March 23, 2006 LB 188

man, I'm going to do what I can for you but you got your neck in the trap now. All I can do is try to mitigate the damage. But I can't clean you up. Everybody knows you're a rat. You have explosions at your plant. You try to stiff people that you have contracts with. You don't want to comply with your obligations. You run cattle across the border at night so you can save $2.15 a head. And you're a millionaire. You navigate the Federal Election Commission laws and you can't handle this simple system in Nebraska? Why, man, if this is not white folks' mess, I don't know what it is and I enjoy listening to white people talk about white people. Tell me how rotten they are. Tell me how tricky they are. Can't be trusted. I love to hear it. (Laugh) Watch it, Senator Bourne. Senator Brown...naive, sweet Senator Brown. What those of us in politics understand is that the hand that feeds is the hand that controls. Lobbyists are not humanitarians. They are not doing charity work. It's clean. It doesn't say where it came from. So when money is involved, you got to go back to the "Holly Bibble." It is not money that is evil, it is the love of money that is the root of all evil. And politicians say give me some of that root, as much of it as I can get. So I'm going to listen to all of the defensive conversation...

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...watch this drama unfold, (laugh) and just ask myself, why in the world do these white people do this and carry on like this in public? Why? Your enemies such as myself will see you naked. You don't want to be running around here naked in front of your enemy, do you? Think about it. Have some dignity about yourself. Oh, it's too late now because you've dropped your britches, dropped your drawers and your bloomers, and everybody sees what is really there. So I'd suggest you reposition your undergarments, pull your britches up, get your suit straightened around and your tie, and we'll
