FLOOR DEBATE

March 28, 2006 LB 1226

they can just vote this up or down. If it's voted down, I will be happy; if it's voted up, I will be happier, and I just thought you'd be really anxious to let me be happy my last few days going out of here. So if it's even voted down, I would be happy.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Kremer, when the lamb goes to court and all the judges are wolves, the lamb never wins. I'm not...

SENATOR KREMER: You're afraid you'll lose the debate, is that...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: I hear you howling, but you're not going to persuade me.

SENATOR KREMER: See, you're scared.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: My response to that is, baaaa. (Laughter)

SENATOR KREMER: You're afraid to lose the debate, aren't you?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Kremer, when I'm in a contest, fear plays no part in it, other than the requirement that I have to instill fear into my opponent. Now I don't fear anything on this floor, and that's why when I say I will keep us here till whatever time, I will do it. So I'm asking you, because it's in your hands, Senator Kremer, how long we stay here on this bill. So instead of asking are you prepared to fight to the bitter end, how long are you prepared to fight on Senator Langemeier's bill, which ultimately will be a victim of your hardhearted, unreasonable insensitivity and lack of collegiality?

SENATOR KREMER: Okay, you said it's in my hands how long it will go? Are you serious, that I can decide if it's ten minutes? Then I can decide...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: No, I mean that however long you decide that you want to keep us here, we're going to stay here, because I'm not going to release this bill, and I will get out my orange pad and start offering motions. And the first motion I'm going to offer, when I complete speaking this time, is one to recommit
