FLOOR DEBATE

January 20, 2006 LB 72

SENATOR COMBS: That's correct.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And at any time, a situation could arise where that person may feel the need to pull that weapon and inflict lethal force against somebody, isn't that true?

SENATOR COMBS: Only in places where it's permitted, and only after they've met the stringent requirements of the bill.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Combs, I'm going to try to simplify the question. If a person has one of these concealed weapons, he or she is in a position to pull it at any time, and kill somebody. Isn't that true?

SENATOR COMBS: That is true, if it's necessary.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: You say that. It's true that a person carrying this gun can pull it at any time and kill somebody. That's possible, isn't it?

SENATOR COMBS: It is for both permitholders and nonpermitholders.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Now, when we're talking about these legalized gun carriers, it is your belief that they don't need to qualify as often as a police officer, who may not carry the gun 24 hours a day. Isn't that true? You don't think that they need as much training as a police officer?

SENATOR COMBS: That's correct.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: I mean, as scared as your people are, they probably carry it when they're in the shower, huh? I mean, you...Senator Combs, you let me know we've got some scared babies who want to carry these guns. So they carry them everywhere, at home, at school, at play. And although they're not supposed to, we don't know that they won't carry them places where they shouldn't. But that's...

SENATOR COMBS: We have a lot of people carrying them right now
