FLOOR DEBATE

March 22, 2004 LB 1093

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Three hundred and six thousand is quite a ways from the need for that in the other areas, Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Does it all help?

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: It all helps. I have...well, it's my...your time. I won't...I won't debate you on that issue.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: What issue?

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: The $306,000.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Oh, you thought I...oh,...

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Oh. (inaudible).

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...my goodness. Let me ask a question, Senator Wehrbein, since you brought that up. Which do you feel is more important, since you talked about and you used the term reprioritizing, because I wrote it down.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Which is more important, protecting children or giving prizes at the State Fair?

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Well, in my context, not yours, but in my context they're equal, and the reason is that the prize money goes to help young people improve themselves...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: ...and become involved in that program that's important to them.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And I'm moving like this because my time is running. Members of the Legislature, if a child runs the risk of having his or her head bashed in or brains rattled through shaking, that to me is far and away of greater consequence than giving some other children tokens and ribbons because of
