where you were going with that. Are you taking issue with how the dollars have been spent or will be spent?

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: I want to be very careful here, Senator Smith. Not necessarily. I do have a disagreement on some of the way the communications was done, but Transportation Committee have agreed with it so I can see that I lost there and that's okay. It's just the idea that this latest one here that came out in the paper this morning there is no knowledge of that in here which we probably will...most of my area is the area of communicating or educating this body and those...and as another branch of government as to what is happening. And I don't want to imply, certainly, publicly or privately, that there is a problem with what has been done in terms of misspending the funds. That's not my issue. But there is potential into the future with these kind of dollars coming in from the federal government with only one branch of government deciding where it is spent. Not...once again, it is not up until the present time. Yeah, I'm looking futuristically. And so it's the idea that it's an awful lot of money and it can be a temptation. Even though the dollars may go down, I still think there needs to be oversight or at least awareness, maybe not oversight, but at least awareness in this body as another branch of government as to where this money is being spent and how, because there was a major policy decision made with that money, in my mind, in the statewide communications issue. And it's my personal opinion that that may have to be changed someday. Not everyone agrees with me. I accept that. But I was not accept...but I think in the future we need to have...be sure that we have understanding and communications and education of what's going on between both branches.

SENATOR SMITH: And then when you say there's an awareness lacking, I assume you would...you're suggesting that there's lacking awareness in how the dollars are being spent?

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Well, at least certainly the details. And as I said, I don't think there has been mischief necessarily. But there is room for mischief into the future if someone really wanted to use that money for one branch of government to do with what they...how they wanted to allocate that money and that type
