January 13, 2004 LR 4

which established it," that is, by amendment, "and in opposition to which any act or ordinance of any such department or officer is null and void." This talks about the constitution being the organic and fundamental law of this state. Is that what Nebraska is about--hunting, fishing, and trapping? There is no nobler cause or subject to be dealt with by the constitution of this state than catching poor, little, water-dwelling creatures unawares through trickery; setting out vicious, cruel, torturous contraptions to take hold of, damage, mutilate, and in some instances kill wild creatures, whose only crime, if they've committed one, is to be within the reach of vicious human beings who cannot get enough satisfaction of their blood lust by, on occasion, raping their daughters, abusing their sons, attacking their wives,...

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...but they have to go to those blameless, unoffending creatures? The trappers and their implements are the ones that I'm talking about. I'll get on the gun toters the next time I have an opportunity to speak. But despite these feelings, and they are genuine, I have not brought a bill to get rid of any of them because it would be an exercise in total futility. Thank you, Mr. President.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Chambers. Senator Kruse, on the Chambers amendment to LR 4CA.

SENATOR KRUSE: Mr. President and colleagues, this appears to be a great amount of fun and I sure wouldn't want to miss out on it. I share the feelings that have been said about the constitution as an important document. I must...and I really feel that most of the amendments do not...are not appropriate to it. This one does have something to do with rights and I will end up voting for it because I am a coward. All my friends and relatives hunt and fish and I don't want to have them coming, hunting for me. But it gives me an idea for next year. I'm going to have a petition to protect the right of motherhood and I would hope that you will all support that. It is definitely being threatened, especially by my wife and her friends in foster care. They are starting a movement that you cannot have
