investments in fixtures upon railroad land. "The Equal Protection Clause does not require the Legislature to eliminate all evils in order to legislate against some." Schindler v. Department of Motor Vehicles, 593 N.W.2d 295, 298, 256 Neb. 782, 786 (1999). The rational relationship between the objectives of the Act and its methods means the Act would likely survive a challenge of its constitutionality on equal protection grounds.

IV. SPECIAL LEGISLATION

Your fourth question in your request is whether LB 1432 is inconsistent with Nebraska's Special Legislation Requirements. Our State Constitution has limitations upon special legislation in Neb. Const. art. III, § 18, which include a prohibition on local or special laws which ". . . grant to any corporation, association, or individual any special or exclusive privileges, immunity, or franchise whatever." This section was interpreted to include the same protections as the federal equal protection clause. U.S.C.A. Const. art. 14. "The Nebraska Constitution and the U.S. Constitution have identical requirements from equal protection challenges." Pick v. Nelson, 528 N.W.2d 309, 318, 247 Neb. 487, 498 (1995) citing Robotham v. State, 488 N.W.2d 533, 539, 241 Neb. 379, 385. Robotham described the test under Neb. Const. art. III, § 18: "In an equal protection challenge Neb. Const. art. III, § 18 'classifications that do not involve a suspect class or fundamental right are tested for rational basis' ". Id. The recent enactment of the amended Neb. Const. art. I, § 3 now contains an explicit "equal protection clause" which mirrors the United States Constitution.

With the above in mind, the analysis of LB 1432's constitutionality under the Nebraska Constitution's Special Legislation clause would use the same tests as the above equal protection analysis. The state Supreme Court has reiterated this fact. In DeCoste v. City of Wahoo, the court again stated: "The Nebraska Constitution and the U.S. Constitution have identical requirements from equal protection challenges." DeCoste, 583 N.W.2d at 601, 255 Neb. at 274. In August 1998, after the amendments to Neb. Const. art. I, § 3 had passed, DeCoste was decided. The same conclusion as was reached above must be reached here. LB 1432 would likely survive a constitutional challenge on special legislation grounds.

V. INTERSTATE COMMERCE CLAUSE

Your fifth question asks whether LB 1432 would impose a burden upon interstate commerce. The dormant commerce clause is a portion of U.S. Const. art. I, § 8, cl. 3 which prevents state and local governments from impeding the free flow of goods from one state to another. Houlton Citizens' Coalition v. Town of Houlton, 175 F.3d 178, 184 (1st Cir. 1999). "In evaluating whether a challenged state regulation impermissibly infringes upon interstate commerce, a court must first determine whether the regulation even affects interstate commerce." United Waste Systems of Iowa, Inc. v. Wilson, 189 F.3d 762, 765 (8th Cir. 1999). If LB 1432 discriminated upon interstate commerce directly, then it would be ". . . per se invalid, save in a narrow class of cases in which the state can demonstrate, under rigorous scrutiny, that it has no other means to advance a legitimate local interest." Id at 767. Since LB 1432 does not distinguish between Nebraska tenants or lessors and out-of-state tenants or lessors, it is not explicitly discriminatory. Its impact is likely incidental.

Next, it must be determined if LB 1432 has an indirect impact upon interstate commerce. The test that is used in this case states:

"[W]here the statute regulates evenhandedly to effectuate a legitimate local public interest, and its effects on interstate commerce are only incidental, it will be upheld unless the burden imposed on such commerce is clearly excessive in relation to the putative local benefits... "

CenTra, Inc. v. Chandler Ins. Co., Ltd., 540 N.W.2d 318, 332, 248 Neb. 844, 864 (1995), citing Pike v. Bruce Church, Inc., 397 U.S. 137, 142, 90 S.Ct. 844, 847, 25 L. Ed. 174 (1970).

LB 1432's objectives, stated above, indicate a desire to maintain agricultural access to rail service, by alleviating agricultural tenant's disadvantage in lease negotiations, which arises from their dependency upon rail access next to their businesses' structures and improvements. LB 1432 § 1. These benefits must outweigh the burden upon interstate commerce. LB 1432 affects entities which hold parcels of land in Nebraska. Its regulations effect the transactions between the landlord and tenant upon those parcels. The lease contracts and licenses upon that land, and the possible reimbursement of former tenants, are both requirements particular to Nebraska realty and improvements on that realty. The only effects upon out-of-state entities would be for contractual acts on their Nebraska real estate. By regulating acts tied directly to Nebraska realty, it is difficult to imagine a law with less impact upon interstate commerce which could effect the same objectives. Courts recognize the difficulty in creating a law that has no interstate impact. "Because even 'local' activities displace the movement of goods, services, funds and people, almost every state and local law-indeed almost every private transaction-affects interstate commerce." National Paint & Coatings v. City of Chicago, 45 F.2d 1124, 1131 (7th Cir. 1995). The slight burdens LB 1432 would have on out-of-state landlords and tenants must outweigh the benefits it provides to show a violation of the commerce clause.

LB 1432 does not effect items which might move out-of-state, such as vehicles or trains. The holders of railroad land will not have their tracks or trains regulated by this Act in any way. The tenants upon railroad land interest in fixtures, by its very nature, is exclusively local. It is possible the out-of-state holders of railroad land would argue that monetary costs in reimbursing former tenants causes them to raise costs of rent to future tenants, turning away some future out-of-state tenants, and limiting the holder's income. This contention has been rejected in several other cases, however. In United Waste Systems, the 8th Circuit court rejected arguments that a law could cause possible loss of future business, resulting in fewer purchases of interstate goods, and was an unreasonable burden upon interstate commerce. United Waste Systems of Iowa, Inc. at 766-767. In Houlton Citizens' Coalition, the 1st Circuit court found a city's ordinance which awarded an exclusive waste contract to any bidder not unduly burdensome upon interstate commerce, regardless of the contract going to an in-state or out-of-state party. The out-of-state party's claim of potentially lost business was rejected. Houlton Citizens' Coalition v. Town of Houlton, 175 F.3d at 188-189. The U.S. Supreme Court found that Kansas regulations upon local producers of natural gas from a Kansas gas field, although connected to federally regulated interstate gas pipelines, were valid, being within Kansas' correlative rights to control producers of Kansas' natural gas. Northwest Pipeline v. Kansas Corp. Comm., 489 U.S. 493, 524, 109 S.Ct. 1262, 103 L. Ed. 2d 509 (1989). The court's allowance of a local regulation on Kansas gas producers in an interstate system, as opposed to a prohibited regulation of interstate purchasers in the same gas system, is analogous to LB 1432's regulation upon owners and tenants of Nebraska railroad land, rather than regulation of transportation of products from these owners and tenants. Id. The putative benefits of maintaining access for agricultural goods by protecting the investments of agricultural tenants would outweigh the slight burdens upon out-of-state holders of railroad land in contract requirements. The Act should survive a commerce clause challenge.

VI. OTHER CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES

Your last question inquires into whether any other aspects of LB 1432 conflict with the Nebraska Constitution. There are two possible areas of concern that appear.

The first area of concern is whether LB 1432 is effected by federal preemption of laws effecting railroad transportation. State law is preempted if it conflicts with federal law, by virtue of the U.S. Constitution. U.S. Const. art. VI, cl. 2. From our review of the Surface Transportation Board's jurisdiction, which regulates railroad tracks, it appears that LB 1432 does not clearly effect the federal statutory scheme. 49 U.S.C.A. § 10501. LB 1432 is likely not preempted by federal law.

The second possible area of concern is the meaning of some terms in LB 1432. It could be argued that it is not apparent what the term "agricultural tenant" encompasses. LB 1432 §3(1). The limitation in §3 (1) upon "the sale or distribution of . . . other products used or useful in the production of agricultural crops and livestock . . ." is quite broad.

When a legislative enactment is challenged on vagueness grounds, the issue is whether the two requirements of procedural due process are met: (1) adequate notice to citizens and (2) adequate standards to prevent arbitrary enforcement. In other words, due process requires that an enactment supply (1) a person of ordinary intelligence a reasonable opportunity to know what is prohibited and (2) explicit standards for those who apply it."

Ponderosa Ridge LLC v. Banner County, 554 N.W.2d 151, 159, 250 Neb. 944, 955 (1996). It is possible that sales of products "used or useful" in agriculture could include oil, fuel, lumber, concrete, vehicles and numerous other items. LB 1432 §3(1). Further legislative definition or administrative interpretation by the Department of Agriculture may be desirable.

CONCLUSION

LB 1432 requires that holders of railroad land perform certain contractual duties with their licensees, fixture owners and tenants upon railroad land, if those parties fit the description of an "agricultural tenant". These duties include possible submittal of controversies upon leases between the holder of railroad land and the agricultural tenant to the Nebraska Department of Agriculture for resolution. Agricultural tenants are to have right of first refusal upon new leases, and holders of railroad land may have to reimburse prior tenants for the value of fixtures left upon railroad land after early termination of a lease, if terminated without cause by the land holder.

These restrictions are likely not a constitutional taking, since the requirements focus upon contract rights, not estates in land. Even if construed to effect estates in land, not just contract rights, the Act's land use regulation would still not rise to a taking. The adjustment of contractual rights between landlords and tenants by the Act does not amount to a physical invasion by the State, the latter being a taking. Second, LB 1432 would effect new transactions between railroad land holders and agricultural tenants, and not apply to former contracts, unless they are modified. If contracts are modified, a litigant alleging that the Act impairs the contract would have difficulty showing they were harmed by mandatory lease negotiations after their own voluntary negotiations failed. Further, it would be difficult to show harm when land holders were required to pay former tenants the FMV of fixtures retained. Third, the mentioned requirements upon holders of railroad land would be a dissimilar treatment from railroad land holders without agricultural tenants, requiring an equal protection analysis. However, it is very likely the legitimate objectives of LB 1432 bear a rational relationship to the requirements upon holders of railroad land. The same analysis applies both for equal protection and special legislation requirements. A violation of the interstate commerce clause requirements appears unlikely, since LB 1432's perceived benefits would likely outweigh any burden upon interstate commerce it might have. Its effect on interstate commerce is slight and negligible. Preemption of LB 1432 by federal statute is unlikely.

You have been designated by the Governor as the Workforce Development Liaison for implementation of the federal Workforce Investment Act of 1998, Public Law 105-220 (Aug. 7, 1998), 29 U.S.C. § 2801, et seq. (the "WIA"), in Nebraska. The WIA deals generally with the distribution of federal funds for youth and adult employment and training activities in the various states. You have now posed a number of questions to us concerning the constitutionality of requirements of the WIA under provisions of the Nebraska Constitution. Our responses to your questions are set out below.

FEDERAL STATUTES

We will first set out several portions of the two sections of the WIA which are the subject of your opinion request to us.

29 U.S.C. § 2821 or Subtitle B, Chapter 1, § 111 of the WIA provides, in pertinent part:

(a) In general

The Governor of a State shall establish a State workforce investment board to assist in the development of the State plan described in section 2822 of this title and to carry out the other functions described in subsection (d).

(b) Membership

(1) In general

The State Board shall include -

- (A) the Governor;
- (B) 2 members of each chamber of the State legislature, appointed by the appropriate presiding officers of each such chamber; and
- (C) representatives appointed by the Governor, who are -
  - (i) representatives of business in the State, who -
    - (I) are owners of businesses, chief executives or operating officers of businesses, and other business executives or employers with optimum policymaking or hiring authority, including members of local boards described in section 2832(b)(2)(A)(I) of this title;
    - (II) represent businesses with employment opportunities that reflect the employment opportunities of the State; and
    - (III) are appointed from among individuals nominated by State business organizations and business trade associations;
  - * * * * *

  - * * * * *

29 U.S.C. § 2822, or Subtitle B, Chapter 1, § 112 of the Act provides, in pertinent part:

(a) In general

For a State to be eligible to receive an allotment under section 2852 or 2862 of this title, or to receive financial assistance under the Wagner-Peyser Act (29 U.S.C.A. § 49 ET SEQ.), the Governor of the State shall submit to the Secretary for consideration by the Secretary, a single State plan (referred to in this chapter as the "State Plan") that outlines a 5-year strategy for the statewide workforce investment system of the state and that meets the requirements of section 2821 of this title and this section.

STATE CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS

Your opinion request also involves the following portions of the Nebraska Constitution.

Art. II, § 1 of the Nebraska Constitution provides:

The powers of the government of this state are divided into three distinct departments, the legislative, executive and judicial, and no person or collection of persons being one of these departments, shall exercise any power properly belonging to either of the others, except as hereinafter expressly directed or permitted.

Art. III, § 9 of the Nebraska Constitution provides:

No person holding office under the authority of the United States, or any lucrative office under the authority of this state, shall be eligible to, or have a seat in the Legislature. No person elected or appointed to the Legislature shall receive any civil appointment to a state office while holding membership in the Legislature or while the Legislature is in session, and all such appointments shall be void.

Art. IV, § 10 of the Nebraska Constitution provides, as is pertinent:

The Governor shall appoint with the approval of a majority of the Legislature, all persons whose offices are established by the Constitution, or which may be created by law, and whose appointment is not otherwise by law or herein provided for; and no such person shall be appointed or elected by the Legislature.

ANALYSIS

You have posed seven separate questions regarding the WIA to us. We will consider each of those questions in the order in which you presented them to us.

Question No. 1. "Are members of the Nebraska Legislature prohibited by Article II, § 1; Article III, § 9; or Article IV, § 10 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska from serving in their capacity as a member of the Nebraska Legislature and as a board member of a SWIB [State Workforce Investment Board] which performs the duties set forth in Public Law 1-5-220, Subtitle B, Chapter 1, §§ 111 and 112?"

Your first question to us references three provisions of the Nebraska Constitution. We will discuss each constitutional provision separately.

A. Art. II, § 1 - Distribution of Governmental Powers

Art. II, § 1 of the Nebraska Constitution is the State's distribution of powers clause. Its purpose is to establish the permanent framework of our system of government, to assign to the three departments of government--the legislative, executive and judicial--their respective powers and duties, and to establish certain fixed principles upon which our government is to be conducted. State ex rel. Stenberg v. Murphy, 247 Neb. 358, 527 N.W.2d 185 (1995). In its institutional aspect, it prohibits one branch of government from encroaching on the duties and prerogatives of the others, or from improperly delegating its own duties and prerogatives. State ex rel. Spire v. Conway, 238 Neb. 766, 472 N.W.2d 403 (1991). In its personnel or individual aspect, it prevents certain persons from serving in two branches of government concurrently. Id. In the Conway case, the Nebraska Supreme Court set out the following rule with respect to the individual aspect of art. II, § 1:

. . . article II prohibits one who exercises the power of one branch - that is, an officer in the broader sense of the word - from being a member - that is, either an officer or an employee - of another branch.

We believe there is at least some initial question as to whether art. II, § 1 even applies to service on a state workforce investment board (SWIB), if it is a board created solely under federal statute. Under art. II, § 1, the powers of state government are divided into three distinct departments. State v. Bainbridge, 249 Neb. 260, 543 N.W.2d 154 (1996); State v. Jones, 248 Neb. 117, 532 N.W.2d 293 (1995); State v. Phillips, 246 Neb. 610, 521 N.W.2d 913 (1994). However, in the absence of any Nebraska law creating a SWIB, a SWIB in Nebraska is arguably a federal agency created under the requirements of federal statutes to assist in implementation of the WIA. Under such an analysis, it appears possible to argue that service on a federally created SWIB does not involve any individual in service in the Executive branch of state government in Nebraska. At the present time, there are no Nebraska statutes which create a SWIB. However, the Governor signed Executive Order No. 99-04 on December 6, 1999. That executive order creates a SWIB in Nebraska, and its provisions generally track those of the federal statutes cited above, except that members of the Legislature are not presently included as members of the Nebraska SWIB. We assume that your initial question pertaining to art. II, § 1 is directed to us to determine, in part, if members of the Legislature can serve on a Nebraska SWIB created under both federal and state law. Therefore, we will continue with our analysis of your question under art. II, § 1. Subsequent references to the SWIB refer both to the SWIB required by federal statute and the SWIB contemplated by Executive Order No. 99-04.

Members of the Nebraska Legislature are obviously officers of the Legislative department of state government. As a result, under the Conway formulation of the requirements of art. II, § 1 set out above, they can be neither an officer nor an employee of another department of state government. We do not believe that members of the Legislature would be employees of state government as a result of membership on the SWIB. Consequently, we must determine if members of the SWIB would be officers of state government, as that term is legally defined, by their service on that board.

The Nebraska Supreme Court has indicated that an office is "a public station or employment, conferred by the appointment of government; and embraces the ideas of tenure, duration, emolument and duties." State ex rel. O'Connor v. Tusa, 130 Neb. 528, 535-536, 265 N.W.2d 534, 528 (1936). With respect to the authority of public officers, the Court stated in the Conway case. "[i]t may be said that the almost universal rule is that, in order to indicate office, the duties must partake in some degree of the sovereign powers of the state." 238 Neb. at 771, 772, 472 N.W.2d at 407. As a result, a public office is "a governmental position, the duties of which invest the incumbent with some aspect of the sovereign power." Id.

In the present instance, the federal statutes at issue and Executive Order No. 99-04 create a SWIB with specified duties. However, there is no term of office for membership on the SWIB, and members will not be paid for their service. More importantly, it appears to us that the duties of the SWIB are simply to advise the Governor in the creation of the State Plan required under the WIA. Under 29 U.S.C. § 2821 (d), the SWIB is to "assist" the Governor in development of the State Plan which the Governor, and not the SWIB, must submit to the federal Secretary of Labor. Also, under 29 U.S.C. § 2822 (b)(1) the State Plan must show how the Governor "collaborated" with the SWIB in development of the plan. Under Executive Order No. 99-04, the Nebraska SWIB will also "assist" the Governor in development of Nebraska's State Plan, and "make recommendations" as to the use of various federal funds. Since the duties of the SWIB are advisory only, we do not believe that members of the SWIB exercise sovereign powers of the Executive Department of state government, and as a result, members of the SWIB are not officers in the Executive Department of state government. For that reason, we believe that members of the Legislature may permissibly serve on the SWIB under art. II, § 1 of the Nebraska Constitution.<sup>1</sup> We have reached similar conclusions with respect to other advisory bodies which included members of multiple branches of state government. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 99012 (March 17, 1999) (Child Support Commission created to make recommendations to the Legislature and Supreme Court could include members from multiple branches of government); Op. Att'y Gen. No. 93008

<sup>1</sup> We emphasize here that our conclusion is based upon our understanding that the duties of the SWIB are advisory only. Any attempt to give the SWIB independent powers with respect to the WIA could create constitutional difficulties.

(February 17, 1993) (Functional teams created to make recommendations under the State Government Assessment System could include members from all branches of state government); Op. Att'y Gen. No. 92076 (May 29, 1992) (advisory nature of Youth Services Planning Commission allowed members of the Judicial department to sit on body making recommendations to Legislature and Governor); Op. Att'y Gen. No. 92073 (May 22, 1992) (Advisory Nature of Judicial Resources Commission allowed judges to sit on body making recommendations to the Legislature).

B. Article III, § 9 - Multiple Office Holding by Members of the Legislature

Art. III, § 9 of the Nebraska Constitution prohibits members of the Nebraska Legislature from simultaneously holding office under authority of the United States or other lucrative office under authority of this state while serving in the Legislature. It also prohibits members of the Legislature from receiving any civil appointment to a state office while holding membership in the Legislature or while the Legislature is in session. As discussed at length above, we do not believe that members of a Nebraska SWIB would be "officers" of the state or the United States as that term is legally defined, and therefore, we do not believe that members of a Nebraska SWIB would hold an "office." For that reason, members of the Nebraska Legislature could serve on the SWIB under the provisions of art. III, § 9.

C. Article IV, § 10 -- Governor's Appointment Power

Article IV, § 10 of the Nebraska Constitution provides that the Governor shall make appointments of persons whose offices are created by law, and no such person shall be appointed or elected by the Legislature. Therefore, that constitutional provision prohibits legislative appointments of officers whose offices are created by law. Wittler v. Baumgartner, 180 Neb. 446, 144 N.W.2d 62 (1966). In the present instance, the presiding officer of the Legislature would make appointments of legislative members of the SWIB under the requirements of the WIA, and this would seem to implicate art. IV, § 10. However, for the reasons set out above, we believe that persons who serve on a Nebraska SWIB would not be officers under law. As a result, members of the Legislature could be appointed to the SWIB in the manner prescribed by the WIA without contravening art. IV, § 10 of the Nebraska Constitution.

Question No. 2. "Would the answer to question #1 change if the members of the Nebraska Legislature serving on the SWIB are non-voting members of the board?"

Our answers to Question No. 1 are based upon the advisory nature of the SWIB, and upon the notion that members of the SWIB would not be federal or state "officers" by reason of their service on that board. As a result, whether members of the Nebraska Legislature were voting or non-voting members of the SWIB would not change those conclusions.

