method of assessment, these comparable sales that we're talking about are comparable with sales within the same location, same area, right?

SPEAKER BROMM: Senator.

SENATOR VRTISKA: Senator Baker?

SPEAKER BROMM: Senator Baker.

SENATOR BAKER: I'm sorry, Senator Vrtiska. I was visiting.

SENATOR VRTISKA: Okay. Well, my question was, when you're talking about comparable sales, and the other...the characteristics and other things in your amendment, the statute already requires that there be comparable sales in the same locale, same area, right?

SENATOR BAKER: That's correct.

SENATOR VRTISKA: What I'm saying is, you can't go outside of a certain bounds in order to make a comparable sale. Is that correct?

SENATOR BAKER: That's correct also.

SENATOR VRTISKA: And so this doesn't change that any way?

SENATOR BAKER: Not in the least.

SENATOR VRTISKA: Okay. I just wanted to make sure. I'd assumed it hadn't, looking at the way the assessment is now. And I assume that you're staying the same, you're just putting in these other...this other formula to more correctly define the value.

SENATOR BAKER: I think that's...

SENATOR VRTISKA: For taxation purposes.

SENATOR BAKER: Yes.
