do not think that a 10 percent reduction would do a great deal of harm. It would be more realistic. I think we're also going to have to look at...I consider those sort of grant programs. They are money when it is available that it is given to designated areas. But, again, this is not business as usual. I will be voting for things this year that probably in other years most of would not have thought about doing. Anytime that we can save and possibly a 10 percent cut would be $10 million in two years, that's $10 million. And I think, as has been stated before, we are going to have to look at every issue possible. I did have just one question that I wanted to present or ask Senator Wehrbein. There seems to be a discrepancy. On the revenue sheet that we received in regards to the amount of revenue received from extending the cigarette tax was $25.3 million. Senator Brashear, in the handout that he has presented to us, says roughly $20 million. I'm just wondering, that's a discrepancy of $5 million. Maybe, Senator Landis, can you address that?

SPEAKER BROMM: Senator Landis, would you yield to that question?

SENATOR LANDIS: Since neither of those numbers are mine, no, why don't you ask them?

SENATOR STUHR: (Laugh) Well,...

SENATOR LANDIS: I think one is a rough justice number. One of the difficulties in cigarette tax predictions is that the past is no longer serving as an accurate descriptor of the future because just as people are deciding not to smoke, a one cent increase in taxation is no longer a good...you can't use the past to predict the future because consumption patterns are changing. If I had to pick one or the other to choose, I'd probably choose 20 on the theory that, in fact, there is some consumption loss, thank heavens, and also probably people will be trying to beat the tax. If I was to pick one number or the other, I'd pick 20.

SENATOR STUHR: Okay, thank you. I think that's helpful. With that, I give the rest of my time back to the Chair. Thank you.
