FLOOR DEBATE

January 11, 2006 LB 454

that's preposterous. What Senator Combs knows, but she has to temporarily suspend her sanity and her intelligence to carry this bill, is that a safety belt in a car serves the opposite function of a gun. A safety belt is to prevent a person from being injured. The purpose of the gun, being a lethal weapon, is to kill. So when she can equate that which has been shown in some studies to improve safety with that which has shown by statistics to make America the most violence-prone, murderous society in the world, when she tries to equate those two, it shows that she wouldn't be able to get one of these guns, based on a definition in this bill. She simply has not yet been adjudged mentally incompetent, but I think that could be done, if she truly believed what she said, which she doesn't. It probably was fed to her by one of those nincompoops in the lobby, because they know Nebraska is easy, and any cock-and-bull statement made will be accepted. When Senator Redfield, who ordinarily is so precise and careful in her terminology refers to a gun as an object, like any other object, she knows she's using a euphemism to try to take away from the image and the reality of the lethality of these guns. She knows that, and when they find difficulty even referring to a gun by what it is, it shows they...

PRESIDENT SHEEHY: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...either don't have comfort with it, or they want to fuzzy up the issue and take our attention away from what we're talking about. As the discussion goes forward, I'm going to mention an effort that I've had underway to fight the proliferation of guns in my community, the ready accessibility of guns, not only by teenagers but by those who are in their subteens. It involves contact directly with the FBI. So I know what guns can do, and I also know that the first crime some people commit is with the gun. And I'm not talking about those now who have illegal guns but those with legal guns. Family members are killed. Either the children kill the parents, the parents kill the children, the two...

PRESIDENT SHEEHY: Time, Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...adults kill each other. Thank you,
