FLOOR DEBATE

April 7, 2003 LB 754

year that Bromm will not want to be embarrassed again. We already know that he's willing to put up a lot of money to get people to come and support his greedy cause. Another place, once again it appears that the big pig industry is pulling the strings of the puppets in the Legislature. And another attempt is made to...

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute.

SENATOR KREMER: ...is being made to remove the local zoning control from the counties, like the attempt last year. Which, the attempt last year was only a study, so how you can say that was to do away with local zoning. And in using livestock industry in the state in guise of trying to thwart local control. I support the county zoning. It was my priority bill the first year I was in here. And we even allowed the counties to use their border counties' zoning rules for a period of time. And I remember Senator Chambers even gave a good example of that, said if you wanted to keep people out of your yard, you could use somebody else's fence for a while until you got your own fence built. And I supported that, and I still do support that. And we've always tried to make local zoning the priority. And that's still the case here. But if we can have some determination somewhere in the intermediate stage that would give some of the people applying for the applica...or for the...

SENATOR CUDABACK: Time.

SENATOR KREMER: ...permits...thank you.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Kremer. Senator Stuhr on AM1188.

SENATOR STUHR: Thank you, Mr. President and members of the body. I rise in support of the bill, of the committee amendments, and also Senator Bromm's amendment. I was also one of the cosponsors of the bill. And the reason...and one of the reasons that I did cosponsor the bill was the concern for the livestock industry in Nebraska. I care very much about Nebraska. I care very much about rural Nebraska. I care very much about agriculture in Nebraska. And I think this is just