Question No. 3 "The United States Department of Labor has suggested that if members of the Nebraska Legislature are constitutionally prohibited from serving on the Nebraska SWIB, they would consider the appointment of employees of the Legislature as an acceptable alternative to appointment of members of the Legislature. . . . If the appointment of members of the Legislature is impermissible under either Article II, § 1; Article III, § 9; or Article IV, § 10 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska, would the appointment of employees of the Legislature in lieu of members of the Legislature be constitutionally permissible under Article II, § 1; Article III, § 9; or Article IV, § 10 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska?"

Since we have concluded that members of the Nebraska Legislature may constitutionally serve on a Nebraska SWIB, there is no need for us to reach this question.

Question No. 4. "The WIA contemplates appointments of members of "two chambers of the State Legislature" to the SWIB. Nebraska has adopted a Unicameral system and does not have a second chamber of the its (sic) state Legislature. If members of the Nebraska Legislature can serve as members of Nebraska's SWIB, is the proper number of appointees two or four?"

At the outset, we would suggest that this question is more properly addressed to federal officials since the actual statutes at issue are federal statutes, and the apparent purpose of Nebraska's participation in WIA programs is to obtain federal funds. Consequently, it seems to us that federal officials and their counsel should be the final arbiters of what the federal government will require for membership on a state SWIB in order for that state to participate in the federal program. Nevertheless, the starting point in the interpretation of federal statutes is always the plain language of the statute itself, and that is where statutory interpretation begins. United States v. Hanousek, 176 F.3d 1116 (9th Cir. 1999); Planned Parenthood of Mid-Missouri and Eastern Kansas, Inc. v. Demsey, 167 F.3d 458 (8th Cir. 1999). 29 U.S.C. § 2821 (b)(1) provides that a SWIB shall include "2 members of each chamber of the State legislature" (emphasis added). It seems to us that the use of the word "each" in that statute necessarily requires that "every" chamber or "any" chamber of a state legislature will receive two appointees to a SWIB. See BLACK'S LAW DICTIONARY 455 (5th ed. 1979). Since Nebraska has only one chamber of the Legislature in its unicameral system, two members of the Nebraska Legislature should be appointed to the Nebraska SWIB.

Question No. 5. "Does the appointment of members of the State Legislature to the SWIB under § 111(b)(1)(B) by a presiding officer or officers of the Legislature conflict with Article IV, § 10, of the Nebraska Constitution?"

Again, art. IV, § 10 of the Nebraska Constitution prohibits legislative appointments, and the Nebraska Legislature may not appoint or elect any person whose office is established by the Constitution or created by law. However, as discussed at length above, members of a SWIB are not, in our view, "officers" as that term is legally defined, and we do not believe that members of a SWIB hold "offices." Therefore, it does not appear to us that art. IV, § 10 prohibits the appointments at issue, because the Legislature, in making appointments of its members to a SWIB, will not appoint a person to an "office" established under law.

Question No. 6. "Does the limitation of the field of potential appointees to representatives nominated by certain groups under § 111 (b)(1)(C)(i) and § 111 (b)(1)(C)(iii) of the WIA conflict with Article IV, § 10, of the Nebraska Constitution?"

In Wittler v. Baumgartner, 180 Neb. 446, 144 N.W.2d 62 (1966), the Nebraska Supreme Court held that a statute providing that the Board of Directors for a public electric corporation would be selected from members residing in nine regions violated art. IV, § 10 of the Nebraska Constitution when five of those regions contained only one person qualified to receive the appointment. The court reasoned that a statute which limited the appointment of officials by the Governor to a certain unnamed individual or to a limited few constituted an indirect legislative appointment and an encroachment by the Legislature upon the appointment powers of the Governor in contravention of art. IV § 10. The portions of the federal statutes referenced in your final question require the Governor to appoint SWIB members who are representatives of business in this State from nominations by state business organizations, and SWIB members who are representatives of labor organizations from nominations by state labor federations. We assume that your final question grows out of those statutory limits on the nomination process, and constitutional concerns implicated by the Baumgartner decision.

We do not believe generally that the statutory provisions at issue so limit the Governor's appointment options as to clearly violate the Baumgartner rule. However, more importantly, that issue is resolved by our discussion above. We do not believe that members of a SWIB are "officers" as that term is legally defined, and therefore, we do not believe that members of a SWIB hold "offices." Since art. IV, § 10 is limited by its own terms to appointments of persons to "offices," that section does not apply to the appointments to the SWIB which are issue.

Question No. 7. "Do the requirements of § 111 (b)(1)(B), § 111(b)(1)(C)(i) and § 111 (b)(1)(C)(iii) of the WIA in any way preempt any provisions of the Nebraska Constitution?"

Article VI, Paragraph 2 of the United States Constitution, the Supremacy Clause, dictates that state law, including a state's constitution, is superceded or preempted to the extent that it conflicts with federal law. In re Application of Burlington Northern Railroad Co., 249 Neb. 821, 545 N.W.2d 749 (1996). Federal law which conflicts with state law controls over state law, including a state's constitution. Mapco v. State Board of Equalization, 238 Neb. 565, 471 N.W.2d 734 (1991). For the reasons discussed above, we do not believe that the requirements of the WIA conflict with the Nebraska Constitution. Consequently, we need not reach your final question concerning federal preemption.

Sincerely yours,

Opinion #00038

DATE: November 9, 2000

SUBJECT: Medical Oxygen

REQUESTED BY: Senator Jim Jensen, Chair
Health and Human Services Committee
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
James D. Smith, Assistant Attorney General

OPINION REQUEST:

You requested our opinion on the following questions:

- Question 1. Is a prescription or medical order required prior to dispensing or administering medical oxygen?
- Question 2. Is someone who dispenses medical oxygen engaged in the "practice of pharmacy?"

Your opinion request also refers to LB 797 and Health and Human Services Committee amendments, which were indefinitely postponed at the end of the 2000 legislative session. Your request mentions the committee amendments permitted the establishment of "delegated dispensing agreements, purportedly to allow for the dispensing of medical oxygen by someone other than a pharmacist pursuant to such agreement."

CONCLUSIONS:

Answer to Question 1. A prescription or medical order is required prior to dispensing or administering medical oxygen to the ultimate patient user in nonemergency situations under federal Food and Drug Administration rules and policy guidelines.

Answer to Question 2. Generally, one who "dispenses" medical oxygen is engaged in the "practice of pharmacy" with the understanding that "dispensing" contemplates the person is filling a medical order or prescription for medical oxygen for a patient.

ANALYSIS:

"Medical oxygen" is not defined by Nebraska statute. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 71-1,142(25) (Cum. Supp. 2000) of the pharmacy practice statutes of Nebraska's Uniform Licensing Law defines a "prescription drug" to mean:

. . . (a) a drug which under federal law is required, prior to being dispensed or delivered, to be labeled with either of the following statements: (i) Caution: Federal law prohibits the dispensing without prescription; or (ii) Caution: Federal law restricts this drug to use by or on the order of a licensed veterinarian or (b) a drug which is required by any applicable federal or state law or regulation to be dispensed on prescription only or is restricted to use by medical practitioners only. (Emphasis added.)

Thus, Section 71-1,142(25) requires reference to the federal drug regulation framework and federal law to determine if "medical oxygen" is a prescription drug for purposes of Nebraska's pharmacy statutes.

In 1972, the Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") published a proposed policy statement on oxygen (hereafter "Proposed Statement of Policy"). 37 FR 5504 (February 29, 1972). The Proposed Statement of Policy addressed labeling requirements for compressed oxygen containers with distinctions for oxygen used for environmental, industrial, aircraft, medical, and medical emergency purposes. The Proposed Statement of Policy noted developments in the use of oxygen containers which prompted the FDA "to clarify labeling of devices intended to deliver oxygen for drug use." The Proposed Statement of Policy stated that the FDA had long "expressed the opinion that in light of the general use of medicinal gases such articles should be regarded as prescription drugs and, therefore, should be labeled with the prescription legend." The FDA's 1972 Proposed Statement of Policy was never adopted.

In 1986, the Compressed Gas Association submitted Citizens Petition #87P-0167/CP1 to the FDA requesting a final agency policy ruling on the status, distribution, and labeling of emergency oxygen. Eventually, the FDA Deputy Commissioner for Policy issued a policy statement in September, 1996, which stated in part as follows:

Although it later withdrew this proposal, FDA still considers the 1972 Proposed Statement of Policy, as modified herein, to be its policy with respect . . . to the status of medical oxygen. Accordingly, FDA's policy continues to be . . . labeling as set forth in the 1972 Proposed Statement of Policy (including the warning statement), with the indications for use as follows:

For emergency use only when administered by properly trained personnel for oxygen deficiency and resuscitation. For all other medical applications, Caution: Federal law prohibits dispensing without prescription. (Emphasis added. See, previously emphasized language of Neb. Rev. Stat. § 71-1,142(25) defining a prescription drug.)

The next FDA action of significance was a 1994 FDA proposed rule published in the Federal Register. The proposed rule included the following statement:

Questions have also been raised about the applicability of PDMA [Prescription Drug Marketing Act of 1987] to the drug oxygen, U.S.P. (U.S. Pharmacopeia). FDA advises that oxygen, U.S.P., is a prescription drug subject to section 503(b) of the act [Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act], and, therefore, within the scope of PDMA and these proposed regulations. 59 FR 11842 at 11844 (March 14, 1994).

More than five years later, on December 3, 1999, FDA issued its final rule which states, in part, as follows:

In the March 1994 proposal (59 FR 11842 at 11844), the agency clarified that oxygen, USP (United States Pharmacopeia), is a prescription drug subject to section 503(b) of the act and, therefore, within the scope of PDMA [Prescription Drug Marketing Act of 1987] and the proposed regulations. Since the publication of the March 1994 proposal, questions have been raised about the applicability of PDMA to medical gases generally.

FDA advises that all medical gases (i.e., oxygen, USP; . . . and medical air, USP) are prescription drugs within the scope of PDMA and the State licensing guideline final rule. [Emphasis added. Final rule applicable to wholesale distributors of medical gases, including medical oxygen, with exception "for those entities that exclusively distribute medical gases to patients under a valid prescription."]

Nebraska's statutory method of incorporating the federal system's prescription drug classification for Nebraska's pharmacy practice laws results in the conclusion that medical oxygen is a prescription drug requiring a prescription or medical order prior to dispensing or administering to the ultimate patient user, in nonemergency situations, under FDA rules and policy guidelines.

Your second question, whether someone is "practicing pharmacy" by "dispensing" medical oxygen, involves a review of applicable pharmacy practice statutes and exceptions.

The "practice of pharmacy" is defined by Neb. Rev. Stat. § 71-1,142(2) to include "the . . . dispensing . . . of drugs . . ." "Drugs" are defined by Neb. Rev. Stat. § 71-1,142(19) to include "prescription drugs." Thus, the general answer to your second question is that a person who "dispenses" medical oxygen is practicing pharmacy. However, further explanation is needed because of the statutory terms of art applicable to pharmacy and because of the statutory exceptions to the practice of pharmacy.

The words "dispense or dispensing" are defined by Neb. Rev. Stat. § 71-1,142(11) to mean "the preparation and delivery of a drug . . . pursuant to a lawful order of a medical practitioner in a suitable container appropriately labeled for subsequent administration to or use by a patient or other individual entitled to receive the drug or device." One who "dispenses" medical oxygen is necessarily doing so pursuant to a medical order or prescription for use by or on a particular patient.

It is important to mention that the word "dispense" is not synonymous with "distribute" or "administration." Neb. Rev. Stat. § 71-1,142(12) defines "distribute" to be "delivery of a drug . . . other than by administering or dispensing." Neb. Rev. Stat. § 71-1,142(2) defines "administration" to be "direct application of a drug . . . by injection, inhalation, ingestion, or other means to the body of a patient."

You are referred to Neb. Rev. Stat. § 71-1,143, which contains exceptions to the practice of pharmacy, including exceptions for medical practitioners, advanced practice registered nurses, and others engaged in conduct as further defined by the statute. Pharmacy technicians also may perform tasks involving the practice of pharmacy under statutory guidelines set out by Neb. Rev. Sec. § 71-1,147.33.

The final subject of your opinion request refers to the concept of pharmacy "delegated dispensing agreements" provided for by the Health and Human Services Committee amendments to LB 797. The pharmacist's role in the medication-use process is primarily that of a dispenser of medication to a patient pursuant to medical orders or a prescription. Nebraska has enacted more recent requirements for patient counseling and drug therapy review prior to dispensing. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 71-1,147.35.

The "delegated dispensing agreement" provisions of the HHS Committee amendments to LB 797 are broadly drafted to allow others to "perform certain dispensing functions authorized by the pharmacist or pharmacists." Section 106 of AM 2173 to LB 797. Section 159 of the HHS Committee amendments exempts from the practice of pharmacy "persons authorized to dispense drugs or devices pursuant to a delegated dispensing agreement." The concept of delegated dispensing agreements woven into the HHS Committee amendments are clearly broader than allowing only dispensing of medical oxygen by someone other than a pharmacist. Whether the legislature desires to grant pharmacists such broad delegation dispensing authority and adopt such a broad approach to address a limited issue is a legislative policy matter.

Sincerely,

SUBJECT: Federal Rural Economic Development Loan And Grant Program; Constitutionality Of The Use Of Zero-interest Loans By Public Power Districts For Rural Economic Development Under Art. XIII, § 3 Of The Nebraska Constitution.

REQUESTED BY: Senator Jim Jones
Nebraska State Legislature

Dale A. Comer, Assistant Attorney General

The federal "cushion of credit payments program," set out at 7 U.S.C. § 940c and 7 CFR, Subpart B, §§ 1703.10 through 1703.68, is a federal program whereby Rural Electrification Act borrowers can obtain federal loans and grants for rural economic development purposes. In your opinion request letter, you describe the program as follows:

The substance of the federal statutory and regulatory provisions are that "cushion of credit" funds may be used for rural economic development and job creation projects; that the funds are to be made available to Rural Utilities Service (RUS) borrowers as defined, and that in regard to zero interest loans, reasonable repayment terms should be established. Under this Rural Economic Development Loan and Grant (REDLG) program, federal funds could be loaned to an eligible RUS borrower like a public power district which would make a "pass-through" loan to another entity that will own or undertake a private development project using the proceeds of the loan. One of the requirements of the REDGL program is that the RUS borrower is required to obtain a letter of credit from a financial institution satisfactory to RUS to honor a draft drawn on the RUS borrower, should such borrower fail to pay on the loan obtained from RUS.

(Citations omitted).

Neb. Rev. Stat. § 70-625 (Cum. Supp. 1998) allows the board of directors of a public power district in Nebraska to apply for and use funds available from federal agencies for grants or loans to promote economic development and job creation projects in rural areas under the rules and regulations of the federal agency from which the funds are received. In addition, Neb. Rev. Stat. § 70-625.01 (Cum. Supp. 1998) contains a number of findings by the Legislature including: 1. rural areas in the state are experiencing declines in economic activity and outmigration of residents, 2. rural economic development efforts can increase the productivity of economic resources and quality of life of rural residents, 3. funds may be available from federal agencies for economic development and job creation projects, 4. public power districts operating in rural areas are uniquely situated to know and understand the need to promote economic development and job creation projects in their service areas, and 5. it is the public policy of this state to allow public power districts to promote economic development and job creation projects in rural areas through programs administered by federal agencies such as the Rural Economic Development Loan and Grant program.

Sections 70-625 and 70-625.01 clearly authorize public power districts in Nebraska to participate in the cushion of credit and Rural Economic Development Loan and Grant programs. However, officials with the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) have apparently taken the position that Nebraska's public power districts are disqualified from the use of federal funds for zero-interest loans under those programs on the basis of art. XIII, § 3 of the Nebraska Constitution which prohibits lending the credit of the state and the use of public funds for a private purpose.<sup>1</sup> You indicate that you have been advised that the position of the USDA may confuse the extension of the credit of the state with the use of funds provided by the state. You also indicate that you have been advised that it is for the Legislature to determine in the first instance what is and what is not a public purpose. Therefore, you have posed two questions to us to enable you to determine whether it is necessary for you to introduce corrective legislation or a proposed constitutional amendment during the next session of the Legislature. We will consider each of your questions in turn.

way the REDLG program is currently structured, but would agree to provide the cushion of credit funds to a power district, with the power district agreeing to repay its own loan but not guaranteeing the performance of the ultimate recipient of the loan funds, would such arrangement violate Article XIII, Section 3 without an amendment to such constitutional provision?

Art. XIII, § 3 of the Nebraska Constitution provides that "[t]he credit of the state shall never be given or loaned in aid of any individual, association, or corporation . . . ." The purpose of that section is to prevent the state or any of its political subdivisions from extending the state's credit to private enterprise. Callan v. Balka, 248 Neb. 469, 536 N.W.2d 47 (1995). "It is designed to prohibit the state from acting as a surety or guarantor of the debt of another." Haman v. Marsh, 237 Neb. 699, 718, 467 N.W.2d 836, 850 (1991). It applies to the State and all of its political subdivisions. State ex rel. Beck v. City of York, 164 Neb. 223, 82 N.W.2d 269 (1957).

The Nebraska Supreme Court has established a three-part test for determining whether an expenditure violates art. XIII, § 3 of the Nebraska Constitution. To establish a violation of that constitutional provision, it must be shown that (1) the credit of the state (2) is given or loaned (3) in aid of any individual, association, or corporation. Callan, 248 Neb. at 476, 536 N.W.2d at 51; Haman, 237 Neb. at 719, 467 N.W.2d at 850. In that context, there is a distinction between the loaning of state funds and the loaning of the state's credit. The loan of state funds places the state in the position of a creditor, and the loan of state's credit places the state in the position of debtor. Callan, 248 Neb. at 476, 536 N.W.2d at 51; Haman, 237 Neb. at 719, 720, 467 N.W.2d at 850. In addition, the prohibition against the pledge of the state's credit does not hinge upon whether the expenditure at issue achieves a "public purpose" when the pledge benefits a private individual, association or corporation. Haman, 237 Neb. at 722, 467 N.W.2d at 852. Instead, the key focus of art. XIII, § 3 is whether the state stands as a creditor through the expenditure of its funds, or as a debtor by the extension of credit in the interest of private parties. Callan, 248 Neb. at 479, 536 N.W.2d at 53; Haman, 237 Neb. at 722, 718, 467 N.W.2d at 852. (1991).

In the present instance, we understand that the focus of your inquiry is the REDLG "pass-through" loan program, whereby the Rural Utilities Service of USDA (RUS) would make a zero-interest loan to a public power district in Nebraska for rural economic development purposes. That power district would then, in turn, make a zero-interest loan of the funds from RUS to another entity that would ultimately own or undertake a private development project using the proceeds of the loan. Under such a scenario, RUS could require the public power district, as borrower, to provide it with an irrevocable letter of credit or other guarantee satisfactory to RUS that the loan would be repaid. 7 CFR, Subpart B, § 1703.29 (d). With respect to your first question to us, you wish to know, in essence, if removing the letter of credit requirement or other guarantee by the power district from the zero-interest loan process would cure any potential problems with that process under art. XIII, § 3. For the reasons discussed below, we do not believe that removing the letter of credit requirement would bring about the cure which you seek.

As noted above, the initial element of the test for a proposal under art. XIII, § 3 requires a determination as to whether the proposal involves lending the credit of the state. In regard to that determination, the key issue is whether the state or the governmental subdivision involved stands as a creditor in the process through the expenditure of its funds, or as a debtor in the process by the extension of credit in the interest of private parties. One aspect of the REDLG pass-through loan program would involve a loan from a public power district to another entity that would ultimately own or undertake a private development project using the proceeds of that loan. The power district would stand as a creditor in that transaction, since it would loan funds to the private entity. As a result, that portion of the program does not appear to involve lending the credit of the state.

On the other hand, the pass-through loan program, as outlined in your initial question, requires the public power district to borrow funds from RUS in order to loan those funds to the private entity. That loan from RUS to the power district would necessitate a letter of agreement and any additional legal documentation from the power district which RUS deemed appropriate, including loan agreements, promissory notes, security instruments, certifications or legal opinions. 7 CFR, Subpart B, § 1703.59 (a). In addition, the repayment terms of the loan from RUS to the public power district would have to equal the terms of the loan from the power district to the private borrower, and the power district would be required to make payments on the zero-interest loan in accordance with the legal documents executed by the power district. 7 CFR, Subpart B, §§ 1703.29 (a) and 1703.61 (a). Presumably, the power district would also have to pay back its zero interest loan to RUS even if the private pass-through borrower defaulted in its duty to make payments to the power district.<sup>2</sup>

<sup>2</sup> 7 CFR, Subpart B, § 1703.29 (c) does provide that ". . . the borrower [power district] will be required to repay the RUS zero-interest loan in full at such time as a pass-through-loan has been fully repaid to the borrower" (emphasis added), and that provision could be read obviate the public power district's obligation to pay back its loan until the power district was repaid by the private borrower. However, § 1703.29 (c) appears to go more to the time for repayment of a pass-through loan than to the power district's ultimate obligation to pay, and we assume, in light of additional CFR provisions for promissory notes and other security instruments from power districts participating in pass-through loans, that § 1703.29 (c) does not evidence any intent from RUS to totally forgive a power district of its obligation to repay a zero-interest loan in the event that a private pass-through borrower defaults.

