January 20, 2006 LB 72

Legislature and we have ways of operating which may be unfamiliar because you're not always here. But many times we don't just state, maybe as we should, with the explicitness that we should. So that's why I wanted to be...wanted it to be clear that I wasn't just bogarting Senator Stuhr's time. Senator Stuhr has worked so much with others that I was confident that we were going to work together, and we are going to work together. My way is not as soft as some of my colleagues. Some of my colleagues would have bailed out, especially if it was a guy named "Stinkberg," and say, ah shucks, you won't do it my way; I'm through. Well, I might say that, but that doesn't mean there is not room for us to come to an arrangement and an agreement. My conviction, without having talked to Senator Stuhr or anybody else about this bill, was that they had discussed these provisions. This amendment that we're dealing with is different from the one that she is going to withdraw. There is more in this one than there is in the one that she will withdraw. So obviously, there had been some discussions, some agreements reached. But remember, I read you all's bills more carefully and closely than you all read them. Is it because I'm smarter than people? Quite the contrary. I am a very slow, plodding reader. I read words. I don't read phrases. I don't read sentences. I read words. If I were constructing a house the way that I read words, I couldn't use particle board. I couldn't use all of the kinds of things they use now to take up a lot of space or cover it at one time, Sheetrock and such things as that, no. I've got to take brick by brick,...

PRESIDENT SHEEHY: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...no facades. So when you read a word at the time, you see things that other people don't see. You see spelling. You see whether the word is what it should be in the context where it appears. So something like the tortoise, it takes me awhile longer to get there, but I will get there. And if you're like the hare and you decide you can go to sleep, when you wake up I'm going to be there and you're going to be where you went to sleep. We want good legislation and this bill does require considerable work, and we're going to work our way through it. At least I'm going to put the work into it that it needs, because I think we need some kind of legislation. Thank
