FLOOR DEBATE

February 3, 2003 LB 305

SENATOR BYARS: So we don't have legislation on the books right now dealing with this instance.

SENATOR SCHROCK: That is correct. Now, this legislation would not stop a farmer who had a diseased pig and wanted to go out and destroy the pig from taking his gun and going out and shooting the pig. But it would stop the hunting of any species of pigs.

SENATOR BYARS: Okay. The next question. Would this have any effect on the other animals that he is advertising, or that he is allowing people to come to hunt...

SPEAKER BROMM: One minute.

SENATOR BYARS: ...on his reserve?

SENATOR SCHROCK: It does not, Senator Byars.

SENATOR BYARS: So this would not totally deprive him of the investment or the amount of money that he has invested in this preserve. It would strictly affect the pig, the boar, whatever we decide we call them, only that portion. Is that correct?

SENATOR SCHROCK: That is correct. And if I can elaborate just a little bit. The pig is the cheapest hunt he advertises. And I'm going to assume it's the hunt he sells the most of. Because that is the species that is the cheapest for him to obtain, and probably to let loose on this 300...I believe it's 350-acre game preserve he has down there.

SENATOR BYARS: Okay. Thank you, Senator Schrock. I want to hear what Senator Vrtiska says also. This falls in his district. He has talked to the neighbors adjoining this hunting preserve. My main interest is to make absolutely certain Mr. Meints has an opportunity to have his position heard. You have all received the information he has sent to you. Certainly,...

SPEAKER BROMM: Time.