It appears to us that the second aspect of the pass-through loan program, where the public power district borrows money from RUS and then must repay that loan, implicates the credit of the state. In that latter situation, the power district stands as a debtor through the extension of its credit, rather than as a creditor through the loan of public funds. Consequently, the pass-through loan portion of the REDLG program meets the first element of an unconstitutional extension of credit under art. XIII, § 3.

Our conclusion with respect to the initial element of the test for constitutionality under art. XIII, § 3 is supported by the circumstances and holding in State ex rel. Beck v. City of York, 164 Neb. 223, 82 N.W.2d 269 (1957). The proposal at issue in that case under art. XIII, § 3 involved an agreement whereby the City Council of York, Nebraska, entered into a contract with a private cold storage and packing company to purchase certain industrial buildings by issuing revenue bonds. After purchase of the industrial buildings, the city agreed to lease them back to the private company, and the revenue bonds were to be payable out of revenues derived from the lease. As a result, as is the case in the present instance, the city proposed to go into debt and then use the proceeds from the revenue bonds creating that debt in aid of a private corporation. In addition, the city proposed the use of revenues generated from the private corporation as a means to pay off its debt under the revenue bonds. The Nebraska Supreme Court held that the proposal by the City of York violated art. XIII, § 3, and stated:

It is true that the revenue bonds are not a general liability of the city and they are not subject to payment through the exercise of the taxing power. But they do cast burdens upon the city with reference to their issuance and payment. The city and its officers are charged with the duty of fixing and collecting the rentals from which the revenue bonds are to be paid. . . . The issuance of the bonds in the name of the city for the payment of the cost of the project evidences the fact that the credit of the city has been extended. The city is the payer of the bonds and it is primarily liable for their payment. The bonds become the obligations of the city. The fact that the means of payment is limited does not make it any less so. A failure of payment is a default by the city. The constitutional prohibition does not infer that the credit of the state or its political subdivisions may be given or loaned except when a general liability exists. The prohibition clearly provides that the credit of the State may not be given or loaned to an individual, association, or corporation under any circumstances. When the State or a political subdivision thereof becomes a payer of a revenue bond or any other evidence of indebtedness which is to be used in the accomplishment of a private as distinguished from a public purpose, the credit of the State has been given or loaned contrary to Article XIII, section 3, of the Constitution. . . . The use of the city as the payer of the bonds is intended to give respectability to them because of the general acceptability of cities as a source of bond issues in financial markets. It is a loan of the credit of the city within the meaning of the constitutional prohibition.

The second element of the test for the constitutionality of a proposal under art. XIII, § 3 involves a determination as to whether the state's credit has been "given or loaned" in connection with that proposal. In that regard, the state's credit has been "given or loaned" unless the state has received valuable consideration for the extension of its credit. Haman, 237 Neb. at 722, 467 N.W.2d at 851. In the present instance, we are not aware of any valuable consideration which would be paid by a private entity to a public power district for a pass-through loan under the REDLG program.<sup>3</sup> Indeed, a power district may not charge interest for the use of the proceeds of a zero-interest loan provided to a private entity under the terms of the REDLG program. 7 CFR, Subpart B, § 1703.21 (a). As a result, it appears to us the pass-through loan portion of the REDLG program involves giving or loaning the credit of the state.

Finally, art. XIII, § 13 of the Nebraska Constitution prohibits giving or loaning the credit of the state "in aid of any individual, association, or corporation." From your opinion request letter, we understand that the "pass-through" loan process by a public power district in Nebraska under the REDLG program would involve the district's loan of the funds which it received from RUS to "another entity that will own or undertake a private development project using the proceeds of the loan." We believe that such a loan would clearly be "in aid of any individual, association or corporation" under the terms of art. XIII, § 13, and therefore meets the final element of the test for unconstitutionality set out above.

For the reasons discussed in the preceding paragraphs, it is our view that a zero-interest loan for economic development under the REDLG pass-through loan program would involve a violation of art. XIII, § 3 of the Nebraska Constitution, even if the public power district participating in the loan program did not provide an irrevocable letter of credit or other specific guarantee to RUS. Moreover, that result would hold true even if the expenditure at issue achieved a "public purpose." Haman, 237 Neb. at 722, 467 N.W.2d at 852. Therefore, we believe an amendment to art. XIII, § 3 of the Nebraska Constitution is necessary, should you wish to make such zero-interest loans permissible under applicable state law.

Question No. 2. Would further legislative declaration of the public purpose of such loans in addition to the findings and statements in sec. 70-625.01 assist in allowing such funds to be made available through public power districts?

As discussed above, we believe that a zero-interest loan by a public power district to a private entity under the REDLG pass-through loan program would involve an impermissible extension of the credit of the state under art. XIII, § 3 of the Nebraska Constitution. Under those circumstances, it does not matter if the loan to the private entity achieved a public purpose. As stated in the Haman case:

The prohibition against the pledge of the state's credit does not hinge on whether the legislation achieves a "public purpose," when the pledge benefits a private individual, association, or corporation. The key is whether the state stands as a creditor through the expenditure of public funds or as a debtor by the extension of the state's credit to private corporations, associations, or individuals. The state is not empowered to become a surety or guarantor of another's debts.

237 Neb. at 722, 467 N.W.2d at 852 (emphasis added) (citations omitted). Nevertheless, assuming for purposes of discussion that the zero-interest loan program at issue did pass muster under art. XIII, § 3, it would still have to be acceptable under the closely related principle of law that public funds cannot be expended for private purposes. Haman, 237 Neb. at 721, 722, 467 N.W.2d at 851. With respect to that determination, there is no hard and fast rule for ascertaining whether a proposed expenditure of public funds is for a public purpose. The Nebraska Supreme Court has indicated that "[a] public purpose has for its objective the promotion of the public health, safety, morals, security, prosperity, contentment, and the general welfare of all the inhabitants." Platte Valley Public Power & Irrigation District v. County of Lincoln, 144 Neb. 584, 589, 14 N.W.2d 202, 205 (1944). The court has also indicated that it is for the Legislature to determine in the first instance what is and what is not a public purpose. State ex rel. Douglas v. Thone, 204 Neb. 836, 286 N.W.2d 249 (1979). Since the Legislature's findings regarding the public purpose for an expenditure of public funds are, therefore, of significance, further legislative declaration regarding the public purpose for zero-interest loans under the REDLG program in addition to the findings and statements in § 70-625.01 might well assist in establishing a public purpose for those loans. However, that additional legislative declaration of public purpose will not cure the problems with those loans under art. XIII, § 3.

Sincerely yours,

WHEREAS, the Legislature created a Redistricting Advisory Task Force to study the redistricting process and suggest guidelines for the Legislature in undertaking its responsibilities in redistricting; and

WHEREAS, the Redistricting Advisory Task Force adopted proposed substantive guidelines for consideration by the Legislature.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

That the following criteria are adopted to guide the Legislature during the 2001 redistricting process. The criteria are designed to help ensure that the redistricting plans developed are constitutionally acceptable:

1. In the event that two sets of population data (adjusted and unadjusted) are released by the Census Bureau, the Legislature will utilize, for purposes of redistricting, the data determined by the Census Bureau to most accurately reflect the number of persons residing in the state.

2. District boundaries established by the Legislature during the 2001 redistricting process shall be based on census geography.

3. District boundaries shall follow county lines whenever practicable and shall define districts that are compact and contiguous as these terms have been articulated by the United States Supreme Court. Should adherence to county lines cause a redistricting plan, or any aspect thereof, to be in violation of principles set forth by the United States Supreme Court in interpreting the United States Constitution, that requirement may be waived to the extent necessary to bring the plan or aspect of the plan into compliance with these principles.

4. Insofar as possible, and within the context of principles set forth by the United States Supreme Court, district boundaries shall define districts that are easily identifiable and understandable to voters and that preserve the cores of prior districts. When feasible, district boundary lines shall coincide with the boundaries of cities and villages. If a county, city, or village must be divided, the division shall be made along clearly recognizable boundaries, as described by census geography.

5. District boundaries shall not be established with the intention of favoring a political party or any other group or person.

6. In drawing district boundaries, no consideration shall be given to the political affiliations of registered voters, demographic information other than population figures, or the results of previous elections, except as may be required by the laws and Constitution of the United States.

7. District boundaries which would result in the unlawful dilution of the voting strength of any minority population shall not be established.

8. The general goal of the redistricting process shall be the creation of districts that are substantially equal in population. The specific criteria under which redistricting plans shall be judged with regard to the issue of population equality are described in Guideline 9.

9. The following criteria shall be specifically applicable to the public bodies for which the Legislature will create new district boundaries in 2001:

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

(a) Three single member districts.

(b) Population among districts shall be as nearly equal as practicable, that is, with an overall range of deviation at or approaching 0%.

(c) No plan will be considered which results in an overall range of deviation in excess of 1% or a relative deviation in excess of plus or minus 0.5%, based on the ideal district population. Any deviation from absolute equality of population must be necessary to the achievement of a "legitimate state objective" as that concept has been articulated by the United States Supreme Court. To the extent that such objectives are relied on, they shall be applied consistently, and shall include, but not be limited to, the creation of compact districts, the preservation of municipal boundaries, and the preservation of the cores of prior districts. Whenever there is presented to the Legislature more than one plan that will substantially vindicate the above objectives, preference will be given to the plan that provides the greatest degree of population equality.

LEGISLATURE

(a) Forty-nine single member districts.

(b) In establishing new legislative district boundaries, the Legislature shall create districts that are as nearly equal in population as may be. No plan will be considered which results in an overall range of deviation in excess of 10% or a relative deviation in excess of plus or minus 5%, based on the ideal district population.

(c) Any deviation in excess of the above must be justifiable as necessary for the realization of a "rational state policy" as that concept has been articulated by the United States Supreme Court.

(d) If the population of any county falls within the relative deviation set forth in these guidelines, the boundaries of that county shall define a legislative district.

NEBRASKA SUPREME COURT

(a) Six single member districts.

(b) Equality of population shall be achieved in accordance with the standards established above for redistricting the Legislature.

BOARD OF REGENTS

(a) Eight single member districts.

(b) Equality of population shall be achieved in accordance with the standards established above for redistricting the Legislature.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

(a) Five single member districts.

(b) Equality of population shall be achieved in accordance with the standards established above for redistricting the Legislature.

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

(a) Eight single member districts.

(b) Equality of population shall be achieved in accordance with the standards established above for redistricting the Legislature.

Laid over.

MOTION - Escort Governor

Senator Redfield moved that a committee of five be appointed to escort the Governor of the State of Nebraska to the Legislative Chamber to deliver his State of the State and Budget Address.

The motion prevailed.

The Chair appointed Senators Bourne, Burling, Suttle, Stuhr, and Baker to serve on said committee.

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS

Lieutenant Governor Maurstad, Speaker Kristensen, Members of the Legislature, distinguished guests, friends, and fellow Nebraskans:

I am pleased to report that the state of our State is strong.

Our unemployment rate continues to be one of the lowest in the nation, our funding for education is among the best in the country, our population growth is exceeding expectations and our State continues to be a safe place for families. But there are some areas of concern – low commodity prices continue to negatively impact the agricultural economy while our nation as a whole is witnessing increasing signs of an economic slowdown. We should be optimistic yet cautious as we work together to build on our work of the last two years and the work of our predecessors.

For two years I have sought to advance five priorities with the objectives of improving our way of life and leaving Nebraska a better place than when I took office. Working together, we have made progress in providing property tax relief, limiting the scope of government in people's lives, building a prosperous economy for all 93 counties, protecting our families and communities from crime, and ensuring the health, safety, and success of our children.

This year I am proposing a budget and legislative package that builds on our success in these five areas.

Keeping true to my pledge of providing direct property tax relief, I am asking the Legislature to approve $60 million dollars over the next two years for property tax relief through the State's community colleges. We have funded this method of providing direct property tax relief in each of the last two years. It has been successful and we should continue this effort.

In the area of less and more effective government, I urge the Legislature to approve legislation authorizing voluntary city-county mergers. This tool should be made available for those cities and counties where it makes sense and where voters approve the plan. It is time for us to follow up on the constitutional authorization given to us by voters in November 1998.

A top priority of my administration is to bridge the divide between our State's two economies – the prosperous urban economy of twenty to thirty counties and the struggling rural economy of sixty to seventy counties. Over the last two years we have worked hard to boost the rural economy by promoting value-added agriculture, providing incentives for rural job creation, and creating a grant program targeted to entrepreneurship in rural Nebraska. This session I am supporting a balanced package of economic development initiatives.

First, I propose creation of a program that will match Nebraska entrepreneurs with Nebraska investors, keeping both risk-taking entrepreneurs and capital investment within our State's borders. Second, we should continue funding the Affordable Housing Trust Fund which is helping to address the need for adequate and affordable housing in communities all across Nebraska – especially in our rural areas. Third, I support the Riverfront Development and Antelope Valley proposals that together will enhance the State's economy for years into the future. And finally, I support reauthorization of the Quality Jobs Act to encourage the creation of high quality, above average paying jobs across Nebraska.

I want to thank Senators Landis, Smith, Beutler, Quandahl, and Kristensen for their leadership and commitment to these economic development proposals.

In the area of ensuring public safety, adequate funding and support for the State Patrol has been a high priority for my administration. In this budget, I propose the addition of eight new troopers, additional funding for six investigators, and state funding to replace lost federal funding for twenty-two civilian support personnel. I also propose funding for the Criminal Justice Information System and funding to begin implementation of the statewide wireless communications system. A uniform, reliable wireless system for law enforcement is a top priority to bolster the effectiveness of law enforcement which ensures public safety. I thank Senator Tyson for his good work in this area.

I am also seeking the support of this Legislature to assign troopers to the carrier division and allow current Carrier Enforcement Officers to transfer to the trooper rank while remaining in the Carrier Enforcement Division. Last year, nearly one-third of carrier enforcement officers left the division for jobs as troopers. Unfortunately, this has been a growing trend for several years.

This turnover creates serious concerns about public safety on Nebraska's roads and highways. By allowing carrier enforcement officers to transfer to trooper and remain in the carrier division, we can address retention issues and the resulting public safety concerns. It is my hope that some, if not all, of the concerns about this legislation in the last session have been resolved.

In my view, this significant public safety issue must be addressed and I thank Senator Bromm for sponsoring this initiative.

I am also submitting for your consideration and approval a substantial juvenile justice reform plan. For many years state policymakers have struggled to come to a consensus on how to proceed with much needed changes and improvements in our juvenile justice system.

This year I propose the enactment of a "gatekeeper" structure to coordinate juveniles' entry into the State system. Second, I ask you to fund an initiative that will expand the array of services available within the State juvenile system. This measure will alleviate overcrowding at the YRTC's by doubling the number of substance abuse treatment beds for juveniles and allow the development of mental health programming and aftercare services. Third, I propose the creation of a new aid formula to provide funds directly to counties for development of community-based programs for juvenile delinquents. Fourth, my budget includes funding to replace expired federal grant dollars so that current substance abuse treatment programs at both Kearney and Geneva can be sustained. Finally, I have proposed the transfer of an existing Department of Correctional Services facility to the Office of Juvenile Services for use as both a Level 5 secure youth treatment facility and as a site for development of a sex offender treatment program.

This is a comprehensive juvenile justice reform package that addresses priority needs. I look forward to working with Senators Brashear, Jensen, Thompson, Brown, Aguilar, and Dwite Pedersen and other members of this Legislature to advance juvenile justice reform this session.

I also ask this body to make a bold commitment to honor the life of the unborn. I, like many in our state, was saddened by the U.S. Supreme Court decision striking down Nebraska's law banning partial-birth abortion. My review of this decision tells me that until there is a change on the Court, there is no meaningful hope of ending this barbaric practice.

However, we are not powerless in this area, I ask you to strengthen parental notification by sending legislation introduced by Senator Quandahl to my desk for signature. And in every way possible, I ask you to help me promote adoption as an alternative to abortion. In addition, I repeat my commitment to sign into law a ban on the use of fetal cells in research that are derived from elective abortion. I also ask you to pass fetal homicide legislation for my signature as other states have done.

My budget also proposes a historic investment in education stretching from early childhood through post-secondary training.

We begin with an enhanced commitment to the health, safety, and success of our children.

I believe that a coordinated approach to the issues of early childhood development will lead to greater potential for success for all Nebraska children. That's why a year ago I created the Early Childhood Interagency Team lead by Lt. Governor Maurstad. The Team recently released a report detailing their work to date. I have endorsed several of their recommendations including their proposal to expand the Department of Education's successful Early Childhood Projects. My budget dedicates over $3 million dollars over the biennium to accomplish this objective and other recommendations.

The collaboration between Health and Human Services and the Department of Education on early childhood issues has been productive and I am asking that they continue their good work.

Some of our State's greatest assets are public and private institutions of higher learning. It's often in higher education that our young people prepare themselves to realize dreams for their future and create our State's future. Therefore, I am pleased to make a historic commitment to higher education with the budget I submit today.

For several months the University of Nebraska leadership has made the case that they need greater resources to reach competitive status with peer institutions. To its credit, the University has undertaken critical reviews and the reallocation of resources over the last few years. That effort continues and I support the University in its task of setting priorities that will result in a more focused mission and a higher level of excellence.

The investment I propose for the University and the State Colleges is aggressive. My budget provides an increase of over $26.6 million additional dollars in the first year of the budget with another $29.4 million added in the second year of the budget. At the same time, I challenge higher education in Nebraska, including the University, State Colleges, and Community Colleges, in three key areas:

- first, to encourage and actively recruit every Nebraska high school graduate to stay in Nebraska for his or her college education;
- second, to promote diversity among students and staff in higher education by actively recruiting students not only from across the United States but from around the world; and
- third, to promote collaboration, cooperation, and innovative partnerships which will ensure unparalleled educational opportunities for our students.

In addition, I applaud Senator Kristensen for continuing to lead the discussion about reorganizing higher education governance in our State. This body will have my cooperation and support in moving this debate forward.

My proposal for increased investment in higher education extends to an initiative I support to significantly bolster world-class medical research at the University of Nebraska Medical Center, Creighton University, Boys Town Research Hospital, and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. If you visit these facilities, you will be enormously impressed by the cutting edge research that is currently underway. We have a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to dramatically advance medical research by committing additional resources to these efforts.

Together, we should formulate a rational approach for utilizing the proceeds from the tobacco settlement. I propose that a major endowment be dedicated to biomedical research at these facilities while leaving the majority of the tobacco funds for significant public health needs.

We are so close to solving once and for all the riddles of many diseases with this research. These funds can offer a new day and a new life for Nebraskans and people around the world.

In addition to this research, there are many needs to be funded with the remaining portion of the tobacco settlement. You know as I do that there are many health care needs in Nebraska that are not being met. I would submit, however, that there is no, and I repeat, no greater priority for funding than in the area of mental health.

I have met families from across the State with heartbreaking stories of loved ones who have no services, no hope, and no future. Their issues are very real to me.

To the many families throughout our State who long ago gave up hope, our prayers are with you. Most importantly, I want them to know help is on the way.

Therefore, I propose we significantly boost funding for mental health. First, let's agree to make mental health funding the highest priority with the remaining tobacco settlement dollars. Specifically, I propose dedicating $6 million in tobacco settlement funds for mental health over the biennium.

Second, let's join together to increase general fund support for mental health. Including the tobacco settlement funds, I propose increasing mental health aid from $28.5 million in the current fiscal year to $33.6 million dollars in fiscal year 2002 and to $38.7 million dollars in fiscal year 2003. This represents a more than 35% increase over the biennium.

I recognize that even more needs to be done and so I pledge to do what I can to help Senator Jensen and the Health and Human Services Committee and Senator Wehrbein and the Appropriations Committee to identify mental health needs, prioritize them, and fund them. Maybe we can do more than what I propose today.

Altogether, I am submitting a biennial budget with a two-year average growth rate of 7.4 percent. It's a rate of growth that I am not comfortable with. I wish it were lower.

There are three items in my budget recommendations that influence this calculated rate of growth: financing the operational costs for a new prison at Tecumseh, continuing the $30 million dollar increase in community college aid for direct property tax relief, and providing State funding to school districts when the maximum property tax levy is reduced to $1.

Without these three items, the first year increase would be 3.2 percent and the two-year average growth rate would be 4.7 percent.

Medicaid, property tax relief, and education funding are high priorities for our State. They are not inexpensive to finance and they are driving spending growth in this budget.

Consider that total State spending on K-through-12 education, including special education, will grow from $708.7 million dollars in this current fiscal year to $807.9 million dollars next year and to $846.9 million dollars the following year. Any way you look at it, this is a tremendous amount of money – a tremendous amount of State sales and State income tax dollars are being distributed to local school districts.

