

TRANSCRIPT PREPARED BY THE CLERK OF THE LEGISLATURE
Transcriber's Office
FLOOR DEBATE

January 13, 2004 LR 4

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Just to take care of the possibility?

SENATOR FRIEND: If there's precedent that shows that extraterrestrials have hurt other states or have done something to affect other states, yes, we should at least address it.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Do you think we ought to wait until something bad happens? If they're going to land in Nebraska, why would we worry about Missouri? Nebraska is the target, not Missouri. If they're going to land in Nebraska?

SENATOR FRIEND: I think that we can take precautions and try to do things that would make sense to a sensible or reasonable person, sure, and lawmaker.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Well, currently, are there any laws prohibiting extraterrestrials from harming Nebraska citizens?

SENATOR FRIEND: Not that I know of.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: So should we get a law like that on the books, just in case?

SENATOR FRIEND: But there aren't any...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: What would it hurt?

SENATOR FRIEND: But there aren't any nationwide, Senator Chambers,...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Well, we can...

SENATOR FRIEND: ...so the answer would be...I mean, there is no precedent anywhere else that would tell me...

SENATOR CUDABACK: Time.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Curses.
