association that was going to be abolished by the Legislature last session or the one before, and I rescued it, not Senator Louden. Let him be upset. But ground squirrels, gray squirrels, red squirrels, flying squirrels, prairie dogs, so-called, are all squirrels. If Senator Schrock was...oh, Senator Schrock is here. I'd like to ask him a question.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Senator Schrock, would you yield to a question from Senator Chambers?

SENATOR SCHROCK: Yes, I will.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Schrock, is there a squirrel hunting season in Nebraska, or may they be taken any time?

SENATOR SCHROCK: Senator, I can't say with any certainty there. I would find out, if you'd like for me to do that.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: I wish you would. Thank you.

SENATOR SCHROCK: I will.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And I really don't know the answer.

SENATOR SCHROCK: I don't either.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Okay.

SENATOR SCHROCK: My suspicion is that there is, but I better check.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Okay. And if there is, we're going to get a definition of squirrel and see whether or not what Senator Louden is talking about would violate the law relative to the squirrel hunting season and see how exemptions to that law would be obtained. I looked...I have a very thick encyclopedia on mammals, and based on what Senator Howard told us yesterday about ground...prairie dogs being squirrels, I looked it up and they are. They're members of the squirrel family. When Senator Louden continues to talk about Norway rats in Omaha, he doesn't bother me. I don't even care how much he talks about that.