As I said earlier, no legislative session is entirely new – we build upon the choices of our predecessors. This legislative session is no exception. In 1996, the Legislature adopted, and the Governor approved, proposals in the areas of property tax relief and State funding for K-through-12 education and a very deliberate, conscious decision was made to set K-through-12 funding above all other State priorities. Education has always been a priority for funding. The facts demonstrate our commitment.

Nebraska ranks 12th nationally in pupil-teacher ratio – we have more teachers per student than 38 other states.

Nebraska ranks 10th per capita in state and local government expenditures for education – educating kids is a higher budget priority per person in Nebraska for state and local government combined spending than in 40 other states.

Nebraska ranks 9th per capita in local government expenditures for elementary and secondary education – educating kids is a higher spending priority at the local level in Nebraska than in 41 other states.

And Nebraska ranks 3rd – I repeat 3rd - nationally in expenditures for education as a percent of all state and local government expenditures. We rank higher than 47 other states.

Ladies and gentlemen, the dollars we are committing to K-through-12 education this year will redefine these rankings.

Today I submit a budget to you that increases our State investment in K-through-12 education to a level greater than at any point in our state's history. Although I disagree with the auto-pilot nature of the State aid formula that was enacted over my veto in 1999, I can tell you that my budget honors and fully funds the cost of the $1.10 to $1.00 levy drop on an aggregate basis. My budget increases TEEOSA funding by 21.7% over the course of the biennium. Further, I have increased funding for special education by $14.3 million dollars over the biennium to assist our local school districts in meeting this rising cost.

Last session I signed legislation boosting the allowable growth rate for the State's share of special education costs. Also last year, Lt. Governor Maurstad successfully worked with our congressional delegation to move the federal government closer to fulfilling their commitment to fund a larger share of the cost of special education. I want to recognize our congressional delegation for their commitment to increased special education funding. The federal government has a long way to go in this regard, but I am optimistic that progress will continue.

With a dramatically increased State investment in K-through-12 education, it's only natural that we expect a return on our investment. We expect our young people to be prepared to pursue their dreams.

Over the last two years, and working with Commissioner Christensen and the State Board of Education, we have advanced a progressive agenda of excellence in education. From accountability, to safety, to standards, we are moving in the right direction. However, one area that remains to be addressed is school discipline. This session I urge you take up and pass legislation that gives teachers the ability to keep control of their classrooms and foster a healthy learning environment.

As State policymakers we walk a fine line when it comes to K-through-12 education. Over time it has become a part of who we are as a State not only to demand local decision-making in K-through-12 education, but to also fight back any state or federal infringement on this philosophy. We've attempted to honor that important value over the last ten years even as the State moved from funding 25% of the cost of K-through-12 education to funding about 50% of the cost today.

In building the K-through-12 funding formula, local decision-making was honored in many ways and the money has been distributed with few strings attached. Over the next two years, over $200 million in new money will flow to K-through-12 districts. Locally elected school boards will decide how best to spend this money based upon their own districts' priorities.

Now, we are being asked to depart from this practice in some form or fashion to address teacher salaries. An issue that historically has been handled at the local level, district by district, has been carried to the door of the Capitol.

First, I want to thank the Teacher Salary Task Force for their effort to develop recommendations on this issue. We have a much better understanding of the complexities of this issue today than a year ago because of their work.

Today I am announcing my support for some of the Task Force recommendations.

I commit funding for two programs that will help attract students into the teaching profession and improve the quality of teachers in the State of Nebraska. The Attracting Excellence to Teaching Program will provide loans to teacher education students who agree to teach in Nebraska public or private schools. Borrowers will be eligible to have loan repayment forgiven for each year they teach in Nebraska. The Master Teacher Program will provide an annual financial incentive for public and private school teachers who achieve rigorous national certification. Also, I want to thank Senator Redfield for introducing legislation at my request to adopt the mentoring program supported by the Task Force to assist teachers entering the profession.

However, the one-size fits all across-the-board bonus plan suggested by the Task Force is not a workable solution. Their work shows that teacher salaries are above the national average in some areas of our State while in other areas they are not.

This is a complex issue because there are 563 school districts in our state that have been historically free to negotiate and set their own teacher compensation packages. The system has evolved to include endless differences in pay plans and benefit plans. But that's reflective of local control and local decision-making.

Allow me to briefly point out a few significant issues that make this point.

First, benefit packages do matter in evaluating and comparing compensation. Some districts have far superior packages for teachers than other districts. Second, while the pay for teachers in some school districts is well below the national average, pay in other districts is at or above the national average. And third, some districts have the financial capacity to pay teachers more but have chosen not to do so while other districts do not have the financial capacity.

So let's roll up our sleeves and work in this legislative session to address this issue. I suggest these guiding parameters for discussion:

- One size fits all is not the solution;
- Any solution must respect local decision-making;
- Cooperation must exist between local and state government;
- Equalization between districts is an important goal that should not be abandoned;
- The solution must fit within our current resources – I will not support a tax increase; and
- Where possible, within constitutional parameters, private school teachers should be able to participate in any state level programs.

Further, I suggest that the creation of any plan be guided by the principles laid out by the highly respected Milken Family Foundation through their Teacher Advancement Program.

The main tenets of that program are:

- 1.) teachers deserve opportunities to advance in their profession, and should be rewarded for their efforts;
- 2.) compensation should be market-driven and provide flexibility to reward performance;
- 3.) there must be performance-based accountability in hiring, and advancement decisions should be based on performance reviews;
- 4.) there must be continuous professional development; and,
- 5.) we must act to expand the supply of high quality teachers.

These are the components for a workable solution that I can support and, most importantly, that will truly address the challenge at hand.

The debate should not be about how much money we are spending on education or how much more we should spend. The fact is 52% of the state budget is dedicated to education.

The debate must be about performance, accountability, and standards. The debate must be about raising the bar.

I look forward to working with Senator Raikes, all members of this Legislature, and the many stakeholders on this issue. My door is always open. Let the dialogue begin.

In closing, I know you join me in recognizing that serving and governing is really about priorities. As I've traveled across our State and listened to Nebraskans, it is clear that property tax relief and educating our children continue to top the list of priorities.

Let's meet those priorities by providing effective, direct property tax relief with an additional $60 million dollars through community colleges. And let's affirm our commitment to our children's future by enhancing early childhood development programs, increasing State aid to K-through-12 education by $182 million dollars over the next two years, and by making an additional investment in higher education.

It's an agenda that provides tax relief today and sows seeds for our future.

Thank you, God bless you, and God bless Nebraska.

The Committee escorted Governor Mike Johanns from the Chamber.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion #01001

DATE:                    January 10, 2001

SUBJECT:                Proposed Legislation Exempting Insurance Providers
                              From the Conditions of Disclosure Requirements
                              Prescribed by Neb. Rev. Stat. § 60-2909

REQUESTED BY:        Senator Carol Hudkins

WRITTEN BY:            Don Stenberg, Attorney General
                              Jodi M. Fenner, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested an opinion from this office regarding proposed legislation which would exempt insurance providers from the conditions for disclosure requirements prescribed by Neb. Rev. Stat. § 60-2909. Our response to your inquiry is set forth below.

I. ISSUE TO BE ADDRESSED BY PROPOSED LEGISLATION

The proposed legislation was drafted in response to concerns from the insurance industry regarding increased cost and decreased availability of motor vehicle records for underwriting purposes. Historically, insurance providers were able to get relevant personal information from motor vehicle records for underwriting purposes from the Department of Motor Vehicles over the telephone. This information was provided in a timely manner and free of charge. Due to the enactment of the Driver's Privacy Protection Act and its amendments, Nebraska law was recently changed to require strict regulation of the release of such information. Now insurance providers must either submit a written request for such information or pay a fee to access this information on the Internet. This has imposed a hardship upon the insurance industry by increasing the time and cost involved in obtaining such information for their customers. Therefore, the proposed legislation was drafted to allow insurance providers access to personal information from motor vehicle records in a more timely and cost efficient manner.

II. PROPOSED LEGISLATION

The proposed legislation would amend the Uniform Motor Vehicle Records Disclosure Act as follows:

60-2909 Conditions for Disclosure. In addition to provisions for payment of applicable fees, the department may, prior to the disclosure of personal information as permitted under section 60-2906 or 60-2907, require the meeting of conditions by the requester for the purposes of obtaining reasonable assurance concerning the identity of the requester and, to the extent required, that the information will only be used as authorized or that the consent of the person who is the subject of the information has been obtained. Except for requests made pursuant to section 60-2907(6), such conditions shall include, but need not be limited to, the making and filing of a form containing such information and verification as the department may prescribe.

III. THE DRIVER'S PRIVACY PROTECTION ACT

The Driver's Privacy Protection Act of 1994 ("DPPA") established a regulatory scheme that restricts a state's ability to disclose personal information about any individual obtained in connection with a motor vehicle record without the individual's consent.<sup>1</sup> The DPPA originally provided that a state could obtain an individual's consent on a case-by-case basis, or it could imply consent if the state provided drivers with an opportunity to block disclosure of personal information when they received or renewed their licenses and drivers failed to avail themselves of that opportunity. 18 U.S.C. § 2721 (b)(11), (13), and (d) (1996). However, Congress amended the DPPA in 1999 to eliminate this "opt-out" alternative. Therefore, except for the permissible uses detailed in 18 U.S.C. § 2721(b), states are now required to obtain an individual's affirmative consent prior to disclosing their personal information from motor vehicle records.

<sup>1</sup> A state that maintains a "policy or practice of substantial noncompliance" with the DPPA may be subject to a civil penalty by the United States Attorney General of $5,000 per day. 18 U.S.C. § 2723(b). The DPPA's 1999 amendment complicated the penalty issue, because the amendment was passed as part of an appropriations bill that appeared to condition receipt of federal highway funds upon compliance with the DPPA. However, Congress recently further amended the DPPA, again as a part of an appropriations bill, which clarifies that such federal highway funds will not be withheld due to noncompliance. See Public Law No. 106-346 (October 23, 2000). Therefore, the sole federal penalty for a state's noncompliance with the DPPA is the $5,000 per day civil penalty provided for in 18 U.S.C. § 2723(b).

The impetus for the DPPA and its subsequent amendments was to protect citizens from the unauthorized disclosure of their personal information, which they must necessarily provide to the Department of Motor Vehicles in order to obtain various driving privileges. Prior to the DPPA, it was common practice for states to disclose personal information from motor vehicle records without an individual's consent or knowledge, often for a profit. Such unauthorized disclosure had contributed to instances of criminal behavior, such as stalking and even murder. Therefore, the DPPA was adopted to combat the dangers of the unauthorized disclosure of an individual's personal information from motor vehicle records.

The United States Supreme Court has found the DPPA to be a proper exercise of Congress' authority to regulate interstate commerce. Reno v. Condon, 528 U.S. 141, 120 S.Ct. 666 (2000). The Court stated that the DPPA "does not require [states] to enact any laws or regulations, and it does not require state officials to assist in the enforcement of federal statutes regulating private individuals." Id. Instead, the DPPA merely requires that states wishing to engage in certain activity regulated by the DPPA take administrative or legislative action to comply with the federal standards regulating such activity. Id. Therefore, it is clear that the State of Nebraska must comply with the DPPA if it wishes to engage in any activities involving the release of personal information from motor vehicle records.

The supremacy clause of the United States Constitution mandates that federal law preempts any state regulation where there is an actual conflict between the two sets of legislation such that both cannot stand. U.S. Const. Art. VI, cl.2. Federal law supersedes state law to the extent that it would cause major damage to significant federal interests. Kramer v. Kramer, 252 Neb. 526, 540, 567 N.W.2d 100, 110 (1997) (citing In re Application of Burlington Northern RR. Co., 249 Neb. 821, 545 N.W.2d 749 (1996); Dowd v. First Omaha Sec. Corp., 242 Neb. 347, 495 N.W.2d 36 (1993)). When possible, a Nebraska statute will be construed to achieve the statute's purpose and preserve its validity. Callan v. Balka, 248 Neb. 469, 481, 536 N.W.2d 47, 54 (1995). Therefore, in order to be valid, Nebraska statutes regulating the release of personal information from motor vehicle records must be capable of being construed in conformity with the DPPA.

IV. UNIFORM MOTOR VEHICLE RECORDS DISCLOSURE ACT

The Nebraska Legislature has codified the Uniform Motor Vehicle Records Disclosure Act at Nebraska Revised Statutes, §§ 60-2901 to 60-2912 (1998, Cum. Supp. 2000). This act prohibits the disclosure of personal information from Nebraska's motor vehicle records, subject to permissible exceptions, in conformance with the DPPA. See Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 60-2905, 60-2907, 60-2909.01. The act provides for "the verification of identity and purpose of a requester" in § 60-2907 and § 60-2909.01 prior to disclosing information allegedly subject to a permissible exception. Furthermore, § 60-2909 states that conditions for disclosure may be required "for the purposes of obtaining reasonable assurance concerning the identity of the requester and, to the extent required, that the information will only be used as authorized or that the consent of the person who is the subject of the information has been obtained."

Pursuant to Neb. Rev. Stat. § 60-2911 the Nebraska Department of Motor Vehicles has adopted rules and regulations to carry out the Uniform Motor Vehicle Records Disclosure Act. These rules and regulations are found in Title 250, Nebraska Administrative Code, Chapter 2, and provide procedures for verifying the identity and purpose of a requestor. These procedures include the use of standardized forms and the payment of fees pursuant to Neb. Rev. Stat. § 60-2908.

THE VERIFICATION REQUIREMENT

The DPPA does not expressly require verification of the identity and purpose of a requester, but this requirement is necessarily implied by the stated standard for disclosure provided therein. The DPPA prohibits states from "knowingly" disclosing information obtained from motor vehicle records except for certain permissible uses. Whereas the original version of the DPPA allowed for a presumption that all personal information was publicly available unless otherwise requested, the 1999 amendment clarifies that all personal information is presumed to be confidential. Although the DPPA does not address liability for accidental or negligent disclosure, it clearly places the burden on the State to determine whether a request qualifies under an exception prior to disclosure. This burden is met by Nebraska's statutory requirement for verification of the identity and purpose of a requester.

VI.

THE PROPOSED LEGISLATION'S COMPLIANCE WITH THE DPPA

The proposed legislation would exempt insurance providers from the conditions for disclosure requirements prescribed by Neb. Rev. Stat. § 60-2909. However, the proposed legislation does not purport to provide an alternative method for verification of the identity and purpose of a requester as required by Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 60-2907 and 60-2909.01. Nor does the proposed legislation address the payment of fees provided for in Neb. Rev. Stat. § 60-2908.

On its face, the proposed legislation does not violate the DPPA. When possible, a statute will be construed to achieve the statute's purpose and preserve its validity. Callan, 248 Neb. at 481, 536 N.W.2d at 54 (1995). The DPPA merely prohibits states from disclosing an individual's personal information from motor vehicle records. The DPPA does not dictate any particular method for ensuring that information is not disclosed, but instead leaves that to the discretion of the individual states. A reasonable interpretation of the proposed legislation merely precludes the department from requiring insurance providers to complete a universal standardized form. The proposed legislation does not purport to affect Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 60-2907 and 60-2909.01 or the first sentence of Neb. Rev. Stat. § 60-2909, all which require verification of the identity and purpose of the requester. Therefore, on its face, the proposed legislation does not violate the DPPA by allowing unauthorized disclosure of prohibited information, but instead merely limits the methods in which the department may verify the validity of a requester's purported authority to receive such information.

If the intent of the proposed legislation is to revert back to the historical practice of allowing insurance providers to obtain personal information from motor vehicle records over the telephone without any objective verification, then it would clearly violate the DPPA. This procedure, absent verification of the identity and purpose of the requester, provides no assurance that the disclosure is within an authorized exception. Such disregard for the validity of allegedly authorized disclosure would result in substantial noncompliance with the DPPA.

If enacted, the proposed legislation will require the development of an alternative verification procedure to fulfill its stated purpose of providing the insurance industry a less expensive and timely method of obtaining information from motor vehicle records. The proposed legislation exempts insurance providers from utilizing the standardized form currently prescribed for verification purposes. Therefore, an alternative method for verifying the identity and purpose of a requester must be developed to ensure continued access to motor vehicle records for insurance providers.<sup>2</sup> However, many options for streamlining the verification process would likely involve some type of standardized form, which would be prohibited by the proposed legislation.<sup>3</sup> Therefore, it may be provident to amend the proposed legislation to address an alternative method for verification and its related implementation requirements.

<sup>3</sup>Furthermore, creating and implementing a new system for verification may involve an increased cost to the department, but the proposed legislation does not address any such funding source, nor does it exempt insurance providers from the fees provided for in Neb. Rev. Stat. § 60-2908.

Sincerely yours,

DON STENBERG

THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION, RESOLVE THAT:

Section 1. At the general election in November 2002 the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Nebraska shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval or rejection:

To add a new section 6 to Article XI, and repeal Article XI, sections 2 to 5:

XI-6 "Municipalities and counties are granted the power and authority, not inconsistent with the laws of this state, to determine their own local affairs and government. The Legislature shall determine which matters are those of statewide concern.

The Legislature may by law delegate its power so that matters of local concern are handled by municipalities and counties without the necessity of further action by the Legislature. The rule or proposition of law that a municipality or county possesses and can exercise only those powers granted in express words is not part of the law of this state."

"Article XI, sections 2 to 5, of the Constitution of Nebraska are repealed."

Sec. 2. The proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors in the manner prescribed by the Constitution of Nebraska, Article XVI, section 1, with the following ballot language:

"A constitutional amendment to authorize municipalities and counties to exercise greater powers in matters of local concern, with the Legislature to determine which matters are of statewide concern, and to eliminate home rule charters.

For Against".

Referred to the Reference Committee.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 21CA. Introduced by McDonald, 41.

THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION, RESOLVE THAT:

To amend Article IV, section 1:

IV-1 "The executive officers of the state shall be the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor of Public Accounts, State Treasurer, Attorney General, and the heads of such other executive departments as set forth herein or as may be established by law. The Legislature may provide for the placing of the above named officers as heads over such departments of government as it may by law establish. Employees of political subdivisions of the state, including employees of school districts, shall not be considered executive officers for purposes of this section.

The Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Secretary of State, Auditor of Public Accounts, and State Treasurer shall be chosen at the general election held in November 1974, and in each alternate even-numbered year thereafter, for a term of four years and until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

Each candidate for Governor shall select a person to be the candidate for Lieutenant Governor on the general election ballot. In the general election one vote shall be cast jointly for the candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor. The Governor shall be ineligible to the office of Governor for four years next after the expiration of two consecutive terms for which he or she was elected.

The records, books, and papers of all executive officers shall be kept at the seat of government. Executive officers shall reside within the State of Nebraska during their respective terms of office. Officers in the executive department of the state shall perform such duties as may be provided by law.

The heads of all executive departments established by law, other than those to be elected as provided herein, shall be appointed by the Governor, with the consent of a majority of all members elected to the Legislature, but officers so appointed may be removed by the Governor. Subject to the provisions of this Constitution, the heads of the various executive or civil departments shall have power to appoint and remove all subordinate employees in their respective departments."

6 13-519. (1) For fiscal years beginning on or after July
7 1, 1996, and before July 1, 1997, no governmental unit shall adopt 8 a budget containing a total of budgeted restricted funds more than 9 the last prior year's total of budgeted restricted funds plus
10 population growth plus two percent expressed in dollars. For 11 cities of the first and second class and villages, restricted funds
12 shall be reduced to take into account the fourteen-month fiscal 13 year for 1995-96. For fiscal years beginning on or after July 1, 14 1997, and before July 1, 1998, no governmental unit shall adopt a 15 budget containing a total of budgeted restricted funds more than 16 the last prior year's total of budgeted restricted funds plus
17 population growth expressed in dollars. For all fiscal years
18 beginning on or after July 1, 1998, no governmental unit shall 19 adopt a budget containing a total of budgeted restricted funds more
20 than the last prior year's total of budgeted restricted funds plus

21 allowable growth plus the basic allowable growth percentage of the 22 base limitation established under section 77-3446. For all fiscal 23 years beginning on or after July 1, 1998, and before July 1, 1999,
24 the last prior year's total of restricted funds shall be the last 25 prior year's total of restricted funds not excluding restricted
26 funds budgeted for acquisition or replacement of tangible personal 27 property with a useful life of five years or more in the last prior 1 year or the year before the last prior year, whichever excluded the 2 most, plus restricted funds budgeted to pay for lease-purchase
3 contracts approved on or after July 1, 1997, and before July 1,
4 1998, to the extent the lease payments are not budgeted restricted
5 funds for fiscal year 1997-98. For the second fiscal year in which 6 a county will receive a full year of receipts from the tax imposed
7 in section 1 of this act, the prior year's total of restricted
8 funds shall be the prior year's total of restricted funds plus the 9 total receipts from the tax imposed in section 1 of this act in the 10 prior year. If a governmental unit transfers the financial 11 responsibility of providing a service financed in whole or in part 12 with restricted funds to another governmental unit or the state, 13 the amount of restricted funds associated with providing the 14 service shall be subtracted from the last prior year's total of 15 budgeted restricted funds for the previous provider and may be 16 added to the last prior year's total of restricted funds for the 17 new provider. For governmental units that have consolidated, the 18 calculations made under this section for consolidating units shall 19 be made based on the combined total of restricted funds,
20 population, or full-time equivalent students of each governmental 21 unit.

