FLOOR DEBATE

March 5, 2003 LR 11

SPEAKER BROMM: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: It has nothing to do with education. It has nothing to do with becoming a better citizen. It has only to do with cash, and the players are the cash cattle. But that's not what I'm talking about just yet. I'm listening to the debate. I have said I will not support any of these propositions, but after listening to Senator Schimek bringing to my mind what that World-Herald has done, at first my feet were set upon a rock, Senator Bourne, against it, but now I see that rock pulverized and it's turned into sand, and a house built on sand may fall at any minute, especially if there's rain dropping. So if Senator Schimek and others can let the rain drops keep falling, then maybe that sand will shift and my house of resistance will collapse...

SPEAKER BROMM: Time.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...and you may have a vote, but don't count on it because right now you don't.

SPEAKER BROMM: Thank you, Senator Chambers. Senator Schimek.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: I would like to give my time to Senator Beutler, please.

SPEAKER BROMM: Senator Beutler.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Mr. Speaker, members of the Legislature, this is information you should all listen to so you can make a judgment. And, Senator Chambers, if this doesn't turn your sand into support, I'm not sure what will. I passed out to you an article indicating that the World-Herald announced the purchase of The Daily Nonpareil by a partnership, and this is what's important to listen to. Not only does the World-Herald own part of the Nonpareil partnership, but who else owns it? Iowa West Foundation. Iowa West Foundation is a business partnership, is a business partner of the Omaha World-Herald. Who's the Iowa West Foundation? They are the charitable arm of the Iowa West Racing Association. Those two corporations are together. Who
