FLOOR DEBATE

April 2, 2004 LB 1090

on home and join the groups of the Fillmores, and the Chester A. Arthurs, and the Warren Hardings, and come back next year looking a little bit more like Lincoln and Roosevelt and some others that wanted to make this country and this state better. Thank you.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Johnson. On with discussion of advancement. Senator Chambers, followed by Senators Schimek, Hudkins, and Maxwell. Senator Chambers. And this will be your third time, Senator, as you know.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Right. But I'm going to make sure that I have a chance to speak more times than this, because I'm going to put some motions on this bill. I'd like to ask Senator Wehrbein a question.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Senator Wehrbein, would you respond?

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Wehrbein, do you think you have 33 votes to move this bill?

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: I would be hopeful I would, but I'm beginning to lose a little heart.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: That's all I will ask you. Thank you, Senator. Members of the Legislature, when I said I'm going to be a member of the "do-nothing"...I'm self-appointed leader of the "do-nothings," that means as far as trying to get a raise in the income tax or any of these other proposals to spend money. It doesn't mean I'm going to do nothing, period. But when I'm opposed to something, Senator Schimek, I will do more than just vote against it, because as my young colleague had pointed out as you were saying that, the public and others won't even get the message. All they'll see, really, is a no vote. We need to hash this out this morning. We need to thrash it out. We need to vent. And it would be interesting if it would be conducted at the level that Senator Johnson tried to introduce this morning. But some people belong to other political parties from those of the ones he mentioned. So they don't think maybe those