22 (2) In addition to the increase allowed in subsection (1)
23 of this section, for fiscal years beginning on or after July 1, 24 1998, and before July 1, 1999, a governmental unit may increase its 25 budget of restricted funds no more than four percent to create or 26 increase an existing qualified sinking fund or funds upon the 27 affirmative vote of at least seventy-five percent of the governing
1 body. Any unused authority granted in this subsection may not be
2 carried forward under section 13-521.

3 (3) A governmental unit may exceed the limit provided in 4 subsection (1) of this section for a fiscal year by up to an
5 additional one percent upon the affirmative vote of at least 6 seventy-five percent of the governing body.

7 (4) A governmental unit may exceed the applicable
8 allowable growth percentage otherwise prescribed in this section by 9 an amount approved by a majority of legal voters voting on the 10 issue at a special election called for such purpose upon the 11 recommendation of the governing body or upon the receipt by the 12 county clerk or election commissioner of a petition requesting an 13 election signed by at least five percent of the legal voters of the 14 governmental unit. The recommendation of the governing body or the 15 petition of the legal voters shall include the amount and

16 percentage by which the governing body would increase its budgeted
 17 restricted funds for the ensuing year over and above the current 18 year's budgeted restricted funds. The county clerk or election
 19 commissioner shall call for a special election on the issue within 20 fifteen days after the receipt of such governing body
 21 recommendation or legal voter petition. The election shall be held 22 pursuant to the Election Act, and all costs shall be paid by the 23 governing body. The issue may be approved on the same question as 24 a vote to exceed the levy limits provided in section 77-3444.

25 (5) In lieu of the election procedures in subsection (4)
 26 of this section, any governmental unit may exceed the allowable
 27 growth percentage otherwise prescribed in this section by an amount
 1 approved by a majority of legal voters voting at a meeting of the 2 residents of the governmental unit, called after notice is 3 published in a newspaper of general circulation in the governmental
 4 unit at least twenty days prior to the meeting. At least ten
 5 percent of the registered voters residing in the governmental unit
 6 shall constitute a quorum for purposes of taking action to exceed 7 the allowable growth percentage. If a majority of the registered
 8 voters present at the meeting vote in favor of exceeding the 9 allowable growth percentage, a copy of the record of that action
 10 shall be forwarded to the Auditor of Public Accounts along with the 11 budget documents. The issue to exceed the allowable growth 12 percentage may be approved at the same meeting as a vote to exceed 13 the limits or final levy allocation provided in section 77-3444.
 14 Sec. 4. Original sections 13-518 and 13-519, Revised
 15 Statutes Supplement, 2000, are repealed."

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion #01004

DATE: February 13, 2001

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of Proposed Legislation - Inclusion of "Dairy Operations" as Qualified Businesses in the Rural Economic Opportunities Act

REQUESTED BY: Thomas Baker, Nebraska State Senator

William R. Barger, Assistant Attorney General

Our office has received your opinion request regarding the inclusion of "dairy operations" in the Rural Economic Opportunities Act. Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 77-5401 - 77-5414. You generally ask whether it is constitutional to include a dairy operation as a "qualified business" under the Rural Economic Opportunities Act without additionally including feedlots.

The proposed amendment to the Act, which your office sent as a rough draft, is fairly concise. The amendment changes Neb. Rev. Stat. § 77-5403(13)(a) to include "A dairy operation" as a "qualified business." The only other change the amendment makes is to delete the reference to dairy cattle in Neb. Rev. Stat. § 77-5403(13)(b), as described in this excerpt of the statute:

[ ] For purposes of this subdivision, livestock operation means the feeding or holding of beef cattle, ~~dairy cattle~~, horses, swine, sheep, poultry, or other livestock in buildings, lots, or pens;

Neb. Rev. Stat. § 77-5403(13)(b).

The proposed amendment makes no other changes to the Rural Economic Opportunities Act.

In response to your question on constitutionality, we must examine whether the proposed amendment's changes to the Rural Economic Opportunities Act would result in a violation of the equal protection clause in the Nebraska and U.S. Constitutions. Nebraska's Constitution, as a result of a recent amendment, now mirrors the relevant language of U.S. Const. art. 14, stating in relevant part: "No person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law, nor be denied equal protection of the laws." Neb. Const. art. I, § 3. Since the amendment's passage, the court has stated "The Nebraska Constitution and U.S. Constitution have identical requirements for equal protection challenges." DeCoste v. City of Wahoo, 583 N.W.2d 595, 601, 255 Neb. 266, 274 (1998). So our analysis of the proposal is the same for both the U.S. and Nebraska Constitutions.

First, does the amendment create rights and benefits for one group, "dairy operations", while not giving these same benefits to similarly situated livestock operations, such as "feedlots"? The amendment includes "dairy operation" as one of the qualified businesses described in the Rural Economic Opportunities

Act, while deleting "dairy cattle" as part of the list of livestock operations which are excluded from the Rural Economic Opportunities Act. See Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 77-5403(13)(a) & 77-5403(13)(b). Your question concerns the propriety of including dairy operations while excluding feedlots. Plaintiffs challenging such a statutory scheme would have the burden of proving they are "similarly situated" to dairy operations, so they could gain standing to challenge the amendment. DeCoste, 583 N.W.2d at 601, 255 Neb. at 274. To gain standing to challenge the statute, the litigating feedlot owners would first have to show they are "... similarly situated for the purposes of the challenged governmental action ..." to dairy cattle owners. Id. In describing the equal protection clause, the Court has stated: "... it simply keeps governmental decision makers from treating differently persons who are in all relevant respects alike." Pfizer v. Lancaster Board of Equalization, 260 Neb. 265, 273, 616 N.W.2d 326, 335 (2000). Dairy cattle, which would be part of a dairy operation, and beef cattle, which are in feedlots, are both listed as "livestock operations" in the Rural Economic Opportunities Act. Further, Nebraska's statutory scheme considers both dairy cattle and beef cattle to be "livestock". Neb. Rev. Stat. § 54-701.03 and 54-1902. Dairy cattle owners are similarly situated to other livestock operations, particularly feedlots. Next, a beef cattle producer "... must also have been treated differently than those persons to whom he is similarly situated." DeCoste, 583 N.W.2d at 601, 255 Neb. at 275. Dairy operations would be able to qualify for income tax credits for new jobs and new investments made, but beef feedlots would not qualify. This would be differential treatment of a similarly situated class.

Since dairy operations are similarly situated to other livestock operations, then "... the inquiry shifts to whether the legislation at issue can survive judicial scrutiny." State v. Atkins, 250 Neb. 315, 321, 549 N.W.2d 159, 163 (1996). Is a feedlot owner in a suspect class or a person with a fundamental right to own a feedlot? "[I]f a statute involves economic or social legislation not implicating a fundamental right or suspect class, courts will ask only whether a rational relationship exists between a legitimate state interest and the statutory means selected by the legislature to accomplish that end.... Upon a showing that such a rational relationship exists, courts will uphold the legislation." Schindler v. Department of Motor Vehicles, 256 Neb. 782, 784, 593 N.W.2d 295, 298 (1999). Feedlot owners are not in a suspect class or persons with a fundamental right under the constitutions, so the amendment is subject to the "rational basis" test, and not a higher form of scrutiny. The legislative history must show a legitimate state interest being furthered by the amendment, and must further show a rational relationship between the amendment's provisions and that state interest. "In construing a statute, a court must determine and give effect to the purpose and intent of the Legislature as ascertained from the entire language of the statute considered in its plain, ordinary, and popular sense." Stenberg v. Moore, 258 Neb. 199, 208, 602 N.W.2d 465, 472 (1999).

The Rural Economic Opportunities Act and the proposed amendment do not have language differentiating between dairy operations and feedlots. The legislative history of the Act does indicate that livestock operations are not to be included in the Rural Economic Opportunities Act. Floor Debate on LB

936, 96th Neb. Leg., 2nd. Sess. 11381-11386 (March 23, 2000). Although there is no discussion in the current Rural Economic Opportunities Act or its legislative history of an objective to classifying "dairy operations" differently, there are conceivable reasons for such a classification. Dairy operations may produce value-added foods, rather than just raw milk, which would keep more value for those products in Nebraska. Unique circumstances may exist with regard to dairy operations, which may make it more difficult to attract them to Nebraska than feedlots. To strengthen the amendment's standing under an equal protection challenge, the amendment and the Legislature's debate upon it should articulate a legitimate state interest in separately classifying dairy operations, and further articulate how the classification relates to that interest. Without such legislative intent being evident at this time, however, our office can only provide speculative justifications for a dairy operation's inclusion as a "qualified business". Under the mentioned justifications, the amendment should survive an equal protection challenge under the Nebraska and U.S. Constitutions.

In conclusion, our office has determined that a "dairy operation", which may include a dairy farm or a milk processing facility, is similarly situated to feedlots and other livestock operations. The inclusion of a dairy operation as a "qualified business" under the Rural Economic Opportunities Act results in a classification under the equal protection clauses of the Nebraska and U.S. Constitutions. Since the amendment's classification of "dairy operations" does not affect a suspect class or the fundamental rights of feedlot owners, the amendment will be analyzed to show how its tax incentives to dairy operations are rationally related to a legitimate state interest. While the proposed amendment, the Rural Economic Opportunities Act and its legislative history currently do not indicate a reason to classify dairy operations, there are likely justifications for such a classification which rationally relate to a legitimate state interest. If the Legislature's intent is clearly stated in the amendment or its legislative history, the amendment is even more likely to survive an equal protection challenge under the Nebraska or U.S. Constitutions.

15 court as provided in section 25-2706. An award of the county court
16 which is greater than the jurisdictional amount of subdivision (5)

21 other jurisdiction as hereafter provided by law.

22 Sec. 2. Section 25-2706, Reissue Revised Statutes of
23 Nebraska, is amended to read:

24 25-2706. The county court shall certify proceedings to 25 the district court of the county in which an action is pending (1)

27 that the amount in controversy in excess of fifteen thousand
1 dollars is greater than the jurisdictional amount in subdivision

3 transfer or (2) when the relief requested is exclusively within the 4 jurisdiction of the district court. The county court shall certify
5 the proceedings to the district court and file the original papers

7 with the clerk of the district court. The action shall then be 8 tried and determined by the district court as if the proceedings
9 were originally brought in such district court, except that no new 10 pleadings need be filed unless ordered by the district court.
11 If it is determined, upon adjudication, that the 12 allegations of either party to such action are asserted with the 13 intention solely of avoiding the jurisdiction of the county court,
14 the offending party shall not recover any costs in the county court
15 or the district court.

16 Sec. 3. Section 30-2488, Reissue Revised Statutes of
17 Nebraska, is amended to read:

18 30-2488. (a) As to claims presented in the manner
19 described in section 30-2486 within the time limit prescribed in 20 section 30-2485, the personal representative may mail a notice to 21 any claimant stating that the claim has been disallowed. If, after 22 allowing or disallowing a claim, the personal representative
23 changes his or her decision concerning the claim, he or she shall 24 notify the claimant. The personal representative may not change a 25 disallowance of a claim after the time for the claimant to file a 26 petition for allowance or to commence a proceeding on the claim has 27 run and the claim has been barred. Every claim which is disallowed
1 in whole or in part by the personal representative is barred so far
2 as not allowed unless the claimant files a petition for allowance
3 in the court or commences a proceeding against the personal 4 representative not later than sixty days after the mailing of the 5 notice of disallowance or partial allowance if the notice warns the 6 claimant of the impending bar. Failure of the personal 7 representative to mail notice to a claimant of action on his or her 8 claim for sixty days after the time for original presentation of 9 the claim has expired has the effect of a notice of allowance.
10 ~~(b) (1)~~ (b) (1) At any time within fourteen days of the filing
11 of a petition for allowance of a claim, ~~not in excess of fifteen~~ 12 ~~thousand dollars~~, the personal representative may transfer the 13 claim to the regular docket of the county court by filing with the 14 court a notice of transfer. The county court shall hear and 15 determine the claim in the same manner as actions originally filed
16 in the county court on the regular docket. The county court may 17 order such additional pleadings as are necessary. If the claim is 18 greater than the jurisdictional amount in subdivision (5) of 19 section 24-517 and the personal representative requests transfer of 20 the claim to the district court, upon payment by the personal 21 representative to the clerk of the district court of a docket fee

22 in the amount of the filing fee in district court, the county court 23 shall transfer the claim to the district court as provided in 24 section 25-2706. If the claim is transferred to the district
25 court, a jury trial is allowed unless waived by the parties as 26 provided under section 25-1104.

27 (2) At any time within fourteen days of the filing of a
1 petition for allowance of a claim in excess of fifteen thousand
2 dollars, the personal representative may transfer the claim to the 3 district court by filing with the county court a notice of transfer 4 and depositing with the clerk a docket fee in the amount of the 5 filing fee in district court for cases originally commenced in 6 district court. Upon the filing of a notice of transfer and the 7 deposit of the docket fee the clerk of the county court shall 8 transmit to the clerk of the district court a certified copy of the 9 notice of transfer, a certified copy of the petition for allowance
10 of the claim, and the docket fee. Upon the filing of the notice
11 and petition the district court shall have jurisdiction over the 12 proceedings on the claim. The district court may order such 13 additional pleadings as are necessary. The district court shall 14 adjudicate the claim in the manner provided in section 25-1104 as 15 to actions for the recovery of money or of specific real or 16 personal property.

17 (c) Upon the petition of the personal representative or 18 of a claimant in a proceeding for the purpose, the court may allow 19 in whole or in part any claim or claims filed with the clerk of the 20 court in due time and not barred by subsection (a) of this section.
21 Notice in this proceeding shall be given to the claimant, the 22 personal representative, and those other persons interested in the 23 estate as the court may direct by order entered at the time the 24 proceeding is commenced.

25 (d) A final judgment in a proceeding in any court against 26 a personal representative to enforce a claim against a decedent's
27 estate is an allowance of the claim.

1 (e) Unless otherwise provided in any final judgment in 2 any court entered against the personal representative, allowed
3 claims bear interest at the legal rate for the period commencing
4 sixty days after the time for original presentation of the claim
5 has expired unless based on a contract making a provision for 6 interest, in which case they bear interest in accordance with that 7 provision.

8 Sec. 4. Original sections 25-2706 and 30-2488, Reissue
9 Revised Statutes of Nebraska, and section 24-517, Revised Statutes

4 Nebraska, is amended to read:

5 46-636. The Legislature finds that the pumping of water
6 for irrigation purposes from water wells located within fifty feet
7 of the bank of a channel of any natural stream may have a direct

9 Sec. 2. Section 46-637, Revised Statutes Supplement,
10 2000, is amended to read:

11 46-637. The use of water described in section 46-636 may 14 application for a permit shall include the applicant's social 15 security number. In approving or disapproving applications for

17 account the effect that such pumping may have on the amount of 18 water in the stream and its ability to meet the requirements of 19 appropriators from the stream. This section does not apply to (1) 20 water wells located within fifty feet of the bank of a channel of 21 any natural stream which were in existence on July 1, 2000, and (2)

LEGISLATIVE BILL 435. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendment to LB 435:
AM0524

- 1 1. Strike the original sections and insert the following
- 2 new sections:
- 3 "Section 1. Sections 1 to 8 of this act shall be known

4 and may be cited as the Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection
5 Act.

6 Sec. 2. The Legislature finds that agricultural 7 production in this state is highly dependent upon businesses
8 providing inputs for agricultural producers and markets for 9 agricultural commodities which have historically located on lands
10 owned and served by railroads. It is vital to the continued
11 prosperity of agriculture that such businesses maintain reasonable 12 access to rail service and maintain reasonable terms of tenancy 13 upon land owned by railroads or their successors in interest. The 14 Legislature also finds that agribusiness leaseholders' substantial
15 investments in structures and improvements unique to their rail
16 location, as well as dependency on rail access, place them at a
17 disadvantage in negotiating lease renewals. The Legislature
18 further finds that given the substantial investment in structures
19 and improvements made by agribusiness leaseholders, it is equitable 20 that such agribusiness leaseholders have a right of first refusal
21 to purchase the land they lease, should it be offered for sale.
22 The purpose of the Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Act is 23 to establish a system for fair resolution of lease disputes that 24 may arise between railroad property owners or their successors and
1 agribusiness tenants, and to guard against unreasonable lease
2 renewal terms or unjust lease termination.

3 Sec. 3. For purposes of the Agricultural Suppliers Lease
4 Protection Act:

5 (1) Agricultural tenant means any public warehouse
6 licensee as defined in section 88-526 or any other persons
7 primarily engaged in the sale or distribution of fertilizer,
8 agricultural chemicals, or farm implements, machinery, or equipment
9 occupying railroad land owned or controlled by a railroad or its 10 grantee or successor in interest;

11 (2) Good faith means honesty in fact in the conduct of 12 the transaction concerned;

13 (3) Lease means any agreement between a railroad and a 14 tenant under the terms of which a tenant occupies the surface of 15 railroad land;

16 (4) Railroad land means any land acquired by a railroad
17 in strips for right-of-way and any parcel or tract acquired by a
18 railroad adjacent to its right-of-way to aid in the construction,
19 maintenance, and accommodation of its railway and which is occupied 20 pursuant to a lease by a tenant who owns substantial improvements
21 thereon; and

22 (5) Substantial improvements means buildings or other
23 fixtures to property that are permanent in nature and shall include 24 storage and handling facilities and equipment that are affixed to 25 real property;

26 (6) Successor in interest includes any agent, successor,
27 assignee, trustee, receiver, or other person acquiring interests or 1 rights in railroad land, including, but not limited to, the owner

2 or holder of any servient estate or right of reversion relating to
3 railroad land.

4 Sec. 4. (1) At the expiration of an existing lease, the 5 agricultural tenant shall be given the opportunity to renew the 6 lease at fair market value.

7 (2) All controversies regarding application and 8 reasonableness of lease terms and conditions or fair market value
9 arising between a railroad or its successor in interest and an 10 agricultural tenant who is the owner, lessee, or licensee of a 11 substantial improvement situated on railroad land owned or 12 controlled by the railroad or its successor in interest shall be 13 resolved by negotiation or by Department of Agriculture action.

14 (3) The parties shall first negotiate in good faith to 15 resolve any controversy. If any such controversy is not resolved
16 within sixty days after notification is given to an agricultural 17 tenant by a railroad or its successor in interest that it wishes to 18 (a) renew a lease upon new terms, (b) terminate a lease, (c) not 19 renew a lease upon the expiration of a current lease, or (d) change
20 the terms of an existing lease, then either party may file a 21 complaint with the department setting forth facts upon which such 22 grievance is based.

23 (4) The department, after reasonable notice to the 24 parties, shall hear and determine all matters in controversy and 25 make such order as the facts of the controversy warrant. With 26 respect to hearing and determination of the matters in controversy,
27 the department shall have those powers granted to it under sections
1 84-913 to 84-915.01. Any party shall have the right to appeal from 2 such order in accordance with sections 84-917 to 84-919.

3 Sec. 5. (1) If a railroad or its successor in interest
4 wishes to sell or offer to sell property leased to an agricultural 5 tenant upon which substantial improvements owned by the 6 agricultural tenant are located, then, except where the sale or 7 offer to sell is made to a purchaser which will use the property
8 for railroad operating purposes or for interim trail use under the 9 federal National Trails System Act, 16 U.S.C. 1243, as such act
10 existed on the effective date of this act, the railroad or its 11 successor in interest shall first extend to the agricultural tenant
12 a written offer to sell the railroad land to the agricultural 13 tenant at fair market value.

14 (2) The agricultural tenant shall have thirty days after 15 the written offer to give written notice of either (a) acceptance
16 of the offer to sell and of the offerer's determination of fair
17 market value or (b) acceptance of the offer to sell and rejection
18 of the offerer's determination of fair market value in which case 19 the parties shall negotiate the fair market value and, if the 20 parties cannot agree, the agricultural tenant shall have sixty days
21 after the agricultural tenant gives notice of rejection to file a 22 complaint with the Department of Agriculture seeking determination
23 of fair market value.

24 (3) The Department of Agriculture, after reasonable
25 notice to the parties, shall hear and determine the fair market
26 value of the land offered for sale and make such order as the facts
27 of the controversy warrant. In conducting its hearing, the 1 department shall have those powers granted it under the 2 Administrative Procedure Act. Any person shall have the right to 3 appeal from such order in accordance with the act.

