LB 608

fact, the people who are supposed to do that work are, in fact, doing it?

SENATOR BEUTLER: Sure. That would be an appropriate job. But in...

SENATOR RAIKES: But in order to do that, you wouldn't necessarily...

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute.

SENATOR RAIKES: I'm sorry?

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute, Senator Raikes.

SENATOR RAIKES: Oh, thank you.

SENATOR CUDABACK: I'm sorry.

SENATOR RAIKES: In order to do that, you wouldn't necessarily have to get into an individual tax return, would you? I'm lost here. I'm not understanding what...

SENATOR BEUTLER: No.

SENATOR RAIKES: ...you need this information for.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Well, I think that you would, Senator. But we're a little shortchanged in our discussion here, because we're not talking about a specific situation or item. But if the question is the appropriate adherence to statute, where the statute requires only certain benefits under certain conditions, you would have to know both the conditions and the benefits that were derived by the individual or the corporation.

SENATOR RAIKES: Well, thank you for that response, Senator. My impression is that given the type of work that the Program Evaluation Group is set up to do,...

SENATOR CUDABACK: Time, Senator Raikes.
