he is, they're not going to walk up to him and in front of him. They'd probably hit him in the back of the head with something. Or they'd come up to him with a gun pulled. Now I'd like to ask Senator Tyson a question. Senator Tyson, are you available for a question?

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute. Senator Tyson.

SENATOR TYSON: Yes, Senator Cudaback, what is it?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Tyson, when a person is...

SENATOR TYSON: Senator Cudaback?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Cudaback, Senator Tyson is being cute. He wants to ask you something before we proceed.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Senator Tyson, you may.

SENATOR TYSON: Yes, sir. What is it?

SENATOR CUDABACK: You're asking me if you can yield...if you will yield...I'm asking you if you will yield to a question from Senator Chambers, Senator Tyson.

SENATOR TYSON: Oh certainly. Certainly. Thank you for asking.

SENATOR CUDABACK: You may proceed.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And that's the kind of person who wants to be carrying a concealed weapon. (Laugh) Anyway, Senator Tyson, in this training that a person gets, are they going to include fast-draw training?

SENATOR TYSON: I can't think of why they would.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Well, if a person walks up to you and has a pistol on you, the only way you can defend yourself with your pistol is to pull yours out quicker and shoot him or her before you can be shot. Isn't that true?