4 (4) If the agricultural tenant fails to give timely
5 notice or to file a timely complaint under subsection (2) of this 6 section or to complete the purchase of the property within sixty 7 days after the fair market value has been accepted by the 8 agricultural tenant or determined by the department unless the 9 delay in completing the purchase is attributable to the railroad or 10 its successor in interest, then the railroad or its successor in 11 interest may sell or offer to sell the property to any purchaser, 12 and such purchaser shall not be bound by this section. If the 13 property is sold to a purchaser which will use the property for 14 railroad operating purposes or for interim trail use under the 15 federal National Trails System Act, 16 U.S.C. 1243, as such act
16 existed on the effective date of this act, then the purchaser shall 17 be bound by all of the provisions of the Agricultural Suppliers
18 Lease Protection Act.

19 Sec. 6. (1) The Department of Agriculture may employ the 20 services of a certified general real estate appraiser with an MAI
21 or an ARA designation when determination of fair market value is a
22 matter in controversy or relevant to the hearing and determination
23 of the matter in controversy.

24 (2) All costs incurred by the department hearing and 25 determining all matters in controversy pursuant to the Agricultural 26 Suppliers Lease Protection Act shall be paid equally by the 27 parties.

1 Sec. 7. The Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Act
2 shall not apply to any valid lease entered into prior to the 3 effective date of this act or any renewal or extension thereof on 4 the same terms and conditions, but the provisions of the act shall 5 apply to and govern any renewal or extension of such lease on any 6 different terms or conditions or any material modifications of any 7 such lease effected on or after the effective date of this act.

8 Sec. 8. The Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Cash
9 Fund is created. All funds collected by the Department of 10 Agriculture under the Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Act
11 shall be remitted to the State Treasurer for credit to the fund.
12 The fund shall be used by the department to aid in defraying the 13 expenses of administering the act. Any money in the fund available
14 for investment shall be invested by the state investment officer
15 pursuant to the Nebraska Capital Expansion Act and the Nebraska
16 State Funds Investment Act.

17 Sec. 9. Section 75-109, Revised Statutes Supplement,
18 2000, is amended to read:

19 75-109. (1) Except as provided in sections 19-4603,
20 86-803, and 86-808, and the Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection
21 Act, the commission shall regulate and exercise general control as 22 provided by law over all common and contract carriers engaged in 23 the transportation of freight or passengers for hire or furnishing 24 telecommunications services for hire in Nebraska intrastate
25 commerce.

26 (2) The commission is authorized to do all things
27 reasonably necessary and appropriate to implement the federal 1 Telecommunications Act of 1996, Public Law 104-104, including
2 section 252 of the act which establishes specific procedures for 3 negotiation and arbitration of interconnection agreements between 4 telecommunications companies. Interconnection agreements approved
5 by the commission pursuant to section 252 of the act may contain
6 such enforcement mechanisms and procedures that the commission
7 determines to be consistent with the establishment of fair
8 competition in Nebraska telecommunications markets. In addition,
9 the commission may administratively fine pursuant to section 75-156
10 any person who violates any enforcement mechanism or procedure
11 established pursuant to this subsection. The authority granted to 12 the commission pursuant to this subsection shall be broadly
13 construed in a manner consistent with the federal 14 Telecommunications Act of 1996.

15 Sec. 10. Original section 75-109, Revised Statutes
16 Supplement, 2000, is repealed.".

1 1. Strike original sections 2 and 6 and insert the 2 following new sections:
3 "Sec. 2. Section 54-701.02, Reissue Revised Statutes of
4 Nebraska, is amended to read:
5 54-701.02. The Legislature finds and declares that 6 animal disease control is essential to the livestock industry and 7 the health of the economy of this state. In carrying out its 8 powers and duties, the department shall evaluate activities
9 resulting from the following subdivisions to determine their 10 relevance to protecting the health of livestock and review its 11 available resources. When department funds and personnel are 12 available and such activities are determined by the department to 13 be relevant, feasible, and consistent with the purpose of Chapter
14 54, article 7, the department:
15 (1) Shall develop a statewide livestock emergency
16 response system capable of coordinating and executing a rapid 17 response to the incursion, or potential incursion, of a dangerous 18 livestock disease episode which poses a threat to the health of the

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 36. Introduced by Foley, 29.

WHEREAS, the Lincoln Evening Optimist Club presents an annual Focus on Youth Award; and

WHEREAS, school personnel are asked to identify youth who embody the Optimist Creed; and

WHEREAS, the Optimist Creed is as follows:

Promise yourself . . .

To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.

To talk health, happiness, and prosperity to every person you meet.

To make all your friends feel that there is something special in them.

To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.

To think only of the best, to work only for the best, and to expect only the best.

To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.

To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.

To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.

To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have not time to criticize others.

To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble; and

WHEREAS, the Lincoln Evening Optimist Club has awarded its 2001 Focus on Youth Award to Mary Flattery, a student at St. Peter School in Lincoln; and

WHEREAS, according to Sister Michael of St. Peter School, "Mary has spina bifida. Her parents were told she would not live, and she would have extreme birth defects. While some aspects of school are challenging, Mary's resiliency is a model for her classmates, as well as her teachers."; and

WHEREAS, Sister Michael also notes that: "Last summer, Mary had serious complications after surgery to replace the shunt to relieve pressure on her brain, resulting in temporary paralysis on one side of her body. Mary's response was, "What for?"; and

(Amendments to Standing Committee amendments, AM0499)

- 1 1. Strike sections 1, 2, and 4 and all amendments
- 2 thereto and insert the following new sections:
- 3 "Section 1. For purposes of sections 1 to 7 of this act:
- 4 (1) Dark fiber means any unused fiber optic cable through
- 5 which no light is transmitted or any installed fiber optic cable
- 6 not carrying a signal; and
- 7 (2) Fiber optic capacity means the capacity of fiber
- 8 optic cable to carry information.
- 9 Sec. 2. (1) Any agency or political subdivision of the
- 10 state may:
- 11 (a) Own dark fiber;
- 12 (b) Sell dark fiber pursuant to section 3 of this act;
- 13 (c) Lease dark fiber pursuant to section 4 of this act;
- 14 and
- 15 (d) Outfit its fiber optic cable with mechanisms
- 16 necessary to optimize and apportion its capacity and lease such
- 17 fiber optic capacity pursuant to section 4 of this act.
- 18 (2) No agency or political subdivision of the state shall
- 19 provide telecommunications services for a fee or be issued a
- 20 certificate of convenience and necessity as a telecommunications
- 21 common carrier or a permit as a telecommunications contract
- 22 carrier. Any agency or political subdivision which sells or leases
- 23 its dark fiber or leases its fiber optic capacity pursuant to
- 1 sections 1 to 7 of this act shall not be deemed to be providing
- 2 telecommunications services for a fee.

3 Sec. 4. Any agency or political subdivision of the state
4 may lease its dark fiber or fiber optic capacity if:
5 (1) The lessee is a certificated telecommunications
6 common carrier or a permitted telecommunications contract carrier
7 pursuant to section 75-604 or an internet service provider;
8 (2) The lease price and profit distribution is approved
9 by the Public Service Commission as follows:
10 (a) The commission shall not approve any lease price for 11 dark fiber which is less than the market rate for leasing such 12 fiber as determined by the commission. The market rate is the cost 13 associated with similar unbundled network elements that may be 14 available from the incumbent local exchange carrier serving the 15 same territory where the leased equipment is located. Before 16 entering into a lease, each agency or political subdivision shall 17 file a request with the commission for a competitive cost
18 comparison to determine the market rate. When conducting a 19 competitive cost comparison, the commission in its discretion may 20 use rate schedules, interconnection agreements, or other documents
21 within its regulatory oversight and may gather other market rate 22 information as deemed necessary; and
23 (b) The commission shall not approve any lease of dark 24 fiber or fiber optic capacity unless any profit earned by the 25 agency or political subdivision under the lease is remitted to the 26 Nebraska Internet Enhancement Fund. Profit earned by the agency or 27 political subdivision is the lease price less the actual cost of 1 infrastructure overbuilding. Before entering into a lease, each
2 agency or political subdivision shall file a request with the 3 commission to determine the actual cost of overbuilding its fiber
4 optic infrastructure. The method for determining such cost is 5 within the complete discretion of the commission;
6 (3) Any interconnection agreement subject to subsection
7 (2) of section 75-109 is approved by the commission; and 8 (4) The lessee or purchaser of dark fiber makes every 9 reasonable effort to equip the dark fiber with such devices that 10 maximize the amount of data that can be transmitted over the dark
11 fiber, within one year after entering into the lease, unless good 12 cause is shown. If the lessee or purchaser is unable to utilize
13 for its own purpose all the data transmission capacity of the dark 14 fiber so equipped, the lessee or purchaser shall relinquish any 15 unused capacity to the public entity selling or leasing such fiber.
16 Upon such relinquishment, the public entity may resell or release
17 the relinquished capacity. The dark fiber shall be used primarily

- 20 (2) The absentee ballots counting board shall place all

18 to begin counting absentee ballots previously accepted. On

25 absentee voter identification envelope if the signature of the

1 registration. If an identification envelope is rejected, the 2 absentee ballots counting board shall not open the identification
3 envelope. If the ballot is rejected after opening the 4 identification envelope because of the absence of the official

6 official signature. The absentee ballots counting board shall 7 place the rejected identification envelopes and ballots in a
8 container labeled Rejected Absentee Ballots and seal it.

- 13 parties otherwise agree or the arbitration board, in its
- 14 discretion, assesses such costs and expenses, or any part thereof,
- 15 in a different manner.
- 16 (6) The arbitration panel shall hire an official
- 17 stenographer to report its hearings and may hire an attorney to 18 assist it in ruling on the admissibility of evidence offered and in

20 exceptions in any appeal from the decision of the arbitration board
21 and may hire such other personnel as it deems necessary to conduct
22 the hearing.

23 (7) The arbitration panel shall meet within thirty days
24 of the appointment of the third arbitrator. The third arbitrator

5 its arbitrator within the time established in this section, the 14 solely on the default of a party. The arbitration panel shall (a) 15 consider only those matters necessary for the resolution of the 16 disputed issues, (b) have no authority to add to, subtract from, or 17 alter the issues except as otherwise agreed to by the parties, and 18 (c) not alter or modify any existing contract.

20 Commercial Arbitration Rules of the American Arbitration
21 Association, as amended and in effect on the effective date of this

4 of the first meeting of the arbitration panel. The arbitration
5 panel shall give each party written notice of the hearing by 6 certified mail, at least ten days in advance of the hearing, unless 7 the parties waive such notice. The arbitration panel shall publish 8 notice of the hearing in a newspaper having general circulation in 9 the county three consecutive weeks.

10 (12) At all times after receipt of the notice of the 11 dispute, each party shall make available to the other, for 12 inspection and copying, all documents, data, and records with 13 respect to the dispute for the presentation of the matter to the 14 arbitration panel. If the parties fail to agree on the production 15 of documents and records, the arbitration panel shall determine the 16 matter. The parties may also take depositions with respect to the 17 dispute.

18 (13) At the hearing the arbitration panel shall hear 19 testimony and receive evidence in person or by deposition relating 20 to the dispute and may continue the hearing from time to time. The 21 arbitration panel shall be bound by the rules of evidence
22 applicable in district court. The arbitration panel may require a 23 party to submit such evidence as the board may deem necessary or 24 desirable for making its decision and the board is authorized to 25 subpoena witnesses and documents. Opportunity shall be afforded to 26 both parties to present evidence and cross-examine witnesses. The 27 parties may be represented by counsel.

1 (14) The arbitration panel shall seek to complete its 2 hearing on the issues submitted to it within thirty days after the 3 commencement of the hearing. The arbitration panel may extend the 4 time to complete the hearing beyond the thirty-day period if the 5 arbitration panel determines that such extension is necessary.

6 (15) The arbitration panel shall render its decision
7 within thirty days after completion of the hearing. The decision
8 shall be in writing, be accompanied by findings of fact, and be 9 signed by the arbitrators supporting the decision. The findings of 10 fact shall consist of a concise statement of the conclusions upon 11 each contested issue of fact. The decision of a majority of the 12 arbitrators shall be the decision of the arbitration board. A copy 13 of the decision and accompanying findings and conclusions shall be 14 mailed to each party and its attorney of record by certified mail.

15 (16) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (17) of 16 this section, the parties may, by mutual written agreement filed
17 with the arbitration board, extend any of the time limits
18 prescribed in this section.

19 (17) The final decision of the arbitration board shall be 20 binding upon the parties. If a party to any arbitration proceeding
21 is not satisfied with the decision entered by the arbitration
22 panel, such party may appeal to reverse, vacate, or modify the 23 decision, and such decision shall be in abeyance until the 24 appellate court has issued its opinion. The procedure to obtain 25 reversal, modification, or vacation of a decision rendered by the 26 arbitration panel shall be by filing notice of appeal with the 27 Court of Appeals within thirty days after the date of the decision.

1 The appeal shall be deemed perfected and the appellate court shall 2 have jurisdiction of the cause when a notice of an appeal has been 3 filed and appeal has been taken in the manner provided by law for 4 appeals from the district court in civil cases.

5 (18) Trial in the appellate court shall be de novo on the 6 record. Such case shall be advanced in the same manner as other 7 causes which involve the public welfare and convenience and shall

8 be set for an early hearing.
9 (19) The verbatim testimony transcribed by the official
10 stenographer, including all exhibits received, shall constitute the 11 bill of exceptions. The decision appealed and the bill of 12 exceptions duly certified by the members of the arbitration panel
13 shall constitute the complete record on appeal.
14 Sec. 5. The Revisor of Statutes shall assign section 4

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion #01007

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of LB 587 and LB 592 - "Agricultural Production Contract Unfair Practices Act" and "Agricultural Production Contract Act"

REQUESTED BY: Merton "Cap" Dierks, Nebraska State Senator

William R. Barger, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested an Attorney General's opinion concerning the constitutionality of the "Agricultural Production Contract Unfair Practices Act", LB 587 and the "Agricultural Production Contract Act", LB 592, (hereinafter, respectively, "the Practices Act" and "the Contract Act"). You specifically ask whether the equal protection clause of either the U.S. or Nebraska Constitution is violated by applying the provisions of these bills to swine and cattle contracts, and, if so, how that problem may be overcome. Further, you ask if the bills would place a burden upon interstate commerce under the commerce clause of the U.S. Constitution.

A brief description of what provisions these bills contain is necessary at this point. The Contract Act has twenty-two sections. The Contract Act essentially requires the following on cattle and swine contracts: a contract must contain a cover sheet with certain disclosures and other items; a contract must state its essential terms, the risks undertaken and must be readable; a party may ask the Attorney General to certify submitted contracts for compliance with the foregoing requirements; a court may reform a contract which violates the foregoing; producers have a three-day-right to cancel a contract; confidentiality clauses in contracts are invalid; a contract must contain a notice period for contract termination; producers have a right to re-instate after a breach; producers have a right to reimbursement for significant capital investments made prior to wrongful termination; all contracts contain an implied promise of good faith; and contractors who chronically violate the foregoing provisions are subject to penalties.

The Practices Act prohibits the following unfair practices in cattle and swine contracts: use of coercion, intimidation, retaliation, threats or termination threats to impose new terms in a contract or to force execution of a contract; interference with or restraining producers from associating; refusal to provide to a producer the data used to determine that producer's contract compensation; refusal to allow producers observation of weights and measures for contract compensation; and the use of a certain producer's performance to measure compensation to remaining producers.

Both bills have enforcement provisions allowing for a private cause of action, and providing for enforcement by the Attorney General.

I. EQUAL PROTECTION

Your first question is whether a potential equal protection argument arises since the Contract Act and Practices Act limit their applicability only to swine and cattle contracts. Recently, Nebraska amended the language in its Constitution to be nearly identical to that contained in the U. S. Const. art. 14. Neb. Const. art. I, § 3 contains the requirement that: "No person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law, nor be denied equal protection of the laws." Since the amendment's passage, the court has stated "The Nebraska Constitution and U.S. Constitution have identical requirements for equal protection challenges." DeCoste v. City of Wahoo, 583 N.W.2d 595, 601, 255 Neb. 266, 274 (1998). The analysis here is the same for both the U.S. and Nebraska Constitutions.

Since the Contract Act and the Practices Act both use similar definitions of "contractor" and the same definitions for "producer," we will examine the equal protection implications of those definitions simultaneously for both bills. LB 592 §§ 3(5) & 3(6) and LB 587 §§ 2(5) & 2(6). The Contract Act and Practices Act both apply their regulations to contractors and producers entering into marketing or production contracts on cattle or hogs, but do not apply these requirements to any other livestock contracts. Id. Cattle and hog producers would enjoy the protections provided under the two acts, but other farm product producers would not. It is also possible that cattle and hog contractors would claim that they are unfairly burdened by the two acts, while other farm product contractors are not. In either situation, the challenging parties would have the burden of proving that their right to equal protection had been violated. At the threshold, these litigating parties must prove they are being treated differently from "similarly situated" persons. DeCoste, 583 N.W.2d at 601, 255 Neb. at 274.

Cattle and hog producers produce farm products. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 52-1308. While cattle and hogs are listed as farm products along with grains, such as corn, soybeans and wheat, it is not clear that livestock and other farm products are similarly situated. Livestock require different methods of production, different processing methods, and are subject to differing government regulations from grain, fruit, vegetables, nuts, eggs or milk. If city and county jail inmates are not in the same group as state prison inmates for equal protection analysis purposes, as described in State v. Atkins, it is likely that livestock are not so similarly situated with other farm products to be in one "group". Id. However, do cattle and hogs fall into the same "group" as cervine, chickens, goats, horses, mules, turkeys and sheep? The Contract Act mentions "livestock" as the focus in its findings. LB 592 § 1. Livestock is a broadly defined term, but in most statutory definitions it includes cattle, sheep, swine, horses and mules. Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 54-183, 54-701.03, 54-1158, 54-1902, 54-2001 and 77-5403(13)(b). There are statutes including poultry under the definition of livestock, Neb. Rev. Stat. § 52-701.03 and 77-5403(13)(b), but it appears from the Nebraska statutory scheme that poultry is generally subject to differing regulations from cattle and hogs. Cattle, sheep, swine, horses and mules are "livestock" pursuant to most Nebraska statutes, and are therefore a similarly situated "group" for equal protection analysis. Further, some courts may determine that poultry should also be included in the "livestock" definition. Producers of livestock other than cattle and hogs are similarly situated to cattle and hog producers, and could likely achieve standing under the equal protection clauses.

Cattle and hog contractors must likewise show they are similarly situated to other livestock contractors. Livestock contractors would appear to be related in the same manner as livestock producers, since both groups are connected by their livestock business. Cattle and hog contractors engage in the slaughter and processing of meats, meat food products and animal products. Poultry, sheep, horse and mule contractors likely do the same types of slaughtering and processing. Cattle and hog contractors are similarly situated to their poultry, sheep, horse and mule contracting counterparts. Consequently, such contractors could likely achieve standing to challenge the two acts as a classification.

If cattle and hog contractors or producers can show they are classified differently than their counterparts by the two acts, then "... the inquiry shifts to whether the legislation at issue can survive judicial scrutiny." Atkins, 250 Neb. at 321, 549 N.W.2d at 163. "[I]f a statute involves economic or social legislation not implicating a fundamental right or suspect class, courts will ask only whether a rational relationship exists between a legitimate state interest and the statutory means selected by the legislature to accomplish that end.... Upon a showing that such a rational relationship exists, courts will uphold the legislation." Schindler v. Department of Motor Vehicles, 256 Neb. 782, 784, 593 N.W.2d 295, 298 (1999). Since cattle and hog contractors are not a suspect class, and their fundamental rights are not harmed by the two acts, then the two acts need only withstand a "rational basis" test. The same rational basis test applies to a challenge by producers of livestock other than cattle and hogs for the same reasons.

For the two acts to survive a challenge by producers there must be a "rational basis" for the acts' classifications involving those producers. We cannot state that no rational basis for those classifications exists. For example, cattle and hog producers may comprise a significantly large number of Nebraska livestock operations, while poultry, sheep, horse and mule operations are few. Further, perceived abuses by cattle and hog contractors, but not other contractors, may result in cattle and hog producers needing additional protections. In either case, the benefits of the two acts to cattle and hog producers would likely be construed to be rationally related to the legitimate state interests in protecting the cattle and hog industries.

Similarly, to avoid being stricken as unconstitutional classifications impacting cattle and hog contractors, it must be shown that the two act's requirements on contractors are rationally related to a legitimate state interest. "[S]ocial and economic measures run afoul of the Equal Protection Clause only when the varying treatment of different groups or persons is so unrelated to the achievement of any combination of legitimate purposes that a court can only conclude that the Legislature's actions were irrational." Atkins, 250 Neb. at 321, 549 N.W.2d at 164. Again, we cannot state that the Legislature has no legitimate state interest that is rationally related to the contract restrictions mandated by the two acts. The same state interests as described for producers could be applied to a challenge by cattle and hog contractors. Cattle and hogs comprise a very large portion of the Nebraska livestock industry, and perceived problems with that industry could harm state interests. "As we have noted in the context of equal protection, when the Legislature seeks to inaugurate reforms in the area of economics or social welfare, it need not choose between attacking every aspect of the problem or not attacking the problem at all." Bergan Mercy Health Sys. v. Haven, __ N.W. 2d __, 260 Neb. 846, 856 (2000).

