February 20, 2003 LB 186
