to take on an issue and deal with it in different ways. What I would like to do is yield the remainder of my time to Senator Brashear to continue this conversation, if he'd like.

SPEAKER BROMM: Senator Brashear, would you like the rest of the time? It is 3 minutes and 30 seconds.

SENATOR BRASHEAR: Yes, please, Mr. Speaker, members of the body. Thank you very much, Senator Friend. It's interesting to me. I'm going to continue the litany of the information that we require from every applicant for LB 775 incentives. Now some would have me not, but it's been interesting the number of you who have come forward and said, I didn't know we asked for all that. Now Senator Landis is good, but I'm not going to let him get by with it. He said, but we keep it secret. No, we don't. We keep it confidential in exactly the same manner that we guard the confidentiality of your individual tax return and the tax return of every citizen of the state of Nebraska, and we have the same people who are used to the same culture who have the same apparatuses, training, knowledge, ability, need, are utilizing all of this information just like they would yours off of your tax return. We trust them to guard the public treasury, to make certain that we've all completed our tax return correctly, and it's myth, quite frankly, that we can't trust them, after they have all of this data, to also handle appropriately that which we require of every LB 775 applicant. And the specified list of what we require goes on. We've transitioned or segued to the tax information, so let's look at it, what we require of a LB 775 applicant. Their cumulative...they must disclose their cumulative net investment of the project; their current year investment in qualified property; the number of new employees; the total refundable sales and use tax paid; the total number of actual employees in Nebraska; the average annual wage per employee for jobs created; the estimated sales and use tax refunds; the detail of new locations to the project; detail of change in ownership of the project, if any; detail of the addition of a new entity or entities or acquisition of asset or assets;...

SPEAKER BROMM: One minute.
