Transcriber's Office
FLOOR DEBATE

April 25, 2003      LB 265

you want to, when you open your business, you can authorize every employee you've got to carry concealed weapons. I have seen no business other than those associated with the NRA and the gun makers and those who hustle bucks off the sale and transportation and use of guns advocating this kind of legislation. If it is such a positive good in the state and for the state, why does not one single state mention that as a basis for settling in their state? There are certain cities which will talk about how calm the environment is, how wonderful the education is for children, that there is medical care available because of the number of hospitals, clinics and whatnot. But not one of them, Senator Mossey, said we have all of these things because people can carry...

SPEAKER BROMM: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...concealed weapons; the reason you ought to come to this city and enjoy these benefits is because you can carry a concealed weapon. If anybody, and I will hold this offer open for the rest of the session, if anybody will show me any chamber of commerce promotion, any official state promotion, I don't mean by some of these nutty groups in Texas and other places, but where it is the state which is promoting itself and the chamber of commerce is promoting an area on the basis of people carrying concealed weapons, I'll give you $50 for the trouble you went to in finding that. Search the Internet. Now who in here will tell me that they'll give me $50 if they cannot find such a thing before the session is over? Not Senator Tyson. He's not a fool. Not Senator Mossey. He's not a fool. Not Senator Combs. She's not a fool. That ought to tell you something. I don't care how many people in Texas say that the crime wave...rate went down...

SPEAKER BROMM: Time.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Really? Okay. (Laughter)

SPEAKER BROMM: Thank you, Senator Chambers. Senator Mossey.

SENATOR MOSSEY: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just a couple comments I would like to make. First, I wanted to address Senator
