FLOOR DEBATE

March 5, 2003 LR 11

argued that since Nebraskans are going to be suckers on the Iowa side of the river, and all the evils of gambling can be seen there, bring it to the Nebraska side and all of those evils are washed away as it passes over the muddy Missouri River. Gambling is so much less clean than the muddy Missouri River that, by passing it over a muddy water, it cleanses gambling, which means the muddy Missouri is cleaner than gambling. Nobody should encourage people who are impoverished, who are despondent, who are depressed over not having enough money to pay their bills, feed their family, provide medical care should be...nobody like that should be...

SENATOR HARTNETT: Time.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...encouraged by the state to think there's a...

SENATOR HARTNETT: Time, Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...pot of gold at the other end of the rainbow. You didn't give me my warning.

SENATOR HARTNETT: I did.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Oh, so you're like Judge Roy Bean. You're just going to shoot me in the back? Okay.

SENATOR HARTNETT: (Laugh)

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Okay. (Laugh)

SENATOR HARTNETT: Thank you, Senator Chambers. (Visitors introduced.) Next speaker is Senator Aguilar.

SENATOR AGUILAR: Thank you, Mr. President. Actually, he did give you a warning, Senator Chambers, but you were too wound up, you didn't hear it. I would respectfully call the question.

SENATOR HARTNETT: The question is called. Is there five hands? Hands? The question is called to cease debate. All in favor vote aye; all opposed vote nay. Have you all voted that would
