FLOOR DEBATE

February 15, 2006 LB 188

theater and scream fire. We have limitations on First Amendment rights. We're going to speak to that further, too, later on with other bills. If my Uncle Eddie gives me $25, his name should show up on a report. I don't have an Uncle Eddie, that's just a...maybe I do. (Laugh) I should...the people of Nebraska should know that. If somebody tries to hand me $25,000, the people of Nebraska should know that. If somebody tries to hand me $100,000, maybe we can all assume that if somebody tried to hand me, for a race that I'm running in, in this...for this particular body, that $100,000 is just flat-out too much. Forget it. Don't give Friend that $100,000. That's stupid. Not only that; hopefully, I'd be smart enough, I'd have enough character, I'm ethical...

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute.

SENATOR FRIEND: ...enough that I wouldn't take it. Pardon me, Mr. President?

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute, Senator.

SENATOR FRIEND: Thank you. We're not addressing the problems here, okay, and I admire greatly what Senator Beutler has done in this area. I admire what Senator Brashear is doing. But the amendment doesn't cover it, Senator Brashear's. Senator Beutler's certainly doesn't cover what I'm trying to argue. So where are we? What will happen? There's still going to be plenty of problems, no matter what we do in the next 45 minutes, no matter what we do for the next 30 days. And isn't it curious that we can all probably agree that none of that occur from members of our body or the potential candidates that are coming after us, or during our tenure, but from the NU Board of Regents? Isn't that curious? We brought this up last year. What's wrong with that body, and why do people want that job so much? Is it Lord Acton speaking?

SENATOR CUDABACK: Time. Time, Senator Friend.

SENATOR FRIEND: Power corrupts.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Friend. Further
