April 15, 2003 LB 435

suddenly, that situation is so wicked that they want to disavow it, take their bloody hands off, pretend they have clean hands and condemn the ones that they lured into this wickedness which they paid for. So these people said it's the price of blood and it cannot go into the treasury. This money in the treasury is too clean. So they said, well, what do we do with it? They said, I'll tell you what we'll do; we'll take this money and we'll go purchase a piece of land somewhere where nobody will see it, and that's where we'll bury all of those poor people who will die from hunger, who will die because they don't have medical care in the state of Nebraska. We need a place to bury those worthless people whom those Christians care not a wit for, and they're going to die and they need a place to be buried, to be put out of sight so people can adopt that attitude out of sight, out of mind. If I don't see them, they don't exist, they never existed. And that's the way we'll operate. So they went out and bought this field, covered with brambles and thorns, lizards, scorpions, and they dug holes and dumped the bodies of the people for whom the better human beings have so much contempt as is being shown on the floor of this Legislature. Yet, you all will be up there joining in a prayer tomorrow morning, bright and early, bright and early. Maybe that's what Jesus was talking about when he said the meek shall inherit the earth. He meant literally the earth--a hole in the ground. The meek will inherit that little piece of earth. And all of these religious people will leave here today. Will their conscience bother them? How can something bother them that they don't have, or something which is seared, desensitized and no longer operational?

SENATOR VRTISKA PRESIDING

SENATOR VRTISKA: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: I feel so fortunate that the religious virus was flushed out of my system many years ago. I wouldn't be able to stand myself if I would come up here and pray in the morning and do wickedness the rest of the day. That guy said, I was thirsty, you didn't give me a drink; I was hungry, you didn't give me any water; I was in prison, you didn't come visit me; I was sick, you didn't offer me any solace. And they said, well,
