March 23, 2006 LB 1060

Now, the federal government is trying to do something with their budget. And of course, what they're doing, a lot of it, is putting it back on the states. And that's just not right. So I think what we should be doing is complaining to our delegation in Washington, is what's happening, because they're the only ones that can do anything about it back there. We can't go back there and say, you're going to do this, you're going to do that. So I think our complaints have to go to them, and say, if you're going to put out these grants, emphasize that they're temporary. Never count on any grants that you get as permanent. So any grants that you get, I think you should maybe set up programs perhaps that you can sustain yourself. And that's what's happened here. This is...this particular area, I totally approve. Up in my area, we have a terrible problem with drugs, in that tri-state area. We do have a tri-state drug force, and these funds are very necessary to keep things going. So Doctor...(laugh) I want to call him "Doctor," but he really isn't, I guess. Senator Pederson's amendment here is just a one-time shot. It's not ongoing, and I think he's probably already mentioned that. So it's just to carry them over until perhaps the federal government comes back with something, or they phase it out, or come up with another source of revenue. So I do support his amendment, because I do think it is necessary, and especially since it's just a one-time thing. Thank you.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Engel. Senator Combs.

SENATOR COMBS: Thank you, Mr. President, members of the body. Just to continue where I left off earlier, we're talking about the RAP funding. And again, this is a matching program. I know in York County, York Police Chief Don Klug told the city council that the RAP is crucial to fighting drugs in the York area; that it only costs $4,000 a year for them to belong, and they do have to pay that. It would be impossible for us to conduct the number of investigations that RAP does, Klug said. We would need between two and four new officers just to conduct that number of investigations. If the drug task forces lose funding, the burden will fall on the local agencies. He said, York police officers work to develop informants and information, working directly with RAP officers. If RAP didn't exist--that's
