

TRANSCRIPT PREPARED BY THE CLERK OF THE LEGISLATURE
Transcriber's Office
FLOOR DEBATE

March 2, 2006 LB 856

term that is generally used and understood...

SENATOR KREMER: Well,...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...to mean a specific thing?

SENATOR KREMER: ...I think it's just a term that's kind of used. In the back yard, it's not out...I suppose back in the old days, when you had a barn and the house and the chicken house, the house was kind of out in front by the road, and then you had the chicken house, and the chickens were kind of running back in the back yard somewhere. It's probably not to be taken literally.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: But you'd have to have some historical understanding, and cultural also, to know what this term really means. Is...

SENATOR KREMER: Well, maybe cultural. I'm not sure.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: If I lived in a trailer and had no yard, but I had chickens running around, they would have to be called "backyard flocks," even though I have no yard, wouldn't they, based on this definition?

SENATOR KREMER: Where would they be...they'd have to be in the house if you had no yard.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: No, they're just out there running. Let's say they're not mine.

SENATOR CUDABACK: You may continue, Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you, Mr. President. Do you think this is a sound definition?

SENATOR KREMER: I think it's a definition that I can understand.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: But not everybody would understand it. Do you agree with that?