In summary, the Contract Act and the Practices Act both create a classification between parties contracting upon cattle or hogs and parties who do not contract for cattle and hogs, whether those parties are either livestock producers or livestock contractors. A litigating producer would have to prove the two acts are not rationally related to a legitimate state interest, resulting in an equal protection clause violation. Similarly, a litigating cattle and hog contractor must prove that the restrictions upon those contractors relative to other livestock contractors are not rationally related to a legitimate state interest. In both cases, the state would likely be able to show that a legitimate state interest is furthered by the two acts requirements. In defending against a rational basis challenge to either Act, it would be helpful for the Legislature to articulate the state interest underlying the legislation.

II. COMMERCE CLAUSE

Your second question asks whether the Contract Act or the Practices Act would be susceptible to a commerce clause challenge under the U.S. Constitution. The Contract Act and the Practices Act both apply their requirements to cattle and hogs in Nebraska. The definitions for contractors under the two acts are as follows:

Contractor means a person who in the ordinary course of business purchases cattle or swine in this state through an agricultural contract for purposes of slaughter and processing of meats, meat food products, or animal products for sale or shipment in commerce.

Contractor means a person who in the ordinary course of business purchases cattle or swine through an agricultural contract for purposes of slaughter and processing of meats, meat food products, or animal products for sale or shipment in commerce.

LB 587 § 2(3).

The requirements of both bills apply to livestock purchased or grown in Nebraska under an agricultural contract. LB 587 § 2(1) & LB 592 § 3(1). Specifically, both acts apply to cattle or hogs grown under a production contract, and to cattle and hogs purchased under a marketing contract. LB 587 § 2(4) & 2(6), LB 592 § 3(4) & 3(6).

The U.S. Constitution requires that: "The Congress shall have power ... To regulate commerce ... among the several states." U.S. Const. art. I, § 8, cl. 3. The dormant portion of this clause "... prohibits economic protectionism - that is, regulatory measures designed to benefit in-state economic interests by burdening out-of-state competitors." New Energy Co. of Ind. v. Limbach, 486 U.S. 269, 273-274, 108 S.Ct. 1803, 100 L.Ed.2d 302 (1988). A thorough analysis of the dormant commerce clause is undertaken in some of our prior opinions, which we will not repeat here. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 93029 and Op. Att'y Gen. No. 94026. We note that the approach for reviewing these cases is an analysis of, first, whether the acts are discriminatory or have extraterritorial reach, in which case they are generally per-se invalid. Second, if the acts are not discriminatory or extraterritorial, then the acts must not impose burdens upon interstate commerce which outweigh the putative local benefits. If the acts survive these two tests, they do not offend the "dormant" commerce clause.

The Contract Act and the Practices Act both impose similar restrictions upon out-of-state and in-state contractors. "[I]f the law in question overtly discriminates against interstate commerce, then we will strike the law unless the state or locality can demonstrate under rigorous scrutiny that it has no other means to advance a legitimate local interest." U & I Sanitation v. City of Columbus, 205 F.3d 1063, 1067 (8th Cir. 2000), quoting C & A Carbone, Inc. v. Town of Clarkson (citations omitted). There is no patent evidence of an attempt to protect in-state contracting parties to the detriment of out-of-state contracting parties in these acts, nor is there any conceivable situation wherein an in-state contractor or producer would be at a competitive advantage over an out-of-state contractor because of these acts. An in-state producer is not likely to be advantaged by these acts, since they apply to in-state producers with cattle or hogs and out-of-state producers with cattle or hogs in Nebraska. It appears that these acts are not overtly discriminatory. The acts do not appear to be per-se discriminatory.

Next, the Contract Act and the Practices Act must not control conduct of parties who are beyond Nebraska's boundaries. "Under the Commerce Clause, a state regulation is per-se invalid when it has 'extraterritorial reach,' that is, when the statute has the practical effect of controlling conduct beyond the boundaries of the state." Cotto Waxo Co. v. Williams, 46 F.3d 790, 793 (8th Cir. 1995). The Contract Act and Practices Act both apply to transactions wherein cattle or hogs are purchased, grown or cared for in Nebraska. LB 587 § 2(3) and LB 592 § 3(3). While the Practices Act does not include the words "... in this state" which the Contract Act has, the net effect of both bills on cattle or hogs located in Nebraska is the same. Id. Both acts apply to transactions where a Nebraska producer enters into a marketing or production contract with a resident or out-of-state contractor. The Acts appear to apply only to purchase contracts or grower contracts "... in this state." Id.

If the acts applied to transactions between producers and contractors who were both out of state, then an extraterritorial reach problem might arise. "A statute has extraterritorial reach when it necessarily requires out-of-state commerce to be conducted according to in-state terms." Cotto Waxo, 46 F.3d at 793. For example, a Wyoming producer could have a production contract with a Colorado contractor, and this Wyoming producer has the cattle under that contract fed by a third-party in Nebraska. The acts do not appear to apply to this out-of-state transaction, but the acts could be made more clear in this regard. If a court did construe both acts to apply to out-of-state transactions like that described, then both acts would be constitutionally suspect. By adding "... in this state..." to the definitions of marketing and production contracts, then any uncertainty about out-of-state transactions being covered by the acts would be eliminated. For instance, a new definition of marketing contract in both acts could state: "Marketing contract means a written agreement for the purchase of swine or cattle in this state, except a negotiated purchase ...". (emphasis added). While the acts do not appear to apply to out-of-state transactions, clarifying the acts as suggested would provide more certainty so the acts do not have extraterritorial reach.

Even if these acts are not found to have extraterritorial reach, they must be subjected to scrutiny under the "balancing test". "If each act 'regulates even handedly to effectuate a legitimate local public interest, and its effects on interstate commerce are only incidental, it will be upheld unless the burden imposed on such commerce is clearly excessive in relation to the putative local benefits.'" United Waste Systems of Iowa, Inc. v. Wilson, 189 F.3d 762, 767-768 (8th Cir. 1999) (quoting Pike v. Bruce Church, 397 U.S. 137, 142, 90 S.Ct. 844, 25 L.Ed.2d 174 (1970)). A challenging party would have a difficult time proving that an actual burden exists upon it which outweighs any putative local benefits to producers, under the Pike v. Bruce Church "balancing test." The two acts appear to codify certain causes of action in contract and common law, such as unjust enrichment, detrimental reliance and negligent misrepresentation. Since contractors would be subject to similar causes of action in other states, regardless of the existence of either act, contractors would have difficulty proving an additional and excessive burden on them by complying with the acts. Further, contractors would have to show actual burdens, not projected or imagined burdens. It is likely that the putative benefits put forward on behalf of the acts would appear to render incidental, and not excessive, any burdens upon interstate commerce imposed by these acts. Although not clearly adopted by the Eighth Circuit, putative benefits, rather than actual benefits, are the only required showing by a statute's proponent in other circuits. See K-S Pharmacies v. American Home Products, 962 F.2d 728,731 (7th Cir. 1992) & Eastern Ky. Resources v. Fiscal Ct. of Magoffin, 127 F.3d 532 (6th Cir. 1997). In summary, the Contract Act and the Practices Act would likely survive a "dormant" commerce clause challenge as currently written, and would be even more likely to survive a challenge if the suggested language were included in the definitions sections.

III. CONCLUSION

Under equal protection clause analysis, litigating cattle and hog contractors and litigating producers would likely have standing to challenge the Contract Act and Practices Act, since they are similarly situated to their counterparts, and classified under both acts. Since none of the litigating parties are protected classes or have their fundamental rights harmed by the two acts, the acts are subjected only to a "rational basis" test under the equal protection clauses. Neither act provides clear indications of the Legislative intent regarding protections for cattle and hog contracts, but not other livestock contracts. However, there are several conceivable legitimate state interests that would be furthered by the requirements of the two acts. If these or other legitimate state interests were articulated by the text of the acts or their legislative history, we believe that both acts would survive an equal protection challenge by either set of litigating parties.

Your second question asked whether there is a commerce clause violation by the acts. Since neither act appears to favor in-state vs. out-of-state contractors, they are not overtly discriminatory. Both acts apply their provisions to cattle and hogs which are grown or cared for in this state. These acts apply to marketing and production contracts, and could be more clear on whether they impose requirements upon contracts between out-of-state producers and contractors. If a court construes the acts to cover out-of-state transactions, then the act's requirements would be impermissibly projected into other states. However, if the acts clearly applied only to contracts in Nebraska, they would not have extraterritorial reach. The acts are not discriminatory, do not appear to have extraterritorial reach and have benefits outweighing the incidental burdens upon interstate commerce. The acts would not violate the commerce clause.

8 All such taxes shall be uniform in respect to the class upon which 9 they are imposed. A license or occupation tax imposed under this 10 section shall not exceed five and three-quarters percent of the 11 gross receipts of such person, partnership, limited liability

17 Nebraska, is amended to read:

18 17-525. Second-class cities and villages shall have 19 power to raise revenue by levying and collecting a license tax on

3 Sec. 7. Section 19-4018, Reissue Revised Statutes of
4 Nebraska, is amended to read:

5 19-4018. Pursuant to ~~sections 19-4015 to 19-4038~~ the 6 Business Improvement District Act cities of the metropolitan,

8 upon the property within a business improvement district in the 9 city or (2) a general business license and occupation tax on 10 businesses and users of space within a business improvement
11 district. A general business license or occupation tax imposed
12 under this section shall not exceed five and three-quarters percent 13 of the gross receipts of such business or user of space at such 14 location. The proceeds or other available funds may be used for 15 the purposes stated in section 19-4019.

16 Sec. 8. (1) Beginning October 1, 2001, the power to levy
17 an occupation tax granted by sections 14-109, 15-202, 15-203, 18 16-205, 17-525, and 19-4018 shall not be exercised unless and until 19 the question has been submitted at a primary, general, or special
20 election held within the incorporated municipality and in which all 21 registered voters shall be entitled to vote on such question. The 22 governing body of the incorporated municipality shall order the 23 submission of the question by submitting a certified copy of the 24 resolution proposing the tax to the election commissioner or county
25 clerk not later than forty-one days before the primary or general 26 election, or within thirty days before a special election. The 27 question may include any terms and conditions set forth in the 1 resolution proposing the tax, such as a termination date or the 2 specific project or program for which the revenue received from 3 such tax will be allocated, and shall include the following
4 language: Shall the governing body of the incorporated municipality
5 impose an occupation tax within such municipality? If a majority
6 of the votes cast upon the question are in favor of the tax, then 7 the governing body of the incorporated municipality shall be 8 empowered as provided by section 14-109, 15-202, 15-203, 16-205, 9 17-525, or 19-4018 and shall forthwith proceed to impose an
10 occupation tax as provided by law. If a majority of those voting 11 on the question are opposed to the tax, then the governing body of 12 the incorporated municipality shall not impose the tax.

13 (2) Beginning October 1, 2001, a municipality may only 14 increase an occupation tax levied under section 14-109, 15-202, 15 15-203, 16-205, 17-525, or 19-4018 existing on October 1, 2001, if 16 the question of the tax increase is submitted to the registered
17 voters of the city or village and the registered voters by a
18 majority vote approve the increase. The question of the increase 19 shall be submitted to the registered voters at any primary or

20 general election or at a special election if the governing body
21 submits a certified copy of a resolution proposing the tax increase
22 to the election commissioner or county clerk within a reasonable
23 time prior to the primary, general, or special election. If a 24 majority of the votes cast upon the question are in favor of 25 increasing the tax, then the governing body of the incorporated
26 municipality shall be empowered as provided by section 14-109,
27 15-202, 15-203, 16-205, 17-525, or 19-4018 and shall forthwith
1 proceed to increase the occupation tax as provided by law. If a
2 majority of those voting on the question are opposed to the 3 increase, then the governing body of the incorporated municipality
4 shall not increase the tax.
5 (3) Whenever, at least forty-five days prior to any city,
6 county, or state election, the registered voters of any 7 municipality, equal in number to ten percent of the votes cast at 8 the last preceding municipal election, petition the governing body
9 to submit the question of imposing or increasing an occupation tax
10 under section 14-109, 15-202, 15-203, 16-205, 17-525, or 19-4018,
11 it shall be the duty of the governing body to submit the question
12 at the next primary, general, or special election.
13 (4) The question of imposing or increasing an occupation
14 tax under section 14-109, 15-202, 15-203, 16-205, 17-525, or 15 19-4018 which has been submitted to the registered voters and 16 failed shall not be submitted to the registered voters of an 17 incorporated municipality again until twenty-three months after 18 such failure.
19 (5) The governing body shall give notice of the 20 submission of the question of imposing or increasing an occupation 21 tax not more than thirty days nor less than ten days before the 22 election, by publication one time in one or more newspapers
23 published in or of general circulation in the municipality in which 24 the question is to be submitted. The notice shall be in addition

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONOpinion #01008

DATE: March 1, 2001

SUBJECT: LB 101; Whether Health Insurance Coverages And Premiums Are "Compensation" Within The Restrictions Of Art. III, § 19 Of The Nebraska Constitution.

REQUESTED BY: Senator Mark Quandahl

Senator D. Paul Hartnett
Nebraska State Legislature

Dale A. Comer, Assistant Attorney General

LB 101 is a legislative bill relating to metropolitan utilities districts in Nebraska. Among other things, the bill would allow a metropolitan utilities district to treat members of its board of directors as employees of the district for purposes of participation in various health insurance programs. The pertinent portions of the bill specifically amend Neb. Rev. Stat. § 14-2104 to add a new section (3) as follows:

Members of the board of directors [of a metropolitan utilities district] may be considered employees of the district for purposes of participation in medical and dental plans of insurance offered to regular employees. The dollar amount of any health insurance premiums paid from the funds of the district for the benefit of a member of the board of directors may be in addition to the amount of compensation authorized to be paid to such director pursuant to this section.

You have both asked similar questions regarding the constitutionality of LB 101 under art. III, § 19 of the Nebraska Constitution. Consequently, we will respond to all of your questions in the same opinion.

Art. III, § 19 of the Nebraska Constitution provides, as is pertinent:

The Legislature shall never grant any extra compensation to any public officer, agent or servant after the services have been rendered . . . nor shall the compensation of any public officer, including any officer whose compensation is fixed by the Legislature, be increased or diminished during his term of office except that, when there are members elected or appointed to the Legislature or officers elected or appointed to a court, board, or commission having more than one member and the terms of one or more members commence and end at different times, the compensation of all members of the Legislature or of such court, board, or commission may be increased or diminished at the beginning of the full term of any member thereof.

Art. III, § 19 apparently applies to the activities of local governmental subdivisions. See Shepoka v. Knopik, 201 Neb. 780, 272 N.W.2d 364 (1978)(Holding that the constitutional prohibition on increasing or decreasing the compensation of a public officer during his term of office was not violated when a county board passed a resolution granting cost of living salary increases to county officers over their term of office).

INQUIRIES FROM SENATOR QUANDAHL

In your opinion request letter, you make the following comments with respect to LB 101:

As with all insurance matters, there is much uncertainty about the premiums charged, the myriad of plan offerings, benefits provided, availability of coverage and necessity of coverage. I feel that it is very likely that an increase or diminishment of all of these factors would occur during the term of office of a member of [a metropolitan utilities] board of directors. This would make it not only possible, but also probable, that members would not be receiving equal compensation for their service.

You then pose three questions to us regarding LB 101 which we will consider separately below.

Question 1. Does the inclusion of a section allowing members to be considered employees of a district for purposes of participation in medical and dental plans of insurance, and which, in addition allows health insurance premiums to be paid from district funds violate the Nebraska Constitution? (Article III, section 19)

There is nothing on the face of art. III, § 19 of the Nebraska Constitution which would flatly prohibit a metropolitan utilities district from allowing members of its board of directors to participate in health and dental insurance plans and from paying premiums for that coverage from district funds. However, as you point out, the parameters of health and dental insurance coverages available to employees of organizations often change with the implementation of new coverage options, new deductibles, different premiums, and so forth. Those changes, should they occur during an officer's term of office, implicate that portion of art. III, § 19 which prohibits increasing or decreasing an officer's compensation during his or her term, and presumably form the basis for your initial query.

It appears to us that the threshold question with respect to your first inquiry is whether health and dental insurance coverages along with premiums for those coverages can be considered as "compensation" which is included within the restrictions of art. III, § 19 in addition to the obvious compensation made up of an officer's salary. The answer to that question is not entirely clear.

The term "compensation" is not defined in the Nebraska Constitution, and we are aware of no Nebraska cases which define that term directly in the context of art. III, § 19. Authority from other jurisdictions also offers little assistance, since there are cases which indicate both that health insurance is and health insurance is not "compensation" for purposes of state constitutional provisions which prohibit increasing or decreasing an officer's compensation during his or her term of office. Compare Caldwell County Fiscal Court v. Paris, 945 S.W.2d 952 (Ky. Ct. App. 1997)(Holding that provision for health insurance under group policy covering county officials and employees did not constitute payment of compensation for purposes of state constitutional articles which prohibited changes in the compensation of public officers after their election) with Opinion By The Justices, 30 S.2d 14, 249 Ala. 88 (1947)(Holding that benefits from group insurance may be considered as some compensation so that officers who had a fixed and unexpired term would not be entitled to those benefits under state constitutional provisions.)

In the face of such uncertainty, we believe that it is useful to consider the intent of the framers of the constitutional provision at issue. Our supreme court has indicated that the Nebraska Constitution is to be interpreted with reference to the established laws, usages, and customs of the country at the time of its adoption, and historical facts in connection with a constitutional amendment may be used to interpret the meaning of that amendment. Duggan v. Beermann, 249 Neb. 411, 544 N.W.2d 68 (1996); Dwyer v. Omaha-Douglas Public Building Commission, 188 Neb. 30, 195 N.W.2d 236 (1972). The Nebraska Supreme Court has also indicated that the intent and understanding of the framers of the constitution and the people who adopted it as expressed in the instrument is the principal inquiry in construing it. State ex rel. State Railway Commission v. Ramsey, 151 Neb. 333, 37 N.W.2d 502 (1949). To assist in that inquiry, courts may consider the proceedings of the constitutional convention at which a section under consideration was adopted, including the reports of committees, debates and colloquies between members. State ex rel. Johnson v. Marsh, 149 Neb. 1, 29 N.W.2d 799 (1947).

The provision in the Nebraska Constitution dealing with increasing or decreasing the compensation of public officers during their term of office has been in the Nebraska Constitution since at least 1875. Nebraska Constitution of 1875, art. III, § 16. It was amended as a result of the state Constitutional Convention in 1919-1920 to apply to any public officer including those officers whose compensation is fixed by the Legislature, and the discussions and events of that constitutional convention are instructive.

The amendment to the Nebraska Constitution at issue was brought before the convention as Proposal No. 71. During debate on the proposal, one of the delegates stated:

The purpose of these amendments to the Constitution is to extend that prohibition in the former Constitution to other officers than Constitutional officers. That is the only change that has been made. The courts have decided in this matter that this Constitutional provision only applied so far as public officers were concerned to Constitutional officers. That has been known by all those who have been in the Legislature for years, that the county officers and other officers whose salary is being fixed from time to time by the Legislature have formed in this state a very close connection. Prior to the convening of every Legislature for practically the last fifteen years these men have met in Lincoln, or some other central place in the state, and have delegated to certain members authority to appear before the Legislature as a lobby, their object being since they are elected to try and get the Legislature to raise their salaries. This works out in this way: It does not give them all an equal opportunity along this line. Those who have the best lobby here and who, perhaps, are the least worthy of a raise in salary are the ones who get their salary raised. Others, perhaps, who ought to have their salaries raised, fail because they do not have a sufficient lobby, or do not have the right members of the Legislature upon their side. I say it is a straight business proposition that when a man is elected to office, while his salary, perhaps, should be raised, yet I think that that man is not the man to say his salary should be increased. I think the Legislature should be relieved of a lobby here year after year with no other purpose except to get the Legislature to continually raise these salaries.

Proceedings of the Nebraska Constitutional Convention, 1919-1920, p. 2199 (Remarks of Mr. Byrum) (emphasis added). In addition, when the constitution was presented to the people of Nebraska after the constitutional convention in 1919-1920, an Address to the People was prepared by the convention which explained the various changes proposed for the state constitution. The purpose for the changes in the section that ultimately became art. III, § 19 was explained as follows:

Amended Section 16, submitted as No. 10 on the ballot, extends the provision of the old section so that the Legislature shall never grant any extra compensation to any public officer, agent or servant after the services have been rendered, nor to any contractor after the contract has been entered into, including any officer whose compensation is fixed by the Legislature. The purpose of this amendment is to prevent the increase of the salary of a public official during his term of office and to prevent or discourage lobbying in favor of increase of salary.

