February 24, 2006 LB 663

entered into a solemn pact, agreement with the state of Nebraska, and now is plotting to break that agreement through the combined efforts of Senator Landis and Senator Pamela Brown, I will not fall into that pathway, but will stick by what I agreed to do. This amendment would strike the word, on page 5, in line 27, "complete" and insert "completed." What we're talking about is that a qualified car club representative on the list, upon receipt of a complete application--what they mean is upon receipt of a completed application. So I would strike the word "complete" and substitute the word "completed." Since this is my last opportunity to speak on these amendments, and I feel that I've moved too rapidly, I'm going to share with you all a joke that I came across in a magazine, that none of you would dare acknowledge that you had read. And I'm not going to give the title of the magazine, but it is not Playboy. It is not Hustler, Penthouse, or any of those other magazines. There was a long line of people who on the earth were considered to be very, very homely, extremely homely, and they were going to enter the gates of heaven and each one was to be given one wish, and it would be granted. So the first person came to whoever the gatekeeper was and the wish made was that I might be very handsome, if it was a man; wish was granted. If it was a woman, her request was that I might be very beautiful, and it was granted. When they got to the last guy, he was just rolling around in the clouds, just laughing and laughing, tears were coming down his cheeks, and he could hardly speak. They said, you've got to make a wish; everybody makes a wish, and you must. And he got it out, will my wish be granted, whatever it is? And the gatekeeper said yes. He said, I wish that they all might be ugly again. Thank you, Mr. President.

SENATOR JANSSEN: Thank you, Senator Chambers. (Visitors introduced.) Senator Brown, your light is on.

SENATOR BROWN: Mr. President, members, Senator Chambers, would you yield for a moment?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: As putty in thy hands, I deliver myself into your hands.

SENATOR BROWN: Thank you, Senator Chambers. I just observed
