Transcriber's Office
FLOOR DEBATE

February 27, 2006

great hopes that she's going to talk me into doing it next year, Senator Beutler. So we'll see. I think I'd rather jump out of an airplane than jump into Holmes Lake in the middle of winter, but that would be...that would be really brave, too. I would like to talk about what? Senator Jensen, what could we talk about this morning? Could you help me out here a bit? (Laugh)

SENATOR JENSEN: Well, why does the one individual have on a perceived wet suit, or is that a wet suit,...

SENATOR SCHIMEK: That is a wet suit.

SENATOR JENSEN: ...and the other one does not?

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Apparently,...I've been told he had on a wet suit under the sweatshirt, and that he took the sweatshirt off, of course, before he plunged in the lake.

SENATOR JENSEN: Do you have any idea whether these individuals floated or did they go down?

SENATOR SCHIMEK: I didn't (laugh)...I did not ask. Maybe we should ask Senator Beutler.

SENATOR JENSEN: Well,...

SENATOR SCHIMEK: He's doing like this, like maybe he was swimming...

SENATOR JENSEN: He was actually swimming?

SENATOR SCHIMEK: ...back to shore as rapidly as possible. I don't know.

SENATOR JENSEN: Do other individuals do this, or just elected officials?

SENATOR SCHIMEK: That I don't know because I've never known anybody who participated in it before.

SENATOR JENSEN: Are either one of these individuals running for
