February 4, 2004 LR 14

time while standing at a roulette table and found that I was playing with a wheel that had eagle, double eagle, zero, and double zero, and I didn't think I was that inebriated at the time, but I was. But I was not so far gone that I couldn't walk away. When you shoot dice, when you shoot craps, the odds are stacked against you. And all the people at the table, someone may win. That is the purpose of the wealth redistribution that makes this whole thing seem so attractive to the people who entertain themselves or ruin themselves. You have a certain amount of money and you can do certain amount of things with it. When you get all the necessities paid for, or not, you have what is called discretionary income. You can just spend it any way you want to. So you should vote for LR 14CA, and if you do you are voting, you are making a choice, you are selecting your preference. And every time we make a choice, we have to choose one and not choose another. So vote for this. Vote against Caniglia's Venice Inn, because that's where that dollar may have gone. Vote against every store at Westroads. Vote against every store at, what is it, Oak View, 144th and Center. Vote against every one of those places where previously you disposed of your discretionary income.

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute.

SENATOR TYSON: Vote against the haberdasher. Vote against the grocery store. I'll tell you what you can do. Great idea: You might want to go to where they sell really excellent sausage. There is a meat market in Hooper, Nebraska. Vote against that herr wurst meister. Don't go there and buy those polish sausage. They are delicious. Don't do that. Take a chance. Maybe you'll...maybe you'll win. Maybe you'll get $85 million, not. Think about what choice you want to make. I am going to vote for the Bohemian Cafe, delicious food. I'm not going to vote...

SENATOR CUDABACK: Time.

SENATOR TYSON: Thank you.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Tyson. Mr. Clerk, a motion of the desk.