As a result, the focus of the Constitutional Convention in 1919-1920 with respect to art. III, § 19, was the salaries of public officers, and that is what was presented to the people of the state when they voted on and approved that constitutional amendment. For that reason, we believe that "compensation," as it is used in art. III, § 19, refers to the salaries of public officers, and not to additional benefits such as health and dental insurance or the premiums for such items which are normally separate and apart from an officer's salary.

Our conclusion with respect to the meaning of "compensation" in art. III, § 19 and the nature of health insurance benefits is also consistent with the purposes underlying that constitutional provision. Art. III, § 19 ". . . was designed to protect the individual officer against legislative oppression, and further, to curb the activities of public officers in lobbying to induce the Legislature to increase salaries." Ramsey v. Gage County, 153 Neb. 24, 32, 43 N.W.2d 593, 597 (1950). Art. III, § 19 aids in the separation of powers and ". . . is one of the oldest of the 'checks and balances' provided in the federal Constitution and in the Constitutions of most, if not all, of the states." State ex rel. Johnson v. Marsh, 149 Neb. 1, 6, 29 N.W.2d 799, 802 (1947). Allowing public officers to participate in health insurance plans on the same basis as public employees as is contemplated by LB 101 would result in a situation where any changes in coverage, premiums, and so forth similar to those described in your opinion request would presumably be experienced by public officers and public employees on the same basis. It is difficult to understand, under those circumstances, how changes in dental and health coverages could be used as a means of legislative oppression against individual officers, since officers and employees would be treated alike. It is also difficult to understand how changes in those coverages under those circumstances would lead to increased lobbying for more individual benefits for public officers.

We would point out, however, that our conclusion regarding the nature of "compensation" under art. III, § 19 might be somewhat different if changes in health insurance benefits or premium changes were directed against or to one particular officer or group of officers for obvious retaliatory reasons or to increase the salaries of those individuals alone. In Caldwell County Fiscal Court v. Paris, 945 S.W.2d 952 (Ky. Ct. App. 1997), the Kentucky Court of Appeals held that providing health insurance under a group policy covering county officials and employees did not constitute payment of compensation for purposes of state constitutional articles which prohibited changes in the compensation of public officers after their election. However, the court also stated:

It should be understood that we are not holding that the payment of a "fringe benefit" to a public official can never amount to "compensation" under the constitution. If, for example, some scheme were devised to raise the salary of a particular official through the subterfuge of paying certain benefits for him not uniformly available to similarly situated officials, that scheme would not likely pass constitutional muster.

Id. at 955. We believe that similar reasoning applies to health insurance benefits under art. III, § 19.

We are aware of the fact that the Nebraska Supreme Court has indicated that pensions for public employees are a form of compensation under art. III, § 19. Wilson v. Marsh, 162 Neb. 237, 75 N.W.2d 723(1956). See also Halpin v. The Nebraska State Patrolmen's Retirement System, 211 Neb. 892, 320 N.W.2d 910 (1982)(Stating that pension payments constitute deferred compensation for services rendered.) Those cases obviously could be used to support the argument that health insurance coverages and premiums are a form of fringe benefit similar to pensions, and for that reason, are compensation under art. III, § 19. However, we believe that the pension cases are distinguishable from the present situation involving health insurance coverages and premiums primarily because pensions are much more closely related to salary than are health insurance benefits. In essence, pensions may be characterized as a form of salary which is deferred. As noted in Gossman v. State Employees Retirement System, 177 Neb. 326, 331, 129 N.W.2d 97, 101 (1964):

The benefit of the retirement system awarded to a member thereof who renders services under the act creating the system after its enactment is not a grant of extra compensation after the services are rendered which the Constitution condemns because the increase in pay is granted immediately and from the date of the grant is being currently earned.

(Original emphasis deleted and additional emphasis added). Similarly, in the Wilson case the court quoted State ex rel. Sena v. Trujillo, 46 N.M. 361, 129 P.2d 329 (1942): "Pensions' for state employees are pay withheld . . ." 162 Neb. at 254, 75 N.W.2d at 733 (Emphasis added). In our view, since pensions may be considered as deferred salary, they fall under art. III, § 19, while health insurance benefits and premiums do not.

Finally, we would take note of our Opinion No. 246, dated August 2, 1976, in which we concluded that a county board could not change the health insurance provided to an elected county official during his term of office from family coverage to single coverage based upon art. III, § 19. 1975-76 Rep. Att'y Gen. 353 (Opinion No. 246, dated August 2, 1976). That opinion did not discuss the Constitutional Convention of 1919-1920 or any other relevant authorities pertaining to art. III, § 19, and to the extent that it conflicts with this opinion, we believe that it is incorrect.

In sum, it seems to us that health and dental insurance coverages and premiums paid for those benefits are not "compensation" subject to the strictures of art. III, § 19 of the Nebraska Constitution, when, as is the case with

LB 101, the officers receiving those benefits are treated uniformly with other officers and employees of the agency providing the benefits. Under those circumstances, health and dental insurance coverages and the premiums for those benefits are not part of the "salary" of those public officials.

Question 2. If all members of a board do not uniformly participate in medical and dental plans of insurance, would that violate any provisions of the Nebraska Constitution, including the equal protection clause?

The equal protection provisions of the state and federal constitutions generally prohibit improper disparate treatment or improper classifications of people who are otherwise similarly situated. As a result, the initial inquiry in any equal protection analysis focuses on whether there is a classification involved in government action where one individual is treated differently than others in the same situation. Gramercy Hill Enterprises v. State of Nebraska, 255 Neb. 717, 587 N.W.2d 378 (1998). Absent such disparate treatment or classification, there is no equal protection claim. Id.

We are not entirely sure what classifications of board members are at issue in your second question, since it appears to us that all members of a metropolitan utilities district board would be offered the same opportunities for health insurance and dental coverages under LB 101, and any differences in participation would result from the individual choices of the directors involved. However, to the extent that there are classifications inherent in that bill which might be subject to equal protection challenge, "[t]he general rule is that legislation is presumed to be valid and will be sustained if the classification drawn by the statute is rationally related to a legitimate state interest." Robotham v. State, 241 Neb. 379, 385, 488 N.W.2d 533, 539 (1992). There are two exceptions to that rule involving "suspect classifications" based upon race, age, national origin, etc., and involving classifications pertaining to fundamental rights. Clements v. Fashing, 457 U.S. 957 (1982); Robotham v. State, supra. To sustain the constitutional validity of classifications in those latter areas, there must be a showing of a compelling state interest. Robotham v. State, supra.

In the present instance, we are not aware of any suspect classifications or fundamental rights implicated by LB 101. Therefore, courts reviewing an equal protection challenge to that statute would ask only if a rational relationship exists between a legitimate state interest and the means selected by the Legislature in LB 101 to achieve that end. Schindler v. Department of Motor Vehicles, 256 Neb. 782, 593 N.W.2d 295 (1999). We cannot say that there is no rational relationship between legitimate state interests and any classifications created by LB 101. However, to the extent that particular classifications cause you concern, we suggest that you take steps to create an appropriate legislative history or language in the statute which articulates the state interests which led to the classifications created by the Legislature.

Question 3. What would be the proper course of action for a board to take if it has paid unequal compensation to its directors?

We have frequently stated, over time, that we will limit our opinions for members of the Legislature to instances where the questions posed to us involve a legislative purpose growing out of pending or proposed legislation. Op. Att'y Gen. No 157 (December 24, 1985). Under that standard, we are uncertain what legislative purpose is implicated in your third question. Moreover, metropolitan utilities districts and other governmental subdivision boards are represented by their own counsel who presumably would be in a much better position to advise those boards as to the proper course of action if they paid unequal compensation to their directors than this office. In any event, it appears to us that your final question is, in great degree, mooted by our response to your Question No. 1. For those reasons, we will not respond further to your third question.

INQUIRIES FROM SENATOR HARTNETT

In your opinion request letter, you state that you concur with the concerns raised by Senator Quandahl, but that you have an additional issue which you would like to present to us. The Urban Affairs Committee of the Legislature apparently considered an amendment to LB 101 which would have stricken the following language from the new section (3) proposed for § 14-2104 quoted at the beginning of this opinion:

The dollar amount of any health insurance premiums paid from the funds of the district for the benefit of a member of the board of directors may be in addition to the amount of compensation authorized to be paid to such director pursuant to this section.

You have three additional questions in light of that amendment.

Question 1. Does the "dollar amount of health insurance premiums paid from district funds" constitute "compensation" to the director for purposes of ARTICLE III, Section 19 of the State Constitution?

For the reasons discussed at length above, we believe that health insurance benefits along with any premiums paid for those benefits which are separate and apart from an officer's salary are generally not "compensation" for purposes of art. III, § 19 of the Nebraska Constitution. As a result, the dollar amount of health insurance premiums paid from metropolitan utilities district funds for a director of that district apart from the director's salary does not constitute "compensation" to the director under that state constitutional provision.

Question 2. If it is "compensation," would annual (those occurring mid-term) increases or decreases in premium charges or changes in the benefits provided (such as a higher deductible, a loss of coverage on certain conditions, or an expansion of coverage for others, etc.) constitute unlawful increases or diminishments in compensation in contravention of ARTICLE III, Section 19?

Since we have determined that, in our view, the dollar amount of health insurance premiums paid from metropolitan utilities district funds for a director of that district apart from the director's salary does not constitute "compensation" to the director, we need not respond further to this question.

Question 3. Would the answers to questions #1 and #2 be different (a) if the dollar amount of the health premiums were paid by a deduction of the dollar cost of the premium from the salary of a participating board member, with all directors paid the same basic salary, but those participating in the health insurance program actually receiving less (a smaller check) because of the premium deduction or (b) if the full salary was paid all directors and individual directors wishing to participate in the health insurance program were permitted to purchase "into" the employee health insurance program with their own funds?

As discussed above, it is our view that the term "compensation" in art. III, § 19 of the Nebraska Constitution refers primarily to the "salary" of public officers, and therefore, the strictures of that constitutional provision are focused on matters affecting an officer's salary. As a result, we believe that there is a potential problem under art. III, § 19 if the proposals set out in your Question 3 involve changes to metropolitan utilities district directors' salaries during their terms in order to cover the costs of health insurance premiums, whether the health insurance premiums are deducted from those salaries or paid separately. For example, with respect your proposal (a), if $2000 were added to all directors' salaries to cover the cost of health insurance in one year and $2500 added the next, then there would be an increase in the salaries for those directors during their term and an increase in their compensation, whether deductions were made for that health insurance or not.<sup>1</sup> The same would be true under your proposal (b) if the salaries for all directors were raised in the second year of the biennium to cover health insurance premiums, and participating directors paid their health care costs directly. The operative fact in both proposals is that the salaries of directors would be changed during their term. On the other hand, if your Question 3 contemplates no changes in directors' salaries during their biannual term, and metropolitan utilities district directors would simply be allowed to participate in health insurance coverages by deduction or separate payment, then we do not believe that art. III, § 19 would be compromised.

<sup>1</sup> Under Neb. Rev. Stat. § 32-540 (1998), two or three members of the seven-member board of directors of a metropolitan utilities district are elected in even-numbered years, so that members serve staggered terms with new terms beginning every two years.

1 (7) Benefits under the retirement system to members or to
2 their beneficiaries shall be paid from the fund.

3 (8) Any member who is making contributions to the fund on 4 December 25, 1969, may, on or before June 30, 1970, elect to become 5 a future member by delivering written notice of such election to 6 the board.

7 (9) Not later than January 1 of each year, the State
8 Treasurer shall transfer to the fund an amount, determined on the 9 basis of an actuarial valuation as of the previous June 30 and 10 certified by the board, to fully fund the unfunded accrued
11 liabilities of the retirement system as of June 30, 1988, by level
12 payments up to January 1, 2000. Such valuation shall be on the 13 basis of actuarial assumptions recommended by the actuary, approved 14 by the board, and kept on file with the board. Any change in the 15 unfunded accrued liabilities due to benefit or assumption changes 16 shall be fully funded over the average expected future service of 17 the active members of the retirement system or by the first day of 18 the twenty-sixth calendar year after the date of the actuarial
19 valuation which first recognized these changes, whichever occurs
20 first. The change in the unfunded accrued liabilities shall be 21 funded by level annual payments which shall be made over the lesser 22 of twenty-five years or the average expected future service of the 23 active members of the retirement system. If the unfunded accrued
24 liability for the retirement system, determined under the entry age
25 actuarial cost method, is zero or less than zero on any actuarial
26 valuation date, then all prior unfunded accrued liability amounts
27 shall be considered fully funded. Effective July 1, 1988,

1 actuarial gains and losses shall be amortized over the expected
2 future service of the active members as part of the annual normal
3 cost.

4 (10) On July 1, 2001, and each fiscal year thereafter,
 5 $200,000 shall be appropriated from the General Fund to the 6 Nebraska Retirement Fund for Judges. On July 1, 2002, and each
 7 fiscal year thereafter, the Public Employees Retirement Board shall 8 determine whether member contributions pursuant to subsection (2) 9 of this section for the previous fiscal year have exceeded the 10 total of the amount remitted pursuant to subsection (3) of this 11 section plus the appropriation provided in this subsection for the 12 same time period. If member contributions have not exceeded the 13 total of the amount remitted pursuant to subsection (3) of this 14 section plus the appropriation provided in this subsection, the 15 board shall remit the difference to the State Treasurer for credit
 16 to the General Fund. If member contributions have exceeded the 17 total of the amount remitted pursuant to subsection (3) of this 18 section plus the appropriation provided in this subsection, the 19 board shall request from the Appropriations Committee of the 20 Legislature in the following legislative session an amount to be 21 appropriated from the General Fund to the Nebraska Retirement Fund
 22 for Judges. The request shall be an amount which, when added to 23 the amount remitted pursuant to subsection (3) of this section plus
 24 the appropriation pursuant to this subsection, equals the amount 25 remitted pursuant to subsection (2) of this section for the 26 previous fiscal year.

27 (11) The state or county shall pick up the member
 1 contributions required by this section for all compensation paid on 2 or after January 1, 1985, and the contributions so picked up shall
 3 be treated as employer contributions in determining federal tax
 4 treatment under the Internal Revenue Code, except that the state or 5 county shall continue to withhold federal income taxes based upon 6 these contributions until the Internal Revenue Service or the 7 federal courts rule that, pursuant to section 414(h) of the code,
 8 these contributions shall not be included as gross income of the 9 member until such time as they are distributed or made available.
 10 The state or county shall pay these member contributions from the 11 same source of funds which is used in paying earnings to the 12 member. The state or county shall pick up these contributions by a 13 compensation deduction either through a reduction in the 14 compensation of the member or a combination of a reduction in 15 compensation and offset against a future compensation increase.
 16 Member contributions picked up shall be treated for all purposes of 17 ~~sections 24-701 to 24-714~~ the Judges Retirement Act in the same 18 manner and to the extent as member contributions made prior to the 19 date picked up.

2 Department of Natural Resources Cash Fund.

3 Sec. 5. Section 46-606, Revised Statutes Supplement,

4 2000, is amended to read:

27 dollars and the fee required by section 46-1224 for each of the 1 first five such water wells registered under section 46-602, and
2 for each group of five or fewer such water wells registered

7 66-1525, 66-1529.02, or 81-15,124, the fee set pursuant to this 8 subsection shall be collected as if only one water well was being 9 registered and the fee required by section 46-1224 shall be 10 collected.

11 (5)(a) For a series of two or more water wells completed 12 and pumped into a common carrier as part of a single site plan for 13 irrigation purposes, the director shall collect in advance a

17 (b) Any additional water wells which are part of a series
18 registered under this subsection shall not be subject to a new well 19 registration fee.

20 (6) The director shall remit the fees collected to the 21 State Treasurer for credit to the appropriate fund. The State
22 Treasurer shall credit the registration fees to the Water Well
23 Decommissioning Fund. From the fees required by section 46-1224,
24 the State Treasurer shall credit to the Department of Natural 25 Resources Cash Fund the amount determined by the Department of 26 Natural Resources to be necessary to pay for the costs of 27 registering such water wells online as authorized by subsection (1)

1 of section 46-1224 and shall credit the remainder of the fees
 2 required by section 46-1224 to the Water Well Standards and 3 Contractors' Licensing Fund.

4 Sec. 21. Section 61-210, Revised Statutes Supplement,
 5 2000, is amended to read:

6 61-210. The Department of Natural Resources Cash Fund is 7 created. The State Treasurer shall credit to such fund such money
 8 as is specifically appropriated or reappropriated by the 9 Legislature. The State Treasurer shall also credit such fund with 10 payments, if any, accepted for services rendered by the department
 11 and fees collected pursuant to subdivision (10) of section 33-105,
 12 subsection (6) of section 46-602, subsection (6) of section 46-606, 13 section 46-230, and section 61-209 and section 22 of this act. The 14 funds made available to the Department of Natural Resources by the 15 United States, through the Natural Resources Conservation Service
 16 of the Department of Agriculture or through any other agencies, 17 shall be credited to the fund by the State Treasurer. Any money in 18 the fund available for investment shall be invested by the state
 19 investment officer pursuant to the Nebraska Capital Expansion Act
 20 and the Nebraska State Funds Investment Act. The Department of 21 Natural Resources shall allocate money from the fund to pay costs
 22 of the programs or activities of the department. The Director of 23 Administrative Services, upon receipt of proper vouchers approved
 24 by the department, shall issue warrants on the fund, and the State
 25 Treasurer shall countersign and pay from, but never in excess of, 26 the amounts to the credit of the fund. The State Treasurer shall 27 transfer any money in the Department of Water Resources Cash Fund
 1 and in the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission Cash Fund on July
 2 1, 2000, to the Department of Natural Resources Cash Fund.

3 Sec. 22. (1) Any person transferring real property not 4 inside the corporate limits of a municipality shall complete and 5 provide to the transferee, at or before the closing of the 6 transfer, a water resources update notice acknowledging (a) whether 7 any surface water rights issued pursuant to Chapter 46, article 2,
 8 and in the name of any party other than an irrigation district,
 9 public power and irrigation district, or mutual irrigation company
 10 are attached to the real property being transferred and (b) whether 11 there are any water wells, except water wells used solely for 12 domestic purposes and constructed prior to September 9, 1993, on 13 the real property being transferred. If the water resources update 14 notice discloses the existence of such surface water rights or such 15 water wells, the transferee shall complete the water resources
 16 update notice and shall file it with the Department of Natural 17 Resources within sixty days after recording the deed or other 18 instrument by which the transfer of real property is made. The 19 department shall use such notice to update ownership of surface
 20 water rights and water well registrations as required by sections
 21 46-230 and 46-602.

22 (2) The department shall prescribe the form and content

23 of the water resources update notice and shall make such forms
 24 available to title insurance companies and other persons as deemed 25 appropriate by the department. The requirement that a water
 26 resources update notice be filed with the department or the failure 27 to file such a notice does not affect the recording, legality, or 1 sufficiency of a deed or other instrument evidencing the transfer
 2 of real property.

3 (3) The department shall establish a uniform fee which 4 shall be no higher than the amount necessary to cover costs
 5 incurred by the department for processing the water resources
 6 update notices, notices filed pursuant to section 46-230, and 7 notices filed pursuant to subsection (6) of section 46-602. The 8 fee shall be paid at the time of filing the water resources update
 9 notice and shall be remitted to the State Treasurer for credit to 10 the Department of Natural Resources Cash Fund."

11 2. On page 4, strike beginning with "The" in line 7
 12 through line 8 and insert "The department shall establish a uniform
 13 fee for filing such notices, notices filed pursuant to section 22
 14 of this act, and notices filed pursuant to subsection (6) of 15 section 46-602. Such fees shall be no higher than the amount 16 necessary to cover the costs incurred by the department for 17 processing such notices in accordance with this section and section 18 22 of this act and subsection (6) of section 46-602. The fee shall 19 be paid at the time of filing the notice and shall be remitted to 20 the State Treasurer for credit to the Department of Natural 21 Resources Cash Fund."

22 3. Amend the repealer and renumber the remaining
 23 sections accordingly.

5 60-302. (1) No motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, or 11 the highways of this state and shall be registered in accordance 12 with Chapter 60, article 3, from the date of title of the motor

14 (2) An application for registration of a motor vehicle
15 shall be accompanied by proof of financial responsibility or 16 evidence of insurance covering the motor vehicle. Proof of 17 financial responsibility shall be evidenced by a copy of proof of 18 financial responsibility filed pursuant to subdivision (2), (3), or 19 (4) of section 60-528 bearing the seal of the Department of Motor

9 and post office address of the applicant and a description of the 10 vehicle, including the color, the manufacturer, the identification

13 registration fee as provided in sections 60-305.08 to 60-339 and 14 shall state whether the vehicle is propelled by alternative fuel as 15 defined in section 66-686 and, if alternative fuel, the type of
