FLOOR DEBATE

April 14, 2005 LB 673

Nebraska. But if there's something that's high profile, then they'll jump into that and give a few nickels or dimes. I look every day at these barrels on the first floor that say Food Bank Collection Point, and I watch to see how much is going to be put in those barrels.

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: There will be times people on this floor will talk about compassion. One of the favorite words of my friend, Senator Friend, is "passion." There is no passion for helping the less fortunate. How many people walk past those barrels and don't even look at them? Am I a hypocrite because I mention it and I haven't put any cans in it? Not really, because I'm going to find out the organization that put those barrels there and I'm going to give them some money so that they can buy whatever they think is suitable. I'm not going to go look in my kitchen, which you'd probably find in any bachelor's quarters, and find rusty cans that have been there perhaps since the Civil War that I have no intention of consuming the contents of, and I would take it and drop it in that barrel. I wouldn't do that. And I don't really know what these food pantries need, so I'll give them money, because, as the "Bible" says, money answereth...

SENATOR ENGEL PRESIDING

SENATOR ENGEL: Time.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...all things. For what, Mr. President? Time for what?

SENATOR ENGEL: On the...time on your reconsideration motion.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you.

SENATOR ENGEL: Senator Howard, you're recognized.

SENATOR HOWARD: Thank you, Mr. President, Mister...new Mr. President and members of the body. I was handed some additional information in the Rotunda and I'd like to share this. Several counties with prairie dogs are already
